Chapman

Thomas Chapman Williams attended Sewanee College, and published and edited The Telegram at Uniontown, Kentucky. About 1900 he started to New Mexico intending to homestead there, but en route being told of opportunities in Oklahoma, left the train at Clinton, Oklahoma, and took a job as a reporter on a newspaper, and was joined by his wife and child. Moving a year or so later to Oklahoma City, he worked at farming, selling life insurance, until about 1916 he purchased a newspaper at Harrah, Oklahoma. About a year later he sold that and purchased a newspaper at Talahina, Oklahoma. About 1919 he took a job as a letter carrier at Oklahoma City, and continued in that occupation until his death in 1939.

His brother Morlan married Hattie, and they lived in Knoxville, Tennessee, until their deaths. Their daughter, Mrs. Anne Pryor, lives at Columbia, Tennessee.

His brother Dudley lived at Wichita, Kansas, until his death. He had one son.

HAMILTON GRAHAM WILLIAMS.

This gentleman was born in Jefferson County, Ky., on the 15th day of March, 1844. At the age of eight years, when living near Anchorage, he first attended school and remained at this school two years. He then went to Lagrange, Oldham County, and attended school there one year and a half. He then went to Louisville, and lived there six years, during a greater portion of the time attending the public schools of that city. In 1861, about the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion, our subject went to Henderson County, Ky., where his father owned and was operating a large farm. He went upon this farm and there lived until 1868, engaged in farming. During this year he engaged with Kerr, Clark & Co., who were then operating a large tobacco stemmery in the City of Henderson, and remained with this firm till the fall of 1876, when he was sent to Uniontown to take charge of a branch house at that place, and has remained there ever since as Superintendent in charge of the factory. Mr. Williams is a young man of superior judgment, and is as well versed in the art of handling and rehandling the weed as any man engaged in the business. He is held in high esteem by the firm employing him, and no one is more deserving of it.

Dear Ms. Williamson:

In the allocated time for research I am not able to tell you very much but have found one item of interest.

I have been able to find where Randolph Walker married Elizabeth Coleman on the 5th of July, 1821 in Trigg County, Kentucky. In the 1830 U.S. Census index there were three Randolph Walkers in Kentucky, 2 in Anderson and 1 in Trigg. The Trigg County proved to be the correct one.

In the 1830 census Index for Kentucky I was able to identify a William Meek in Henry County and a William Meek in Ohio Co. However in checking records for those counties, I was unable to identify the correct one.

Hope this will be helpful.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Oliver:

I heard about your genealogical group on a radio program some years ago and today I got your name by telephone from the Filson library.

Enclosed are copies of death certificates for my paternal great grandparents:

JOHN GRIMES WALKER b. 02-06-1838 in Tennesee
d. 01-18-1914 in Texas

NANCY PARALEE WALKER
b. 10-05-1846 in Texas
d. 05-13-1932 in Texas

Their death certificates show their parents all were born in Kentucky. I'd appreciate any research you could do in helping me find my ancestors as far back as possible. Family legend says we are kin to the Randolphs of Virginia, and I am wondering if Randolph Walker is a link.

Handwritten notes on a family genealogy chart show Randolph Walker was born in Virginia or Tennessee and died in Bastrop County, Texas. This chart also shows his wife Elizabeth Coleman died in Voor, Tennessee. Their son, John Grimes Walker, may have been born in Murry County, Tennessee. If so, they were no longer in Kentucky by 1838.

The parents of Nancy Paralee Meek Walker may have been second cousins. Family notes show William D. Meek was born 5-9-1814 in Mississippi and died in 1849 in Washington County, Texas. The notes show Mary Ann Meek was born June 14, 1822, in Mississippi and died December 7, 1898, in Lampasas County, Texas.

I don't know which is more accurate, the data from the informants on the death certificates, or handwritten notes from someone who worked on a genealogy chart. I was surprised to see Kentucky as the place of birth for all four parents on the death certificates.

Thank you for anything you can find.

Enclosed is a check for $25 for research fee.

Sincerely yours,

Jane Walker Williamson

Dear Mrs. Fox:

I'm afraid, I am not able after a search tell you for sure that David Williams is the father of Samuel Findley Williams.

I have checked all materials we have for Casey Co, and do see references made to a Sam Williams, early school teacher in that county, and it list him as the son of a Logan Williams well known peacher in that area. However, somehow, I feel this is not the right Samuel.

It is very difficult to find out parents of an individual who died in l880, as this is before the keeping of death records and the cemetery is not concerned about the parents of those whom they bury.

If a Samuel Findley is shown living with his grandparents Samuel and Sentha Williams in l850, could the Sentha be his mother?

I have examined a "mass" of papers relating to different branches of the Williams in Kentucky, but did not find anything having to do with a Casey County branch.

Please send $25 for this search to:

Dear Nettie:
I understand from Robin Wallace that you do research and your fee is $25.00 an hour. I would like to employ you to do some research on my Great Grandfather Samuel Findley Williams dob 1834 (1833) (Casey Co) Ky..
He lived in Louisville in the 1870's (not sure of the exact dates). He was a school teacher (principal?) in the local public school (not sure which one). His address while there was 415 Green St, Louisville Jefferson co. He died of consumption on May 20, 1880 and is buried in the Eastern Cemetary (range 19, grave 18, section 3d, book 004 page 104). The funeral parlor was Pearson and there is an address on the death record as 9" 10th & Magazine (which may be the adress of Eastern Cemetary).
His family is shown on the 1880 census as follows:
Betsy Williams, wife age 38, B Kentucky
Children: Laura Williams D 15 B Texas
Eddie " S 12 B Kentucky
Margaret " D 9 B "
Carrie D 3 B "
Marie D 5/12 B "

He married Mary Elizabeth (Betsy) Terry 11-24-1856 in Lincoln Co. Ky.
I am searching for information that would substantiate who his parents were. Possibly an obituary, burial records, school records in Louisville or Jefferson County.
My research has led me to believe the following were his parents:

David Williams dob 1803, Casey Co. Ky
M: 15 Dec 1832
DoD: 30 Sep 1884 (Boyle Co. KY)

Mother: Seneth Williams dob 1811, Lincoln Co. Ky
Dod: 7 Jun. 1899, Junction City Ky

They are shown on the 1870 census of Boyle Co.Ky. Census roll 448, Pg 196, Danville PO.

I have searched for a will on the parents and burial records, but to no avail. The obit on Seneth does not include her children.
The 1840 census Lincoln Co. Ky. for David and Seneth shows 1 male under 5, 2 males
5-10 (This could be Samuel Findley) He is shown on the 1850 census for Lincoln Co. as living with his grandparents Samuel and Seneth Williams, age 16.
I believe he attended Centre College in Danville to get his teacher's certificate and he taught school in Kentucky (1850's-) and Ladonia, Fannin Co. Texas in the 1860's (shown on that census)
I have not found him " for sure" on the Ky 1870 Census.
Nettie, I do have more information if you need it...but think this might be a good start. Let me know if you can do this. My telephone # is 561-220-2973, if you need to call. My mailing address is : Ruth Fox

Dear Mrs. Oliver:

Thank you for the research on my gggrandfather Samuel Findley Williams. I am enclosing a check for $25.00.

I agree with you that Logan Williams was not his father as Logan was born in 1823 and Samuel Findley was born in 1833. I feel that I am on the right track with his parents, I just don't have any written proof.

He was listed in the 1850 Lincoln County Census with his grandparents Seneth Williams age 66and his grandfather Samuel age 77. I suppose She could have had a baby at age 50, but don't think it likely.
Samuel and Seneth had the following children:

Aseneth (Seneth) dob 1811 (All born in Lincoln Co.)
Alexander dob 1816
William Logan dob 1823
Mary (Polly) dob (1809)
Samuel (1810)
David dob(?)
Finley dob 10-8-1820

Aseneth (Seneth) married her cousin David H. Williams (Father was Joseph Williams, Mother was Esther Elet.)
They are shown in the 1840 Lincoln County Census as having a son between 5-10 yrs of age. They were married in 1832 in Lincoln County Ky. Samuel Findley was born 1833 or 1834.

