Dear Mother,

My Brother-in-Law, Mr Denny of this place being anxious to send a small box to his brother G. S. Denny, stationed at the Falls of St. Anthony, I took the liberty of saying, if it were conquired to your care, you would endeavour to have it sent on by the first opportunity, in consequence he has just put the box on board of the Genl. A. Miller, destined for St. Louis to your care. I hope I have not taken too great a liberty - your attention to the transmission of this box will be acknowledged by Mr D., as a great favour & I certainly will feel myself obligated to you for so doing.

I have heard of the marriage of Cousin Ben, to Miss Lee of your city, please offer him my sincere congratulations - I hope his health has improved since I saw him last in Nov. I was in Louisville a few days since, & was glad to hear so particularly from my relations in St. Louis, by Aunt, she assured us a good deal in speaking of your little daughter Ellen particularly of her riding in the carriage with her father setting out for Ken, when she thought she had gone far enough from home I began to expostulate with her. "Grandma, Grandmother, no body is with little Ma, & she will cry "I want to go back"

Give my love to Cousin Harriett - I wish I could see you there at L. Hou - a year or two more & I shall no longer be a resident of my native state, which to say the least of it, has lately legislated itself out of my good graces - I send to Cousin Harriett, one of Mr Cooper's (the author of the Spy & Pioners) last literary production The "Pilot" - it takes well in every part of the United States, where it has been read. & I doubt not she will as well as yourself be quite pleased with it.

I regret I am not in Ken: now, that I might send you the "Snow

if the season be not too far advanced, I will forward it

Dear Charles

When I parted from you I expected sir this to have been in Louisville, but have been detained in order to receive the Dr. Charles here, on their way Eastward - I think most assuredly they must be here this week & so soon as they take their departure I propose to Run -

The mystery of the pictures I presented Cousin Mary is explained
- The letter I addressed the individual who had them, directing him to box them & deliver them to the bearer, was left at his house, a day he happened to be out of the City - on receipt of it though, he immediately had them boxed, took them to my house & left them with my house keeper, who was as ignorant what to do with them as she & so here I found them on my return - Say to Cousin Mary, I will bring them with me
- as you will perceive on seeing them, these are some beautiful touches in them -

In an effort I made in the presence of some young ladies to show my youthful activity, in leaping from my carriage, I made an awkward feat of it & sprained my ankle - And as a punishment for my presumption, I have been confined to the sofa three ten days - if your vision could command the distance that now separates us to the identical spot I occupy you would find me in a most outré position for a scribe I trust for all you will be able to decipher these my hieroglyphics - I suppose your advice on the occasion would be, don't forget my age again - Every day furnishes me a modest memento of it -

Every thing here goes on smoothly with me, the improvements I am making, will not I presume require my presence. The new Insurance Company of this place in which I am a limited stock holder has gone into operation under the auspices of a most efficient directory & as good luck would have it, have become tenants for five years, (or rather have obligated it) of the only vacant house I had in the place.

Owing to your promise & ever friendly inclination towards me I make myself easy about my buildings about to be erected in your City - In the progress of the work I hope no time will be lost. See Graham & urge him on, if the bricks are ready - Agreeably to my data, you will be able to realize for me somewhere near $300 from my tenants on 5th Street in all this month, which you can apply towards digging the foundation, hauling brick &c - I have now to my credit a few hundred Dollars in the Branch Bank (N D) at Louisville, for which I would now forward you a check to help on, but presume what you will receive for me will pave the way until my arrival which will be in a very short time - I hope you will make (without fail) old Lucile square the yard before I come on, or else he will impute the soul out of me to take my tent out in some abominable tract that I want not -

Tell "Cousin Abbe", I have heralded her arrival here & the boys are all upon tiptoe to see her

Remember me kindly to Cousin Mary

Sincerely Yrs &c

Pittsburgh April 2nd 1833

Dear Charles

I have executed a little commission for you - Morgan has agreed to make for me a mantle of ash, five feet in length (which I think is the length of the mantle in your parlour) & proportionate with the design of the pattern you requested, for Thirty Dollars ($30) The plate he expects in a day or so from Phila - you may expect it in the whole of next week - I have looked about among the shops here for some parlour ornaments for you but succeeded in getting nothing worth having - of all places this is the last to look for trifles, or fancy articles - but such articles as skill & labour are required to perfect, from an Anchor to a Steam Engine, here you can be served - The prosecution of my summer campaign will bring me to New York, when in the selection of articles such as you desire, there is a fine field for the exercise of ones taste, where all I propose that may I will exercise in your behalf with the greatest pleasure -

My dear little daughter I found on my arrival here in robust health, she was quite overjoyed at once upon meeting me; her patience had been heavily taxed by my protracted absence - she goes to school & improves very fast, & I have reason to hope from the vivacity of her disposition, she will "renew me for my parents care"

My affairs here, so far as regards the Agency of my excellent friend Mr Scully are in business condition - But then there a stranger in whom I confided has "led me a dance", but "nil desperandum" I put the on the best face I can nothing by fruitless complaints - I have not only much to do, to bring matters straight, but much to undo - For a while I will have my hands full - in a word I am building - not Castrum in the air, I pray you, but with matter of fact brick Boston - this gratuitous information is by way of letting you know, I have declined all thought this season of building in your City - I should like being engaged there that may, independent of any profit to be derived thereby, for I like seeing the vicissitudes of life & prosperity, of (what I might almost call), my native City -

- but to undertake what I contemplated there this season - I would find myself accursed of the means - but next year if all goes right with me, I am down upon you -

A player on all sorts of stocks, say - none ever prospered with me - our Insurance Company from which I had such great expectations, & finally had to pocket two heavy losses, by which I am disappointed of my financial pin money -

I trust Dear Charley, my little affairs, as embraced in my written instructions, you will not neglect - I am glad I made good my retreat & left you to battle it out with that fellow McConnel
- don't let him out General you - As to the matter of rent for his part of the lobby, just consult your own conscience - I beg you to neglect not the Copper Smith Barnett - I hope Hancock has gone as he promised, pulled down on 1 April, the old stall

My horse is ready & am going out to "Pic Nic" - to superintend the planting of some trees &c - one I shall plant in your name I trust you may one day pluck its fruit - although the Apple, it shall not be "forbidden fruit" - Poor old Mother Eve, if they had in those days as fine peaches in Paradise, as we have in Kentucky, I do not think the punishment should have been as great for stealing them as than our Apples, "which brought death into the world & all our mortal woe" - but if Mr Moffitt were to see those profane words, what would become me? Who knows but now, you are in each others embrace - I think he had some design against you "Mars gravior sub pace latet"

I presume Cousin Mary & all are now in St Louis - or I would charge you to show over my good wishes on them

Peace with you & good luck in every other game you may play -

Yrs Sincerely

Dear Charles

When I reached Kentucky last June I was served by Ferguson & Rice (Lumber Merchants) with their bill of lumber &c, for my buildings then erecting on Effusa street, amounting to $750 - as there was I bargained generally a credit of twelve months in such cases, I merely then paid - $450 - Not long after a new bill was made out, crediting the 450 but totalled to the sum of $1002 =, on which I paid them $350 - Since my arrival here, I received, a third bill crediting me $900, but settling their account, which I hoped was final & in full when presented in the second instance, to the sum of $1191³³/₁₀₀ & remarking, they have a draft to pay on 4th May & hoped I may find it convenient by that time to pay them - In reply - I have said, I had hoped their second bill, which embraced all I owed them had made arrangements by 1 May to pay them - that by their ^{third} accounts (if the correctness of which I have no doubt) I was taken by surprise, however that I would write to you & request by that time 4th May you would pay them - I hope you will find it convenient to do so, what will be due from Goodwin, Knight, Phil Thompson or Market Street tenant, will be about equal to their claim - I think before I left you, I said something to you about Kutz & Smith's bill of lumber for those same houses, I paid him before I left Ken - I am suffering awfully with an inflamed eye & can scarcely make out to write - I hope you can make out what I have written & won't neglect it -