I think Samuel Findley attended Centre College in Danville, Ky. (1852-1856). After that he was a school teacher in Ky. and Texas.
The grandparents attended the Presbyterian Church in Stanford, Ky.
Do you think there would be any records in the College, School Records, or church records? I have not pursued these sources.

If you have any suggestions, I would be most appreciative.

Best Wishes,
Ruth

Re: Copy of Schedule 1, 1870 Louisville Mortality Schedules

Dear Dr. Wetherington:

Some time ago I made a copy of Schedule 2.-Persons who Died during the Year ending 1st June, 1870, in 11th Ward Louisville, in the County of Jefferson, State of Kentucky which listed:

Fitzgerald, William, age 4/12, M, W, born in Kentucky as being a member of Family No. 1078 as given in the 2nd column of Schedule 1.

Unfortunately, I neglected to make a copy of the part of Schedule 1 which shows family number 1078.

I would appreciate receiving a copy of said schedule 1 which shows family number 1078 so that I may identify the parents of the above described William Fitzgerald and other members of his family.

I am member number 12998 of the Filson Club.

Re: Copy of Schedule 1, 1870 Louisville Mortality Schedules

Dear Pen:

Thank you for your letter dated 3 June 1997 and its enclosure.

I am returning this enclosure with the item circled which I am trying to find.

Some time ago I made a copy of this Schedule 2.

Unfortunately, I neglected to make a copy of the part of Schedule 1 which shows family number 1078.

I would appreciate receiving a copy of said schedule 1 which shows family number 1078 so that I may identify the parents of the above described William Fitzgerald and other members of his family.

I am presuming that this Schedule 1 has been microfilmed.

I would appreciate your letting me know if Schedule 1 exists and if family number 1078 can be identified.

I look forward to your comments.

Dear Mr. Bogert:

Thank you for your recent inquiry to Special Collections regarding the music of Henry Williams. Our collections do not include any music or other information related to Williams. I searched also the Scores file of RLIN (Research Libraries Information Network) and the Sam DeVincent Collection of American Music at the Smithsonian.

I did copy some biographical information from the New Grove Dictionary of American Music that includes a bibliography which might be of some use.

I hope this is of some help.

Dear Mrs. Sweeney:

I am so disappointed not to be able to send you the record of the marriage of James Powers and Charity Williams, the daughter of Isaac Williams. I will add this explanation and I hope it brings you a degree of hope and encouragement. The Lincoln County and Madison County marriages which we have have been copied and are not, of course, without errors and omissions. I feel the marriage must have taken place in one of these counties-therefore, I suggest that you write Mrs. Ethel Riggs, West Main St., Richmond, Kentucky and ask her to help you find this record. She is experienced in examining court house records and is, I believe, some part of a professional genealogist. I do not know what she charges but this information you can get from her. She may be willing to go to Stanford, Kentucky (county seat of Lincoln Co.) and look through the marriage records of that county.

The 1790 Kentucky Tax List places a James Powers in Fayette Co., Kentucky and Isaac Williams is listed in Madison County in 1789. In the 1800 Tax List I find only one James Powers and he was in Woodford County. Three Isaac Williams are found in these counties: Henry, Logan, and Washington. Evidently, your Isaac had died by this time or he did not make the list.

I do believe that Mrs. Riggs can help you with your genealogical problem. I certainly do hope that she can give you splendid assistance. If she is not able to do the work in Lincoln County, and should you have need of this investigation, perhaps she can suggest some one whom you may contact. In some instances the old marriages have been omitted from the Marriage Register and will be found in the old bond boxes. For this reason I feel you may find the marriage you are hunting.

Sincerely,

ssc

Dear Sirs,

I wrote to you almost a year ago and received such a nice answer I am imposing upon your kindness again. I am still looking for the same ancestors, but have some new information that might prove enlightening.

I am searching for the marriage of James Power to Charity Gilliams, and I think it was in Lincoln Co. around 1800. They had two children at least born in Kentucky, Elinor first, and Galloway L. born April 11, 1802.

Her parents were Isaac Gilliams who died in Old Crab Orchard, Ky. (Chaning served in the American Revolution from N. Carolina), and Mary Anderson Gilliams, who died en route to Old Crab Orchard from N. C.

She is going to be the hard one to find!

I shall be most grateful for any help or information, even encouragement, you can give me.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Mary Sweeney

Dear Mrs. Sweeney:

I regret to say that there are no records at the Filson Club to help you obtain additional information about Isaac Williams. Crab Orchard Springs is located in Lincoln Co., Kentucky and we have so few records of this county.

The list of Lincoln marriages which we have ~~are~~ is not too reliable. The names of Charity Williams and James Power do not appear but the marriage could have taken place in Lincoln County.

There is a Mrs. Riggs in Madison County, Kentucky who, I understand, is a very good genealogist. I regret that I do not have her first name but if you would address a letter to her in care of the court house, I believe it would reach her. Then, also, you could write Mrs. M.H. Dunn, 103 Pettus Court, Stanford, Kentucky and ask her to search county records for any available information about Isaac Williams and his family.

I did find two marriage records which may be of interest to you in Lincoln County. Isaac Williams married Sally Floyd on August 18,1806. (Could this be your ancestor whose first wife had died, enroute to Crab Orchard?). Then there is the record of the marriage of another Isaac Williams to Lavina McMichael on June 7, 1826.

I do hope your future research in Lincoln County will prove successful in greatest degree.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs,

I am writing again to ask information and advice on another Kentucky ancestor. I am beginning to be quite proud of all my Kentuckians.

I want data concerning Isaac Williams, who died in Old Crab Orchard, Ky. I am especially desirous of a record of a will. He was a Revolutionary War soldier, having lived in Charlotte, N.C. before the war. His wife, Mary, died en route to Old Cub Orchard and his children were: Mason, Charity, Sarah and Rebecca. Charity is the one I am most interested in; she was married to James Power.

If you can furnish me with a marriage record of Charity Williams to James Power, I shall be completely overjoyed. This marriage took place around 1800, possibly in Lincoln Co.

Sincere thanks,

Mrs. J. B. Sweeney

April 14th, 1971

Dear Mrs. Rowe:

I thought you would be very interested in knowing that I have established now the proof of the parentage of Caty and Sarah Carter, nee Williams. In Hancock County, Kentucky, which was formed from Breckinridge County in 1828, I have found our family ! It appears that they were in Breckinridge County, first, for in Amos Williams' will, written October 25, 1825, he speaks of being a resident of Breckinridge County. Then when the boundaries were changed, in 1828, he was automatically a resident of Hancock County, and that county is full of the Williams family !!! The first land deeds of the Williams family begin in 1829 when Otho Williams, a son of Amos, sold land to a James Prentis. The will of Amos Williams was probated the March term of the 1841 court so presumably he died in 1841. I had originally found him only on the 1810 census of Breckinridge County, so could not imagine where he had gone ! Actually, he had gone no place. The county just changed. He was not on the 1800 tax list of Kentucky so was still in Virginia at the time, coming between 1800 and 1810.

The Will (p.68, Book 2), bequeaths to son, William Williams, one negro girl named Jenny in return for money he had spent for him and for services, and one negro boy named Willie; to son Hugh, a negro boy named Parrett; to son James, a negro boy named Washington; to son George, a negro girl named Nancy; to son Henry W., the tract of land he now lives on, and at the decease of his wife Dorcas, a negro boy named Ben; to Dorcas, his beloved wife, the plantation, with all appurtenances, all household and furniture items, a negro woman named Dinah ahd her three children Named Marriet, Bevin, and Jordan, a negro man named Sip, and a negro man named Moses, His man Martin shall have the liberty of choosing his master among my said children. To daughter, Sarah Carter, a negro girl named Emeline as compensation for services for assisting in raising my family, more faithful than any of the rest, and a negro girl named Harriot. To daughter Velender Martin, a negro girl named Betty. To granddaughter Dorcas Comstock, a negro girl named Peg, one bed of furniture, and a horse and saddle. Henyy W. Williams to act as executor and to see to raising granddaugh until she is 21 or marries. Settlements of the estate are on pages 80, 82, 373, 374, and 435 of Book 1, also.

Now, records there reveal that there was also a son, Amos L.D.William Jr., who was born in 1805, and died May 29, 1847, buried at Utility Baptist Church cemetery in Hancock County. We know there was also a daughter named Catherine, who had died probably before 1809, and there must have been a daughter who married a Comstock, as per the will.