Accidentally I yesterday met Morgan, who says the

Dear Charles

All my long cherished plans for this summer, in an instant were subverted, & I felt almost stupid from disappointment, amazement, or what else - my destination, or purpose not being decided, I did not unlike a mariner at sea without chart, or compass - ay more, I might add, or rudder to his vessel - I had so far progressed in my schemes for the summer, as to take my passage in the boat, bid adieu to my friends, expecting in an hour to be on my way to Louisville, where I anticipated spending a week or so before visiting White Sulphur - In the meantime, arrives a boat fraught with the most awful news as to the health of the country from this to Louisville, beyond, mentioning the river, between this & Wheeling there of the passengers, died of Cholera - My friends at once laid an injunction on me, & go they would not allow me - Among the many who remonstrated with me as to the rashness of the act, was my skillful, attendant physician & to his credit be it said, the very captain in whose boat I had taken passage - So for the present adieu to White Sulphur & all its promised advantages, as to health & enjoyment. When I shall alter my course, I have not yet decided - but journey somewhere I must - perhaps I may join a party here, destined for Saratoga - I wish to go - I wish to go -

I wished to visit Louisville on this occasion - business required it of me, however it is only a visit deferred - if it be prudent to visit there in Sept: you may expect me - One of the inducements to this visit was to make an arrangement for building in Louisville - ready in the spring - I wished among other matters to have engag-

Wm

= Id, the bricks, ~~in~~ in order that we might have them early in the spring, which would require, they should be made this season & I would have wished if Col Churchill has the business carried on I would have no objection to have furnished me, to have engaged them of him - Every other arrangement I have or will make through Garland - See Col Churchill on this subject & let me hear from you - And suffer me here to remark in justice to myself, that one inducement to visit Louisville at this time, was to see the Col^o on the subject of my debt to him for the bricks he furnished for the houses I erected last year in Louisville - I merely wished to learn, if it be equally agreeable to him to have the payments deferred a short time & paying the interest thereon, as to have the amount at this time - his wishes on the subject shall be observed - if it be left to my option though & should acknowledge it an accommodation, a little extension of time - I was in truth induced a few days since to make a purchase of a tract of land offered for sale on reasonable terms, adjoining a tract I own in this neighbourhood, & had rather have deferred the purchase, but it was now or never, & so I returned to take it & run all risks - it will greatly enhance the value of the original purchase & in every point of view a speculation -

Not a word have I heard from you since we parted - Will you oblige me by writing me a detailed account of my little affairs in your City entrusted to your care, as soon as possible
- Let me know, have you paid Barnet, the Copper Smith
- Forgo on the Lumber Merchant, & Arrive, Coal Maker?
How did you make out with McCowen - & for what sums did you rent the premises occupied by him & also, Greens -

Recollect, I will not remain here more than three weeks at further - or such delay -

I forwarded you some time since, a manuscript of a book - How do you like it -? My health is improving -

Remember me kindly to your good lady & accept assurance of return of Mr. Friend & others