Amos Williams evident had brothers Thomas and Benjamin who accompanie him to Breckinridge County, and there are many references to them the in Hancock County, as well. I will be going to Breckinridge County to search there for Williams in the near future. When I was there the several times before, I was busy on other lines. But it is evident that we will find the Williams family there for the period 1805 apprc to 1828, and I am anxious to check the marriage records.

I have six pages of Williams marriages, 1828-1870, from Hancock County, and have not been able to check the land records thoroughly there yet. Among land records hurriedly noted, though, were records of Moses D. Carter purchasing land in 1831 and selling it in 1837. It was right after that when record of him appears then in Daviess County as I mentioned before.

I have a number of pages of Williams wills also copied, and will be trying to "put the families together." And will be visiting cemeteries there thoroughly this summer, too, so it look s as if I have a lot of work to do on the Williams family.

I don't know if I mentioned it before or not, but in the course of my visiting the Owensboro library so much, I met another person there who had been badly bitten by the genealogy bug, and it has developed to where we will be married in about six weeks.; all of her ancestors seem to be in the same general area as mine, Western Kentucky and Southern Indiana, and prior to that, Virginia, and so together we have researched nearly thirty counties, court houses, cemeteries, all !!

And, a coincidence, one of her ancestors is a Rolly (Rawleigh) Williams, who came from Amherst County, Virginia, to Breckinridge County, Ky. and then to Daviess County. So it is evident that there is a good possibility he could be a brother to Amos Williams. The father of Rawleigh Williams was Lt. John Williams, from Amherst County, so this could easily be the father of our Amos. Needless to say we will be seeking this connection !

In June we will be researching in six counties surrounding Lexington, and will be spending some time in the Filson Club, and in Frankfort, so if we can manage it, will stop in and say hello.

And will keep you informed.

Dear Sir:-

In Re: SMITH WILLIAMS AND WIFE SARAH ASHBROOK

You letter of December 28th should have had earlier attention, and I apologize for not having written sooner.

We do hot have the office force to do real genealogical research, but it looks to be as though you want to make your research in North Carolina if your S mith Williams was married in North Carolina. In your Historical Commission there are recorded some 400,000 marriages from the various counties. They will not made the search but sent by letter to Mrs. Diasy Crump Whitehead, Genealogist, 225½ Forest Road, Raleigh, N.C. whom they recommend to do this type of research,

I do not think the land grant will show any genealogy, but if you want a copy of the survey write to the Land office in Frankfrot, Ky., giving the book and page as listed in Jillson's work and they will send you a copy for the usual fee.

I would suggest your writing the County Clerk at Somerset, Pulaski County, Ky., for a copy of the will of S mith Williams if in existance, for the usual fee, and that should show the names of the children, or if no will left, the Division book might. I am sorry we have not the marriage records of Pulaski County.

Miss Hattie Scott, Frankfort, Ky., does genealogical research and might be able to ferret this out for you.

Yours very truly,

Ludie J.Kinkead, Curator

Dear Madame:

Page 434 Jillson's Kentucky Land Grants shows that Smith Williams had a grant of land for 244 acres on Pitman's Creek in Pulaski County which had been entered Sept 30 1806 and another grant of 100 acres on Sinking Creek entered Oct 9 1821. On tax list for year 1812 Pulaski County he is shown to have listed two tracts of 200 acres each on Pitman's Creek.

Will your records perchance show the names of Smith Williams wife, names of his eight children, names of his parents and from whence he came to Pulaski County or Kentucky? It is my understanding that he was born, reared and married Sarah Ashbrook somewhere in North Carolina prior to 1806 when he entered tract on Pitman's Creek as noted above, one son was named Uriah Smith, a daughter was named Sarah married to DeHoff, I dont know names of other six children. It is my thought that just possibly these land grants will indicate his origin and names of his family.

If information found, kindly advise cost of transcription, and oblige,

Yours truly,

L. B. McCullough.

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of your letter of March 5 and as requested are sending you a list of our publications showing the prices of those regarding which you inquire.

No History of Pulaski County has ever been published. A four-page sketch of the county from its beginning in 1798 to 1875 appears in Volume 2 of Collins' History of Kentucky.

As to your third question, regarding Dr. Uriah Smith Williams. I suggest that you write to Transylvania College, Lexington. It may be that through their old catalogues they can give some information.

We have the North Carolina Colonial and State Records but I can find nothing regarding Dr. Uriah Smith Williams or his father Smith Williams. Have you consulted the Encyclopaedia of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. of America. We have not a copy of that but in the Historical Foundation of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches Library at Montreat, N.C., there is a set of this and Dr. S. M. Tenney would be very glad indeed to look that up for you, I am sure. Dr. Tenney gave us a list of the Kentuckians whose biographies are included in this but Uriah Smith Williams being from North Carolina, I thought he might nobe have sent it to us for that reason, for he is not in our list.

In the Historical Commission at Raleigh, N.C., they have many marriages which are not indexed but I am under the impression they are not alphabetically arranged under the counties. It might be that you could find the marriage of Smith Williams in that which should show from which county he came. Under the Heads of Families First Census of the U.S., 1790, page 56 I find where there was a Uriah Williams in Halifax District, Edgecombe County. In his family were two free white males sixteen years old and upwards including heads of family; one free white male under sixteen; two free white females including the head of amily and three slaves. I do not find in this census however a Smith Williams. In this same book page 17 in Edenton District Camden County, I find a Urias Williams in whose family was one white male over sixteen and three free white males under sixteen, one free white female and one slave, but there are a great many Williams in North Carolina.

March 28, 1931

I will still keep your letter before me and if I find anything that I think will be of assistance to you I will pass it on.

Hoping however this may be of a little assistance to you, I am

Sincerely,

Ludie J. Kinkead, Curator.

Dear Sir:-

1. Kindly advise me cost of your publications Nos. 2, 11, 13, 16, 20, 27, 31, 32, 33, 34 and 35.

2. Kindly recommend a county history of Pulaski County covering particularly the period from settlement to say 1850, possibly also the town of Somerset of that county, with special reference to biographical sketches of that period.

3. Dr. Uriah Smith Williams, born in Pulaski County in 1812, educated in the schools of that county, graduated from Medical Department of Transylvania University in 1837. His father (Smith Williams) died in 1846 and his mother (nee Sarah Ashbrook) died in 1848 in Pulaski County, both were born, reared and married "Somewhere in North Carolina". While Dr. Uriah Smith Williams was a Presbyterian, his father (Smith Williams) was a deacon in the Baptist Church. I am wondering whether you have in your files information, whether college yearbook, church or county, from which may be determined the North Carolina County and/or town from which Smith Williams removed to Kentucky and if so whether anyone associated with your organization may furnish this information and the cost of same.

Thanking you for your consideration, I am,

Yours truly,

Ben Williams Marries."

News has been received here of the marriage of Mr. Ben W. Williams and Mrs. Grace Rich, of New York and Orlando, Fla., at Orlando on Feb. 6.

Mr. Dewees W. Williams, who has returned to Georgetown after a stay in Florida, went to Orlando to see his brother and new sister-in-law and 845.—Williams—Barfield.—Can any one tell me what has become of the descendants of Theophilus Williams and Charity Barfield, who are supposed to have emigrated to Kentucky from North Carolina immediately after the Revolutionary war? Theophilus Williams was with my great-grandfather, Francis Barfield, and his son Frederick (my great-uncle) at the battle of Camden, S. C., and all belonged to "Lighthorse Harry" Lee's cavalry. After the war he married my great-aunt, Charity Barfield, who at that time lived in Tuplin county, N. C., with her father and mother, Francis and Mary Barfield. Her brother, Thomas Barfield, emigrated to Muhlenberg county, Ky., near Greenville, and lived and died there. Perhaps some of his descendants can give me the information required. CALISTRO.

Pardand, Ky.

374.—Williams.—I would like to know something of the ancestors of Raleigh Williams, who married Miss Rebecca Littrelle, a French Huguenot, in Culpeper, Va. They moved to what is now Montgomery county, Ky., before Kentucky was separated from Virginia. Col. John Williams, a son of Raleigh and Rebecca Williams, married Mariah Stuart about 1818 and lived in Mt. Sterling, Ky., until h' death. Raleigh was a lineal descendant of Roger Williams. T. W. R.

374.—Williams.—As to the family of Theopholus Williams—my father bore that name. He formerly lived in North Carolina, and as well as I remember did not live far from Fayetteville. My mother was a Miss Elizabeth James Lane, from near Raleigh, N. C. My parents are both dead. They lived in Alabama for many years. I am the only son Theopholus H. Williams has living. J. B. W.

374.—Williams.—I nee your query. My father is John Sidney Williams, born in Concord, N. C., of Scotch-Irish descent, son of Henry Williams; grandson of one John Williams (I think I, too, am related to Maj. John Wilams, of Revolutionary fame. Please give me any information you possess. Was your father born in Mechlenburg county, N. C.? F. W.

THE WILLIAMS FAMILY

April 11th, 1971

Dear Mrs. Rowe:

I thought you would like to know that I have established now the proof of the parentage of Cathy and Sarah Carter, nee Williams. In Hancock County, Kentucky, which was formed from Breckinridge County in 1828, I have found our family/ It appears that they were in Breckinridge County, first, for #### in Amos Williams' will, written October 25, 1825, he speaks of being a resident of Breckinridge County. Then when the boundaries were changed in 1828, he was automatically a resident of Hancock County, and that county is full of the Williams family/// The first land deeds of the Williams begin in 1829 when Otho Williams, a son of Amos, sold land to a James Prentis. The will of Amos Williams was probated the March term of the 1841 court, so presumably he died in 1841. I had originally found him only in the 1810 census of Breckinridge County, so could not imagine where he had gone/ Actually, he had gone no place. The county just changed. He was not on the 1800 tax list of Kentucky, so was still in Virginia at the time, coming between 1800 and 1810.

The Will (p. 68, Book 2), bequeaths to son, William Williams, one Negro girl named Jenny in return for money he had spent for him and for services, and one Negro boy named "Willie"; to son, Hugh, a Negro boy named Parrett; to son, James, a Negro boy named Washington; to son George, a Negro girl named Nancy; to son, Henry W., the tract of land he now lives on, and at the decease of his wife, Dorcas, a Negro boy named Ben; to Dorcas, his beloved wife, the plantation, with all appurtenances, all household and furniture items, a Negro woman named Dinah and her three children named Marriet, Bevin and Jordan, a Negro man named Sip, and a Negro man named Moses. His man Martin to daughter, SARAH CARTER, a Negro girl named Emeline as compensation for services for assisting in raising my family, more faithful than any of the rest, and a Negro girl named Harriot. To daughter, Velender Martin, a Negro girl named Betty. To granddaughter, Dorcas Comstock a Negro girl named Peg, one bed of furniture, and a horse and saddle. Henry W. Williams to act as executor and to see to the raising of granddaughter until she is 21 or marries. Settlements of the estate are on pages 80, 82, 373, 374 and 435 of book one also.

Now, records there reveal that there was also a son, Amos L. D. Williams, Jr., who was born in 1805, and died May 29, 1847, buried at Utility Baptist Church cemeter in Hancock. We know there was also a daughter named Catherine, who had died probably before 1809, and there must have been a daughter who married a Comstock, as per the will.

Amos Williams evidently had brothers Thomas and Benjamin who accompanied him to Breckinridge County and there are many references to them there in Hancock County, as well. I will be going to Breckinridge County to search there for Williams' in the near future. When I was there the several times before, I was busy with other lines. But it is evident that we will find the Williams' there for the period 1805 to ca. 1828, and I am anxious to check the marriage records.

I have six pages of Williams marriages, 1828-1870, from Hancock County, and have not been able to check the land records thoroughly there yet. Among land records hurriedly noted, though, were records of Moses D. Carter purchasing land in 1831 and selling it in Daviess County, as I mentioned before.

I have a number of pages of Williams wills also copied, and will be trying to "put the family together." And will be visiting cemeteries there thoroughly this summer, too, so it looks as if I have a lot of work to do on the Williams family.

Pioneer Who Founded West Liberty Fought And Hunted With Daniel Boone

BY HELEN PRICE STACY
Leader Correspondent

WEST LIBERTY, Ky. — It was Sept. 7, 1787. George Rogers Clark was in Virginia trying to decide the best way to attack British troops at strategic posts. Daniel Boone, who had been captured and was living with Indians in Chillicothe and Detroit, had made his escape and traveled the tortuous route to the Ohio and on to Boonesboro only to find his wife had given up his return and had gone back to North Carolina. Boone had learned from the Indians their planned attack on Boonesborough and had come to the fort to warn them. Living in one of 30 cabins built there to form an oblong - shaped stockade were Daniel Williams and his wife.

"Her name was Violet Crouch, according to Aunt Almeda McClure of Grassy Creek," says Morgan County poet Katherine McClure Amyx.

Williams was to become an important man in Kentucky. He established many churches, and on the banks of Licking River he built the first cabin in a settlement he would name West Liberty. He preached the first sermon in the area and founded Baptist associations still active today.

Williams had traveled with Boone to Kentucky in 1775 and helped build the fort. Williams' family history says that Daniel and Violet were married in 1775.

Boone and Williams hunted together and fought together. On August 19, 1782, two years after Indians had captured Ruddles Mills and Martin's Fort in what later would become Bourbon County and had given up on the siege at Bryan's Station the summer of 1782, they were being chased over the old Buffalo trail by Boone, John Todd and Steve Trigg. . . and Daniel Williams.

At Blue Licks Springs on Aug. 19 Boone's party was surprised by the Indians. Williams' family history records that 72 settlers lost their lives.

Both Boone and Williams escaped. Boone was to carry on his exciting life as a scout, Indian fighter and frontiersman. He would leave his mark in history books around the world. . . would be immortalized by statues, a national forest, parks, towns and county. The words Daniel Boone were to become legends via television and various franchises.

But some of the greatest pioneers would not make it in the history books. . . they would make it via family and regional history, and many of them like Daniel Williams would find their names attached to small streams such as Williams Creek in Morgan County.

When in about 1804 Daniel Williams reached that section along Licking River that would become West Liberty and built a cabin he could have chosen the name Williams or just Liberty. But he built his cabin on the west bank and decided the town would be known as West Liberty, and in 1836 it was chartered as such.

The sons of Daniel Williams and Violet were Isaac, Caleb, Wiley C., John T. (Esquire John T. who was the father of Capt. John T. Williams), William and Jeremiah Verdman. Their daughters were Nancy, Betsy, Edie, Frankie, Polly and Winnie. The son Wiley was Morgan County's first representative, serving 1825-1827. The daughter Nancy married David Lykins, and their son William B. Lykins was the county's first judge after the 1850 constitution was adopted.

Mrs. Lucille Lykins of West Liberty, who died Aug. 20, was a descendant of the pioneer who fought and traveled with Boone.

Daniel Williams was the son of Edward Williams (who was a descendant of the Puritan Roger Williams), and of Mary Emory Williams.

High on a hill overlooking Caney Valley, where the Indian fighter lived out his days, are the graves of Daniel and Violet. Their ancestors helped mold today's government in this country and their descendants have continued as county and state officials, as businessmen and as sturdy and stable citizens.

Marriage supposedly performed by Daniel Boone by any proof?

BIOGRAPHICAL.