Wm. C. C. Law

I don't neglect writing to you as soon as possible -

Pittsburg Sept. 9. 1833

Dear Charles

From my summer excursion, I have returned home only within a day or so - The most important end I sought by this mission, I have in a great measure attained; I am in my health, which is much improved - The trip to Quebec, I did not make, learning when in New York of the disease of my poor dear sister, my plans were all immediately changed, & forthwith, I hastened to Washington City, feeling a deep anxiety on the occasion for my aged mother - The safe return of the B- about that time after a protracted voyage & in fine health, had a happy influence & I left her, being quite well, & resigned to this heavy affliction - As you are, Charles, a kind of Father Confessor to me, I make no reserve in my communication, to you - I am sure you will be indulgent in your absolution. I must then begin by telling you, my excursion, this summer had made a hole in my purse, that you could not stop with less than $2000 - In the indulgence of some of my caprices, I made some purchases, that sober seriousness might condemn - but it is all past & I must make the most of it. The Cholera here the past season, has afforded to many a shuffling wight, a pretext for not paying me my Deuts, & thus it is I am compelled to draw on you, to pay off Masons, Carpenters & Lumber Merchants in this place, for their operations, this summer. What I was accounting to me in Louisville, I meant for Col Churchill; however I must by the time he requires the amount I owe him, raise it in some other way - At any time he may require the amount, he shall have it - I feel indebted to him for his indulgence -

I will draw on you at thirty days -; the last statement, I mean written statement you furnished me, may Aug 1832 - in referring to my note book, I can assure within a fraction, of what may be due by the maturity of my draft - you will perceive, it falls short of the amount - But in the first place, the draft embraces as much as I want at present, & in the next place it may be well enough to make allowances, for want of punctuality - but considering, the firmness & decision of my prime Minister & Louisville Tenants, a precaution of the kind was scarcely necessary - But to make assurance doubly sure, if any thing should occur by which you could not realize of my tenants as much as the required amount, draw on me for the deficit at three days sight - My draft is for 850 $ Taxes & Insurance of my house you will not neglect - On receipt of this, please let me hear from you - For the building of my house, I have made no contract, further than with Leacock - There is every probability of my visiting you this fall, if the Rivers admit of navigation,

Cousin Mary I presume is for enquiring of me, what I did, as I promised for "The East Room" when in New York - In reply, I would observe, that I reserved my reconnoitring & purchases in that famous market until my return from Saratoga - But she will be indulgent to my omission of it, when I advise you, the first intelligence I got on reaching there, was of the event of so recent & painful, at I trust ^{recovery} the one - I was disqualified for the office & as I have previously remarked, I immediately left the City -

A letter from my friend Tompkins advised me of the continu-
- and good health of your City, in which I rejoice & pray its long continuance -

Be sure I write you on receipt of this Remember me kindly to your good lady & believe me ever yours

I am Charles

It is quite a dampen to me to learn that the house recently occupied by Phil Thompson continues vacant - What is the cause? If the rent at 500 is considered, you know too high, you know you have authority to take up - your judgment must regulate in these matters - I hope it will not long remain vacant - first I dislike seeing even so little capital as is there invested, idle - In the second place, lying vacant it will be more injured than if occupied - By the way - I beg you to have it regularly aired & occasionally, to prevent the paper falling from the walls, have a fire made in the rooms. May I beg you not to neglect this matter, make sure by employing & paying some one to attend to it.

I must contrive to be in Louisville in March next, to see about erecting those buildings, of which I have heretofore written - But really if tenants are not to be had, what had I best do? The profits on buildings at Pittsburg are nominally high - but of tenants I am sure, & moreover, the job when finished is superior - However I will soon be in Louisville & we will consult on this matter -

I hear you ask the question, what has brought me here? The truth is, I was so much a man of business the past fall, having superintended in person the building of a dwelling house, a barn & stable & sundry minor improvements at "Pie . sic" - that I determined to indemnify myself, for my toils & trouble in some way this winter, & so the job no sooner finished, than I hooked up the Bastille shield over the mountains in quest of amusement - For the present here I have planted my standard - to one who wants to see the nation in all its bearings compressed into the space of a nut shell, this is the spot - a field it is for speculation

- But into the recipe of this compound I will not care with you
- You take the Intelligence - "he who runs may lead"

In the Senate there are some choice spirits - It is in the great Grand Its lobby & gallery is constantly crowded - Delay Calhoun, Benton Southard & Preston have paper in review - each has his champion in the audience. Preston was the last heard, but why or wherefore I know not, anxiety & curiosity to hear him was greater, than that of any one that preceded him - He sustained himself this evening well, & the judgment of the audience as to his claims & rank as an Orator is decidedly in his favour
- Mr Webster ~~him~~ is to bring up the rear, but his speech it is anticipated will be preceded by an able report from his chair -
- a man of the Committee to whom the resolutions giving rise to this "great debate" as it termed, were referred - In the Senate it can't be disguised the Administration is used up"