DANIEL WILLIAMS, born in Virginia, now N. C., * Feb. 11, 1752, was one of the worthy representatives of an old and distinguished family. From the best information obtainable, the branch of the Williams family, to which our subject belongs, is directly descended from Sir William Williams, a Welsh baron, * also from Sir Roger Williams, an English military historian, * father and grandfather respectively of Roger Williams, the illustrious founder of Rhode Island. About 1660, * the founder of this family in America, came from Wales and landed at Jamestown, Virginia, together with others of the Williams family from both England and Wales. * Daniel Williams was a commissioned officer, in the Revolutionary war, having served his country as Captain in Gen. Greene's Southern campaign, where he commanded a company in the 6th North Carolina Regiment, from April 1, 1777, till after January 1779. * Feb. 18, 1776, at Falmouth, Virginia, * he married Miss Mary Jackson, a near relative of President Andrew Jackson, * and a native of North Carolina, * born April 11, 1757. Daniel Williams and family were among the old Virginia Baptists, who moved from Virginia, soon after the close of the Revolutionary war, to Kentucky, settling in Woodford County, the heart of the famous "Blue Grass Region." *

They were numbered among the hardy pioneers, who followed the dauntless Daniel Boone, into the "dark and bloody ground," of Kentucky. The children born to Daniel and Mary (Jackson) Williams were: Thomas; Katherine, who married James Orr; William, (who died when young); Daniel Jackson; Sarah, who never married; John; Elijah; Thompson, (who died in infancy,) and Mary, who married Robert Forsyth. In Kentucky, the subject of our sketch, engaged in farming. In Woodford County, he owned a valuable homestead, "located on South Elkhorn, between the old Frankfort and Leestown pikes, about three miles from Mt. Vernon." * Later, he removed with his family to Pendleton County, Kentucky, on "Blanket Creek, where he purchased a farm, containing 495 acres of land, for which he received a deed, from one Samuel Cook, in 1801." * His wife was thrown from a horse, in Pendleton Co., from the effects of which she died, Oct. 11, 1816. She was buried in the old Baptist cemetery, near Falmouth Ky., of which Church in Falmouth, both herself and husband were members. *

After the death of his wife, Daniel, being old and delicate, came to the home of his son, D. J. Williams, in Woodford County, where he passed the remainder of his days and having attained a good old age, died there, Dec. 6, 1823. * He was buried in the old family burying ground, near Mt. Vernon Baptist Church, the sacred grounds of which are inclosed by a rock fence and are among the highest and most beautiful in all the surrounding country. The blackened tombstone at the head of his grave, bears the following simple inscription:

DANIEL WILLIAMS,
Born Feb. 11th, 1752.
Died Dec. 6th, 1823.

* The "Old Williams Homestead," where Daniel Williams died, was shortly afterwards sold by his son, D. J. Williams, to his brother, John Williams, (another son of Daniel,) who lived there, with his family many years and after his death, which occurred there, his son Thomas S. Williams also lived and died there, and the farm, with some recent improvements, amounting to several thousand dollars, is now the lovely home of Claude S. Williams, a great-grandson of Daniel Williams, grandson of John Williams and son of the late Thomas S. Williams.

(See Frontispiece, showing the original Homestead.)

THOMAS WILLIAMS, the eldest son of Daniel and Mary (Jackson) Williams, was born in Falmouth, Virginia, * Feb. 25, 1777 and immigrated with his parents to Kentucky. He was a successful school teacher, also farmer. December 31, 1801, in Pendleton County, Ky., he married Miss Nancy Sanders, (sometimes written Saunders), born in Yadkin County, North Carolina, March 11th, 1784. She was a daughter of John and Sallie (Grant) Sanders and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Grant, was a sister of the famous Kentucky hunter and pioneer, Daniel Boone. * In 1840, when advanced in years, Thomas removed with his family to Livingston County, Missouri, where he died, March 30, 1845, and his wife about two years later, Feb. 9, 1847. Their children, who lived to be grown, were: Angelina; Rev. Joel Grant, (a Baptist minister); Dr. James Tully; Daniel Boone; Dr. John S; Dr. Thomas J.; Zerah Grant; Lycurgus; Musidora; and Stanishlaus; and Clementina; Elijah; Melcena; Sarah; and Nancy, who died when young.

Mr. Williams is a model young man—one of Kentucky's noblest sons—and one of whom she may well be proud. He and his wife are happy young people.

JULIELMA MARIA, youngest daughter of William T. and Julia S. (Williams) Kelley, of Maryland and a granddaughter of the late John and Elizabeth (Springle) Williams, of Woodford County, Kentucky, was born at Preston, Caroline County, Md., September 28, 1857. She was educated at Swarthmore College, Pa. She has travelled considerably, is fond of music and has literary taste. She resides with her parents, at Preston, Maryland.

ELIJAH WILLIAMS, fifth son of Daniel and Mary (Jackson) Williams, was born in Woodford County, Kentucky, August 27, 1792. He was a farmer and was in the War of 1812. February 22, 1820, in Pendleton County, Kentucky, he married Miss Frances Duncan, who was born in that county March 27, 1802, and died (Smith) June 14, 1868. Mr. Williams died at his home in Pendleton County, February 8, 1833, from the effects of a splinter running into his wrist, which threw him into lockjaw. Both himself and wife were members of Falmouth Baptist Church. Their children are Elizabeth (Mrs. Benjamin Forsyth) now deceased; Elisha Linza; Theopolis Jackson, who died when young; Daniel Nathan and Sarah Katherine (Mrs. William S. Newell).

ELIZABETH WILLIAMS, the elder daughter of Elijah and Frances (Duncan) Williams, was born in Woodford County, Kentucky, March 5, 1821. At the home of her parents in Pendleton County, March 30, 1843, she married Benjamin forsyth, a farmer, born in that county, July 13, 1805. She died in Pendleton County, January 5, 1852, leaving a husband and four small children, viz: Zarilda; Violet; Sarah, and Thomas Richard. Mr. Forsyth died in Pendleton County April 27, 1886, having survived his wife many years.

DANIEL NATHAN WILLIAMS, the youngest son of Elijah and Frances (Duncan) Williams, was born in Pendleton County, Kentucky, March 28, 1830. He is a farmer and resides with his family, near Falmouth, Kentucky. On March 13, 1851, in Pendleton County, he married Miss Nancy Wright, a most estimable woman, who was born in that county, October 9, 1832. Of their ten children: Mary Frances, (Mrs. William Colvin); Agnes Isabel, Charles L., and Martha E., are dead, and Theophilus Jackson, Sarah E., (Mrs. Louis Wright,) Aletha F., (Mrs. A. S. Coivin) Etta M., Daniel L., and Nannie C., (Mrs John T. Northcutt,) are living.

MARY WILLIAMS, the youngest daughter of Daniel and Mary (Jackson) Williams, was born in Pendleton County, Kentucky, September 26, 1800. February 11, 1819, at the home of her parents in that county, she married Robert Forsyth, a successful farmer and a "Private of Captain Seebree's Company, Kentucky Militia, in the War of 1812." * He was born in Pendleton County, Kentucky, May 16, 1794 and died at his home, near Ursa, in Adams County, Illinois, February 11, 1874. His wife survived him a number of years and died at the "Forsyth home, a plain, large brick building, where so many weddings, etc., took place," * near Ursa, Adams County, Illinois, July 25, 1890. Their children are Daniel Williams, now deceased; Robert F., deceased; Jephtha W., died at the age of 21; Sarah Williams, (Mrs. Archibald H. Metcalf); Blackstone L. A., died at the age of 26 years; Mary Catherine, who died in infancy; Benjamin F., who died when 21 years of age; Margaret Josephine, (widow of Thomas D. Kelly); Martha A., Mary Helena, (relict of Lawson B. Hatton); and Violet Elizabeth, (the late Mrs. Marcellus Duncan.)

DANIEL WILLIAMS FORSYTH, eldest son of Robert and Mary (Williams) Forsyth, was born in Pendleton County, Kentucky, November 7, 1819. He was a farmer and was educated in Woodford County, Kentucky, under his uncle, Daniel Jackson Williams, Sr., a noted scholar and teacher. April 6, 1843, in Harrison County, Kentucky, he married Miss Sarah Butler Douglass, who was born in that county, March 24, 1827. Daniel died at his home in Chariton County, Missouri, July 4, 1879, leaving a widow (who resides at the homestead) and the following children: Robert Blackstone; Martha L.; (Mrs William R. Patterson); Sarah A., (Mrs. William T. Keath); Franklin Pierce; Stephen A. Douglass; Mary Naomi, (Mrs. Enoch Golden); Joel Williams; Arzona Belle, (Mrs. Albert Heuston); Sonora E., (Mrs. Joseph Sterling); Charley; John; Victoria E., and Georgiana, (widow of Dewitt C. Chapman.)