I had the pleasure to hear Mr Binney in the house, on the subject of the removal of the deposits - it is conceded, a more liberal, dignified, able & eloquent speech, was never before pronounced in that body - After it was pronounced for some days, it could not be said how the question would be decided - But it now believed the President's personal popularity, will enable him to sustain this high handed measure - a measure the disgrace of which is only to be measured by the injury it will & is inflicting on the nation.

The fashionable here have their soirees frequently - they are heartily & dull, nothing of the buoyant humour & above board operations, that characterize ours of the west. I was at one the last evening at Seruivins, the French Ministers - The company was not numerous - the style of the entertainment as simple as any Republican could wish ^{put}, Madame was at home, which after all is the great fulcrum on such occasions

I may leave this in a day or two for Philad^a but not to spend more than a week - You must on receipt of this write home - don't out forget to give us all the news.

Present my best respects to Cousin Mary & my Cousins Lewis & Abbe Leclark my sincerest congratulations

Worlow March 4th 1834

Dear Charles

I have just received your letter of the 22nd to thank me for the early answer given to one of mine as well as your frankness on the occasion. If I can I will profit by your advice not to build this summer; in addition to the excellent reasons assigned by you in opposition to the measure, there is this in it - there is on my part neither for the present or future any necessity at this time for this undertaking - my yearly income exceeds my expenditures & the exp^s, I must, in improving my real Estate - As the times are, I might be under the necessity of preparing my tenants in order to accomplish this need - & this I do not wish to be subject - I had rather forego the prospect of the pecuniary reward, than run the risk of having to good them a payment, if not convenient to them. In wretched matters with us, the times requires the utmost leniency from creditor to debtor, not only our humanity requires it, but his own interests. Immediately on receipt of this see Graham, & tell him to suspend operations until I see him, which will be by 1st April. I told him to dispose of the old buildings on the premises - if he has, well & good - if not let them remain for the present.

As I think in duty bound, I have just exposed to you my situation, it is surely to enable you to judge how I ought to act on this occasion - after making this extract, throw it in the fire, it is written in great haste & only intended for your eye. You know I always speak to you above board - telling you of my griefs, & of my joys & all my governing motives, to receive in return your simple nod or shake of the head, which settles all matters -

How can you form no idea of the consternation in the Land - the Administration, notwithstanding her admirably disciplined & loyal forces, can't hold out - the voice of the Country in this all absorbing question of the Removal of the deposits is against them, upon principle & expediency
- I send by this Mail to Col Churchill, a speech of Mr Huntington on the subject - he is an old friend of mine & a most worthy member of Society - I hope the Col^o will read it, if for no other reason as a compliment to me - I wish he (the Col^o) were a member of that body - I have that much confidence in him to believe he would always prefer his Country to his party
- My conscience would chide me, if I were to assist as much for some of that body - No act of an executive could promise more faithful consequence, than has this act of usurpation in the matter of the deposits - but to all the remonstrances petition & prayers of an unoffending, insulted & injured people, we have a deaf ear & calous heart - it is too bad!
I write, to the advice of abolition of the measure -

Give my love to Cousin Mary & my new Cousin Abner & her "Lord Pines tree" -

Adieu

Yrs sincerely

Dear Charles

A day or so since I received a letter from Mr Caldwell in behalf of Mrs Barney requesting I would allow her to surrender her lease at the end of the current quarter &c - I have written in answer to him & have in a measure reasoned with him on the unreasonableness of asking to surrender a surrender - in all human probability the house would be vacant for three months, I have proposed that Mrs Barney remain until the end of the ensuing quarter 1 Jan 1835 & the rent be reduced to $400 per year or 100$ for that quarter - after which whoever occupies it shall at a rent of $400 - I hope she will consent to this proposition, for, reasonable notice ought always to be given the landlord, by the tenant, of his intention to vacate - but in this case it is a "word & a blow" - do you know your net expires until 1 Jan 1836 - Adjust the matter in whatever way you may deem best & soot let the house be vacant if you can help it - I am afraid there is but little encouragement for my building in Louisiana this coming spring - However we will see more into it, when the time arrives -