SARAH WILLIAMS FORSYTH, eldest daughter of Robert and Mary (Williams) Forsyth, was born in Pendleton County, Kentucky, November 11, 1825, and at the home of her parents, near Ursa, Adams County, Illinois, February 8, 1846, she married Archibald H. Metcalf. Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf, reside at Salinas, Monterey County, California, and have four children: Sarah Louisa, (Mrs. John Graham, of Lodi, California,); Mary, (Mrs. A. T. Swart of Watsonville, California); Robert F., of San Francisco, and Tilford, at home with his parents.

MARGARET JOSEPHINE, the third daughter of Robert and Mary (Williams) Forsyth, was born near Quincy, in Adams County, Illinois, December 29, 1833. At the home of her parents, in Adams County, October 10, 1854, she married Thomas D. Kelly, a farmer born near Louisville, Kentucky, April 25, 1827. They removed to near Danville, California, where they lived until the spring of 1865, when they returned to Quincy, Illinois, via the Pacific, across the Isthmus, the Atlantic and around by New York City. Mr. Kelly died on his beautiful homestead, near Trenton, Missouri, March 1, 1896, leaving a widow and three grown children. Mrs. Kelly having rented her country home, now resides with her daughter, Mary V. (Mrs. Arthur M. Bridges), at Laredo, Missouri.

MARY METCALF, second daughter of Archibald H. and Sarah Williams (Forsyth) Metcalf, was born in Adams County, Illinois, August 21, 1849. October 4, 1872, in Quincy, Illinois, she married Mr. Charles A. Steele, a large furniture dealer, born in Maine, in 1839. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Steele, December 14, 1882, in Salinas, California, married Mr. A. T. Swart, a druggist, born in New York, in 1837. Mr. and Mrs. Swart, have a beautiful home at Watsonville, Santa Cruz County, California, where they now reside. Idelle Steele, an artist, and like her mother, a handsome woman of culture, is at home with her parents, also her brother, a chemist, Charles Steele, Jr.

MARY ELIZA DUNCAN, the elder of the two daughters, of Ferdinand Marcellus and Violet Elizabeth (Forsyth) Duncan, was born in Adams County, Illinois, October 25, 1868. She was educated at Chaddock College, in Quincy, Illinois, and adopted the profession of teaching, which she followed with success, until her marriage in Quincy, December 26, 1889, to Charles C. Simmons, a farmer of Adams County. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, have a nice home, at Quincy, Illinois, where they reside, with their three beautiful and intelligent children: Lloyd C.; Clifton and Marian M.

Dear Miss Thomas:

Although the Filson Club does not undertake detailed genealogical research, we are always glad to answer two or three specific questions, if the information is readily available. I have devoted, however, more than the customary time to your inquiries and have found information which should prove of value and interest to you.

Simpson County was not formed until 1819 from Logan, Warren, and Allen Counties. The court house in Simpson burned in May 1882. All records were burned except Circuit Court Order Books so you will encounter some handicaps in securing some of the records yo would like to have.

James Williams, a soldier of the Revolutionary War, was granted a pension in Simpson County as of July 10, 1833. This information I derived from Gwathmey's Virginia Soldiers of the Revolution and is also found in Military Pension Lists, Vol.II and concerns soldiers who received pensions for service as Va. militia men. I guggest that you write the General Services Administration, Dept. of Nat. rchives, Washington 25, D.C. and ask for a copy of this record.

In a History of Simpson County by William H. Perrin (1886) is a biographical account of Elijah Williams who was a son of James Williams, the soldier.James, it is said, was born in 1756 in Delaware and was a son of Edward K. Williams. James married (1) Elizabeth Watson of North Carolina and (2) Elanor Bernard, daughter of John Bernard of Hawkins Co.,Tenn. She was born 1773 and died 1862. Among the children of James and Elanor was John Barnard and I wonder if the name you have given as John Barnett could be an error. I have found a record of the marriage of John B. Williams and Alice Lewis in Warren Co.,Kentucky on November5 , 1814. The name of the Bride was recorded as Aley Luis but this is just another illustration of the phonetic spelling of some of our early county clerks.

If you would be interested in further research in primary source records, I suggest that you write Mrs. Nora Young erguson, 1344 State St.,Bowling reen, Kentucky. She is a highly experienced genealogist and she may be able to give you directions in regard to research in Simpson County.

Sincerely,

SSC

Mr. McDonald:

We can not tell you anything specifically about Thomas Hansford Williams.

John Sherrod Williams married Elizabeth Jane or Jane E. Stone in Wayne Co. 22 Feb. 1827. He is listed in the 1830 census, living in Monticello. He is mentioned in the Wayne records available to us, in an affidavit of the 1840's and a bounty land claim (not his) of 1835.

The two Stone households listed in Wayne Co. in 1830 are James and Ireby.

Sherrod Williams is listed as an attorney in the Louisville City directory for 1848-49, living at the Exchange Hotel, corner of 6th and Main Sts. In 1852 he is listed with partner Edmund A. Graves, and in 1855 without a partner.

The 1850 Kentucky census index shows 43 Thomas Williams, including 3 Thomas H., in Mason, Nicholas, and Washington counties. The latter 3 are all farmers, ages 33, 36, and 40. The only Thomas Williams listed in Jefferson Co. is an engineer, age 37. The census lists the "household"of Sherrod Williams, showing that he and his family were living at the Exchange Hotel with 51 other persons, including the families of the 2 proprietors. Williams is listed as an attorney, age 45, born in Virginia; wife Jane E. age 40, Va; sons John and George, ages 17 and 13, Va.

We would have to suppose that the young man left Kentucky without making any footprints or lasting signs here; possibly went west with the gold seekers. I assume you have been in contact with Centre College. There would seem to be good reason to doubt that Sherrod's children were born in Virginia, as the 1850 census enumerator indicated, but we have nothing to prove it right or wrong except the appearance of Sherrod's name in the Wayne Co. records.

In the 1830 census index, there is no Williams household in Wayne Co. except.Sherrod's.

Gentlemen:

I am preparing a history of the Territory of Nevada for the period 1861 to 1864, and am interested in obtaining any available information about Thomas Hansford Williams.

My files indicate that Mr. Williams was born in Montecello, Wayne County, Kentucky, on May 18, 1828. He studied law with his father, Sherrod Williams, of Louisville, Kentucky, and attended Centre College, Danville, Kentucky. Williams was in El Dorado County, California in 1856, was a lawyer in Virginia City, Nevada Territory, and in 1876 acquired in excess of 50,000 acres of tule lands (Union and Grand Islands) in San Joaquin County, California.

I would greatly appreciate your providing me with any data or material which you may possess concerning Mr. Williams, and will be happy to pay any costs attendant upon reproduction of material. Enclosed for your convenience in replying is a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sincerely yours,

Russell W. McDonald

Dear Mrs. Neal:

There are few records of Graves County in our library. As your ancestor, Thomas Jefferson Williams was born between 1867 and 1880, I suggest reading census records. Available for this type of research is Mr. Charles Waggoner, 1242 Ormsby Court, Louisville, Kentucky 40203. I hope he will discover your Thomas in either the 1870 or 1880 census listings. I do not have the name of a researcher in Graves County but the clerk of the court in Mayfield may be able to give you this information.

The Filson Club History Quarterly is devoted, for the most part to historical material and seldom are included genealogical articles. The price of the publication is $2.

Miss Ludie J. Kinkead,

Louisville, Ky.

My Dear Miss Kinkead:-

I wish to thank you for your letter of the 28th. You gave me some little additional information on the Stark family, especially references to the Overwarton Parish.

I hardly believe my John Stark was ever in Louisa, Ky.

In regard to the Williams line and your last paragraph in reference thereto, and also with reference to Rufus Lisle, III, he is one of my distant relatives that I knew nothing about. The Benjamin Williams, who married Miss Margaret Graddy, was a younger brother of my grandfather, Richard L. Williams.

Unfortunately, my grandfather and grandmother were divorced when their children were young and the same thing happened with Uncle Ben and his wife and the families have seen very little of each other for that reason. Miss Fannie Williams, one of the daughters of Benjamin Williams, now lives at Paris. I see her frequently and have talked with her some in regard to the Williams family. John Augustus Williams of Daughters College, Harrodsburg, was also a first cousin of Benjamin Williams and Richard L. Williams. The name of the father of John Augustus Williams was Dr. Charles Williams. The Benjamin Williams, that you are speaking of, died a resident of Clark County. I knew him very well. In fact he made his home with his sister, Mrs. Carrie Shryock, who was a widow, and their niece, Mrs. Fannie Bean, a sister of my mother.