I have been quite unwell throughout the whole of the past summer - I am now quite well, & amused & occupied with my improvements at my farm near this - I have lately enlarged it by the purchase of nearly 100 additional acres - I begin now to talk very big of my farming operations - I am erecting a dwelling on it for myself & plan myself the plan of the building would very please my Cousin Lewis Clark who is very anxious should furnish me a design -

Did Cousin Mary get the Cage I sent her? I hope it answered I learn Lewis Clark is with you - please present my best respects to him & my Cousin Abbe - I wish to visit you a little nearer Pittsburgh -

My little daughter enjoys good health, & since her return from the East, is devoted to her books, she is taking lessons on the piano & promises to be a musician -

Get me any quantity of Asparagus seed & if you hear of any beds being dug up, dont forget you have a friend to cousin named Croghan, just about commencing life - Is you will forget, but my Cousin Mary will not & know
- please present my respects to her

Dear Charles

Immediately on the receipt of your letter I went to work to investigate the cause of the miscarriage of the Cage I sent as a present to Cousin Mary - The facts are these, It was shipped on board the Steam Boat "Hunter" Capt. Stone on the 22 July - directed "Ch: W. Thurston Care of Jony the N" - I saw it put on board myself, put it in charge of the Steward & particularly charged the Clerk not to let him neglect it, which he promises - at the same time I addressed you a letter, stating, it was the prettiest cage to be found in Pittsburgh &c - Hunter Capt, Clerk, or Steward are now in the City, or I would prosecute the matter further - So soon as I see either, I will inquire fully into the matter - in the mean time inquire at Forester, - the boat reached Louisville on that occasion; perhaps she now may be there, if so make inquiry about it of the Clerk or Steward -

I thank Cousin Mary for the trouble she is taking in having the Asparagus bed gathered for me - I hope the first chance you will forward them & all you can conveniently spare - the sight of the shoot which I have pickled, has brought over upon me hundreds of petitions for seeds - I will try & be generous on the occasion - It is known here as the "Thurston Asparagus" - If you court the honor, I will have you made an honorary member of our "Pittsburgh Horticultural Society" - There is amongst us a decided "punchant" for Horticulture we have sundry public & private Green Houses, boasting of a vast variety of exotics, from far & near - we anticipate some public good & much pleasure from our own association "The Pittsburgh Horticultural Society" - It embraces the "little" of the land - I will send you, on next Report - Appropos - as I like to trouble my friends - will you have gathered for me any quantity of the little red berry, you will find on your Honey Suckle vines - put them in a box, mixed with a little earth, which you will keep a little moist & in a situation where it will not freeze & send it to me ^{at} the same time with the asparagus seed

All my leisure time I devote to my little farm - the buildings & arrangement of the grounds I think you would approve of - but the view afforded from the porches of the dwelling is admitted to be the most magnifi-cent in the land - I will not attempt to describe it, for I could not do it justice. Moreover, I will not resign the hope you will be there one day to judge for yourself.

As Mrs Barney has gone from our house all I can say is, let her go - in my day, I have had the luck of getting brown tenants - I hope she may prove my last - I am satisfied with the terms with which you have rented the house vacated by her - I am not yet determined about building in the spring - the fear of not getting tenants will alone prevent - I think though I will run the risk - in the mean time, give notice to the tenant at the corner, that the house he occupies will not be for rent at the end of his year - You may tell him this notice is merely provisional, if I do not build, he shall not be molested - What think, could I get tenants, say $400 each, for such houses as are now erected - ?

Probably I may visit Louisville this fall - where I will winter. I have not yet determined - if there be any thing to do here in my line, I will remain - otherwise I must be off - Life is short & we ought to make the most of it -

I assure you I reciprocate the kind sentiments Lewis & Cousin Abby are pleased to express towards me -

Poor Tompkins - poor Tompkins - what say of him or for him -

Please present my respects Churchill, Cousin Mary & Clark -

Dear Charles

My draft for $1500 drawn on you will soon be due, you are not forgetful I presume of the arrangement we made for taking it up - I left in your hands a certain sum to be applied towards its payment, being as well as I remember rather more than one half of the amount (the account is with S Croghan) for the remainder you will draw on me at sixty or ninety days as may be most convenient - I hope this matter will be attended to with your usual business punctuality

It has been some years since I have been so much occupied as the past spring & present summer - My operations though have been principally confined to my farm, which is my present hobby - I am in the City a visitor - From the parties of my Country house I can see what is going on in the City - Already I feel compensated for my trouble & the expense to which I have been subjected in its improvement, in my improved health, which is now even robust - I can undergo as much fatigue & labour as previous to my late awful illness - There is a great rage here for County seats, & already we have ^{some} beautiful ones & many more projected & under way - its tendency has been to increase the price of Real estate wonderfully about the suburbs of our City -

Our City is dull, all the fashionables having gone to the watering places - I was, really tempted to join some of the parties, but apprehended some of my important operations at the farm might suffer - If you or Cousin Mary be been going, I would have joined you & left the farm to have taken care of itself. I do not yet despair of a visit from you & a trip together to Bradford

My little daughter is quite well & gets along surprisingly in her studies - All Cousin Fanny, she is learning French Music & Drawing - I listen with pleasure at her att-tempts on the Piano -

How is Tompkins getting on? badly I fear - I hope you will write soon & let me know all the news in the land.

I hope my Terrier dog is doing well - don't neglect him
I am hurried

My love to Cousin Mary & the children

Sincerely
Yours

W. Croghan

Marionette Cour 16th Feb. 1842

My Dear Sir

I entrust of you as a friend and relation to take your Daughter away from the Brighton school as you would save her from the contaminating influence of its director Mrs. M^{rs} Lead than whom, a more artful, intriguing and base woman does not exist. You will have heard that my Brother William has been robbed of his Daughter a child of 14 years old. Yes seduced by the wheedling artifices of that vile woman she has eloped (perhaps forced away) & sailed for England with a Mr. Schenby a man of 56 and brother in law to Mrs. M^{rs} Lead who has for a length of time been aiding & abetting with friend like a partner his worthy accomplice in crime in the nefarious scheme of robbing a Father of his child, that they may secure to themselves a portion at least of his immense estate.

Mrs. M^{rs} Lead will attempt to exonerate herself from all blame, & may succeed with some justice, but she has the talents, deceit & cunning of the Devil himself, but listen not to his. Justice is so strong against her that nothing ought to restrain my Brother from arraigning her before the Courts as the kidnapper of his child.

Two years ago if not more the D^r employed W^m not to entrust his Daughter to the care of Mrs. M^{rs} Lead as she was unworthy - had the D^r prevailed what agony would have been avoided.

I have received two letters from Mr. Croghan upon this distressing subject, filled with details of the cool calculating schemes and artifices resorted to by the vile woman to effect her nefarious end.

W^m is half distracted. Let him rouse himself and pursue to the rescue of his child, even though to effect it he have to blow the brains of the vile robber's brains out.

I write in haste & in great distress

My love to your family

Yours affectionately
Croghan

P.S. My Wife & Mr. Jaeger express great anxiety on the subject of your Daughter & hope that you will recover her forthwith, and should wish you and Judge Wash be enabled to have home. Then instruct some friend to take ^{your children} ~~them~~ on to Washington & entrust them to the care of those who would gladly receive them - Mr. Jones & my wife