From the chart of my family, you can see how far I have worked back on this Williams family but I have been unable to locate anything further. I have been informed by several parties, including my old friend, Col. Tom Stewart, of Winchester, that during the life of John Augustus Williams, he published a small pamphlet on the Williams family. Fannie Williams told me that she believed she had a copy of this pamphlet at Versailles and would look it up for me. I have also talked to another relative, State Senator John S. Holloway, who is the grandson of John Stewart Williams, another brother of my grandfather, who says that he has a copy of this pamphlet. However, I have been unable to locate one.

If this further information about the Williams family is of any value, I am glad to give it.

Thanking you very much for your letter, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Elsie M. Harding Zimmerman,

Dear Mrs. Zimmerman:

We have your letter of March 7 regarding information about a Basil Williams. We have found that a Basil Williams lived in Fleming County in 1800, and a Basil Williams lived in Franklin County at the same time. In 1799 a Basil Williams lived in Jefferson County.

The Fleming County Marriage Records show that a Bazel Williams married Nancy S. Likes, Aug. 1, 1816, and a Bazil Williams married Hulda Reeves, Mar. 15, 1812. A Bazil Williams left a will in Flaming County, probated April 5, 1819, naming his wife, Priscilla, and children, Bazil, Lawrence, Nancy, Cynthia, Priscilla, Delilah and Joseph. Evidently none of these are the Basil you are seeking.

The Jefferson County Marriage Records show that a Bazil Williams married Eve Coffman, daughter of Jacob, July 27, 1790. Is it possible that Basil William's wife was a Coffman, instead of his widow marrying a Coffman?

Another Bazil Williams married Elizabeth Reynolds, daughter of Charles, on January 15, 1809 in Jefferson County.

I am afraid none of this information will be of help to you. We would like to be able to do further research for you, but because of our small staff we cannot devote much time to genealogical research, and I would suggest that you have a professional genealogist go over all our records, including the census records from 1830 through 1880 which we have on microfilm for information on the children of Basil. If you care to do this you might write to Mrs. Charles A. Craik, 118 Oxford, Louisville, or Mrs. Harry P. Gorman, 2404 Woodbourne, Louisville, either of whom, I feel sure, would be glad to attend to it for you for a reasonable fee.

MAR 12 1956

Gentlemen:-

For several years I have been trying to locate record of Basil Williams, the father of Richard and Amos who were War of 1812 soldiers. The family lived in one of the counties not too far from Louisville. By 1820 the sons had migrated to Ripley County Indiana. There were other sons, Otho, perhaps Eli and others and at least one daughter Parthenia.

Basil Williams was killed in some battle and it is reported that friendly Indians carried water to him until he died. Basil's widow Margaret later married a Moore then a Haffman (not sure of spelling) or vice versa.

Richard was born around 1795; do not know the birthdates of the other children. Basil was killed in 1795 or sometime after that, depending on the age of other children.

I have searched both regular and Volunteer War Records here for Basil Williams but find no record of him.

Will you please send me any data you can on this family so that I may clear up my rights for DAR membership?

Very sincerely,

Elsie M. Harding Zimmerman.

P.S. Do you have any reference of a family history containing this family already compiled?

Dear Mrs. Rohwer:

Since our staff is very small, we are unable to undertake involved research on individual families. We do answer specific questions on a family line, such as checking a marriage record, or an abstract of a will. Of course, for this information we have to know the Kentucky county where the family lived, and the approximate dates.

Let me suggest that you get in touch with a professional genealogist to trace your line for you. I do not think that any historical, of genealogical, society will attempt the amount of work required by you.

I did check Josiah Williams in the 1790 census, but his name was not listed. In the 1800 census, there were two Josiah Williams given; one in Gallatin county, Ky. and the other in Woodford county. Neither of these counties are any where near the Tennessee border. So this is probably the wrong Josiah.

A professional genealogist may be able to take the records that you now have, and find some clue in them to open up the whole thing.

Sincerely,

Gentlemen:

Please advise, suggest or help me if you can, in my twenty-year search for my ancestor. I am a native of Kentucky, having been born near Fulton. I want to prove that I am a D. A. R. and I just want to trace my ancestry back to see who I am. I know I am Welsh, and a bit of Scotch and Irish too, but I want to know if I am of the Mayflower, as oldest kin say, yet other older kin say we are of Roger Williams. The R. W. Society wrote me they believed I was, but could not find the one name that might make me so, or prove I was.

I have written to all the plaes where I believed records would be kept of land grants, etc. near Fulton, such as Hickman, Ky., Union City, Tenn. and even Dreden but they have nothing they say, so I am simply lost as to where to gonext. Then decided to write you for perhaps some suggestion, if you PLEASE. Is the Colonial Dames in the State of Ky. an address of a book or a department? I almost addressed a letter to just that, in your city, then decided to write you.

My great grandfather Josiah Williams supposedly born 1779 (tho I believe he was born much earlier) went to Kentucky when it first began to be settled, perhaps 1770 to 1800, and he purchhased a large tract of land running east on the Kentucky side of thestate line between Ky. and Tenn. He took with him several hundred slaves. Some say he went from S. C., some say from Va. He had a sister Abigail who md a Cannon--William or Billy, and they had a dt. who md a Stark, John. They left Ky. after going there from S. C. and went into Ind. then Ill. where Billy and a son were killed by the Indians. The account was given in the "Youth's Advocate" in 1893. If I knew how to write to that publication, if it is still inexistance ∂-or where to write, I MIGHT learn more. However, I have copy of this account. Another sister Minerva md. a Clark--could possible a Stark, and they went to Ky. also. Some say Josiah my gt. gr father went fromS. C.also, others say Va. but if Icould find his land grants or purchases or wills, etc. surely they must be somewhere in Ky., then could have something to go on.

When I write to S. C. or Va. am always told that the records were burned. But the Ky. records were not. If you canhelp me, I shall be so grateful. Thank you, somuch.

Yours truly,
G. Vivian W. De Rohwer

Dear Sir: Re Williams Family (Wm. Williams the Signer)

From your query No. 55 in regard to the William Williams family, you must be a descendant. We have the Frank Willing Leach Manuscripts, in which he had traced the descendants of the signers. We may have your line in this but not knowing your name, cannot tell. If we do not have your line, we would like to have it in our files, as we want them to be as complete as possible.

From the Leach papers we find our dates slightly different from yours, as we have Solomon born, January 5, 1772; Faith born Sept. 29, 1775; and William Trumbull born Mar. 2, 1777.

Our records show William, the signer, bornAug. 2, 1811, was son of Rev. Solomon Williams, D.D. by wife Mary daughter of Samuel Porter, Rev. Solomon was born Hatfield, Mass., June 4, 1700, died Lebanon, Conn. 1769. Married Mary Porter, dau of Judge Samuel and Joanna (Cook) Porter. She was born at Hadley Mass., Nov.4, 1703.

Rev. Solomon was the son of Rev. William Williams, b. Newton, Mass.,, Feb. 2, 1665, d. Hatfield, Mass., Aug. 29, 1741. Wm. Married 1st Elizabeth Cotton, dau. of Rev. Seaborn and Dorothy (Bradstreet) Cotton. She was b. Hampton, N.H., Aug 13, 1665, d. Hatfield, Mass., Aug. 7, 1698. He married 2nd Aug. 9, 1699, Christian Stoddard, dau. of Rev. Solomon and Esther (Warham) Stoddard. She was born Northampton, Mass. Aug. 23, 1676, d. Hatfield, Mass. Apr. 23, 1764. Solomon was evidently by 2nd wife.

Rev. William was son of Robert Williams born in England, died Roxbury, Mass. Sept. 1, 1693. He married 1st in England Elizabeth Stratton. I have skipped a generation here and so I here straighten it out.

Rev. William was son of Isaac, born Roxbury Mass. Sept. 1, 1638, d. Newton Mass., Feb. 11, 1707-8. m.1st Martha Parke, dau of Deacon William and Martha (Holgrave) Parke, married 2nd Judith Cooper, born [illegible] died Newton, Mass. 1724, age 76. William was a son by first marriage.

Isaac was son of Robert Williams born in England , d. Roxbury, Mass. Sept. 1, 1693, m. 1st in England Elizabeth Stratton

E.C.G. #2
July 23, 1938

She died in Roxbury, Mass. 1764, age 80. Mr. Williams married 2nd, Nov. 3, 1695, Mrs. Margaret Fearing. Isaac of course was son by first marriage.

I hope the above will be of some assistance. Understand this material is taken from the Leach's manuscripts, and really the part he has put together from correspondence and other material. I have not gone into the correspondence to check his authorities.

As stated above we would be glad to have you send us your line to add to what we have.

Very truly yours,

Ludie J.Kinkead, Curator

Dear Mrs. Frakes:

Your letter of inquiry to the University of Louisville about James Williams has been referred to us. As our staff is small, we are unable to undertake detailed genealogical research but it is a pleasure to answer two or three specific questions if the information is easily available.

Your letter indicates that you are attempting to identify the ancestors of James Williams of Kentucky and Missouri. Have you looked in the latter state and consulted their records for some clues or facts?

I have consulted our Louisville Directories from 1832 to 1860 and there is no James Williams who is described as a music instructor. He could have lived outside of the city, however, and if this be the case, he would not appear in the City Directory.

It may be to your advantage to consult a professional genealogist and should you be interested in this service I suggest that you contact one of the following: Mrs. W.E. Satori, 317 Lotis Way, Louisville 7, Kentucky; Mrs. Charles E. Craik, 118 Oxford Place, Louisville 7, Kentucky.

There are legions of Williams in the 1790 and 1800 Kentucky Tax Lists. James Motley is the only representative of this surname, however, and he was in Montgomery County in 1800.

I would urge you to consult Missouri records before you commence the Kentucky part of the investigation.

Sincerely,

University of Louisville,
Louisville, Ky.

Gentlemen:

I am trying to trace my ancestors and learn that my grandfather James Williams was educated in Louisville in the late 1820's or early 1830's.

He studied and later taught music in and around Louisville.

He was born Jan. 27, 1809 some place in Kentucky. Moved to Missouri with his parents in 1818, but was sent back to Kentucky for his musical education.

In 1849 he married Eliza Motley and was living in Missouri in 1861, as (my father) his son, Samuel Edward was born there. And he also died there.

Do you have any record in the University of his having attended there and if not, is there other colleges there where he might have attended?

Thank you very kindly for any information you may be able to give me.

Sincerely yours

Mrs. Lola B. Frakes.

Dear Madame,

Do you have a book of the family of Daniel Boone? It is a family tradition that my 3 g grandmother, Rachel Williams, was a cousin of the famous pioneer and as I have been unable to find out anything else on her, I thought I would work on this "tradition" to see where it leads.

Rachel married a Mr. McDaniel and had several sons: Henry, born 1799 in Virginia; James E.; John L. md. Nancy Williams 1836 Owen Co., Ky; Edward W. Mr. McDaniel's father was James McDaniel and his mother Elizabeth Cross. This is all I have on this family.

If you have any information on a Williams connection to the Boone family, I would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Herbert J. Cox

Dear Mrs. Marshall:

When your letter came yesterday, I checked the two marriage returns for you. It is impossible to tell whether the hand writing of the two Edward Williams' signatures is the same. The signatures are similar but not identical.

The minister for the marriage of Charity Williams to John B. Curle was Hinson Hobbs.

I hope this will be of some help to you.

Dear Mrs. Cullen:

A year or so ago you helped me in my genealogical search by sending me a photo-copy of the marriage bond of my great-great-grandfather, Edward Williams. His signature on the bond was quite plain.

Now I am wondering if I could ask someone on your staff to compare this signature with that of an Edward Williams who acted as bondsman for the marriage of Charity Williams to John B. Curle ? If they appear to be made by the same man it would give me reason to presume that my Edward Williams might be related to Vincent Williams, the father of Charity.

The records on these two marriages are as follows:

Jefferson Co. Marriages Book 1, page 72

Charity Williams to John B. Curle father, Vincen Williams Febr. 25,1812
bondsman, Edward Williams
Hinson Hobbs
Minister
returned March 5,1812

Book 1, page 89

Edward Williams to Mary Vaughn dau. Mrs Nancy Vaughn June 11, 1813
bondsman, Alex Dugan ret. June 13, 1813.
by Wm. Kellar.

If the officiating minister's name is given on the first marriage, (as William Kellar is shown on my g.g.grandparents) it might be of some help to me too.

I would appreciate greatly any help that you might be able to give me. I enclose a stamped self addressed envelope for reply.

Most sincerely yours,

Mary Thomas Marshall

Dear Sirs!

I am trying to trace my ancestors. I have found my G. Grandfather Stephen C. Williams (born about 1824 in Ky.) in the 1850 Census in Livingston County. At least I believe he is the Correct Stephen C. Williams. I would like to find him in the 1860 Census to Connect him up with my Grandfather Daniel C. Williams who was born about april 1858 in Ky. I Checked the 1860 Census in Livingston and did not find him I looked in Crittenden County and did not find him and I was wondering if you had some one there that Could maby check your records for a fee? I will send you a Copy of the 1850 Census record:

House No.
	Livingston County	10th day of Sept. 1850			microfilm 376
741-741	1. Stephen Williams		26 m.	Caskeyin Tenn	born Ky.
	Rachel	"	25 f		Ky.
	Nancy	"	6 f		Ky.
	Mary A.	"	4 f		Ky.
	Martha	"	3 f		Ky.
	John R (?)	"	2 month male		Ky.
	John Williams		47 m		Ky
	Mary "		44 f		Ky

I don't Know if Caskeyin is suppose to be Carpenter or a Casket maker or something else Looks like John 47 and Mary 44 might be Stephens parents. I Checked back on the marriage records and I found a Polly Chappel that married John Williams in Hopkins County In 1823. I thought it Could of been the same John and Mary, ~~and~~ since the date is about a year befor Stephen C. Was born. I found D.C. Williams in the 1880 Census in Davis County. He had married Isabelle Jane Riggs and they were floating logs down river and cutting them on Green River. In 1882 they came to Texas where Daniel C. Williams' mothers brother Dan W. Hale was in Runnels County, Texas.

Stephen C. Williams married Rachel E.J. Hale 7 Dec. 1843 in Caldwell County. Her father was Robert H. Hale Preacher was N.J. Hale. John C. Williams ~~was in the~~ signs the marrage bond with Robert H. Hale and D.C. Williams. I wrote to Hopkins County for marriage license & bond but they said that back that early they only recorded them so there is no way to trace them back further up there? I would like to trace the family back to the Rev time if possible.

I hope you can help me. If you dont have any one to do Research there, maby you have some suggestions on where to look or some one to write to for more information. I appreciate your help very much.

Thank you Much

Dear Ms. Lawhon:

I am not able to help you with your inquiry concerning the Williams family. You have already checked what path that I would normally follow by doing a census search.

You have already checked the 1860 census for the counties you believe Stephen Williams should be in, and as this census is not indexed, I can not take the time to look at any other counties.

There are many books here on the WIlliams family, but cannot determine if any of these has to do with your branch. I will send you the name of professional researchers if you wish.

Sincerely,

Nettie Watson

The above information and that following on the family in Virginia was taken from These Are Mine, King's North Farhnam Parish Register and Marriages of Richmond County and a few other, miscellaneous, sources. These Are Mine was compiled and published by Miss Irene Williams in 1964. She advises that the outline of these first two generations lacks sufficient proof but seems logical from the bits and pieces of evidence available.

It seems likely that John[3] Williams, son of Henry[2], was the same man who is given below as the ancestor of the succeeding generations.

Dear Mrs. Zimmerman:

We have your letter of March 7 regarding information about a Basil Williams. We have found that a Basil Williams lived in Fleming County in 1800, and a Basil Williams lived in Franklin County at the same time. In 1790 a Basil Williams lived in Jefferson County.

The Fleming County Marriage Records show that a Bazel Williams married Nancy S. Likes, Aug. 1, 1816, and a Bazil Williams married Hulda Reeves, Mar. 15, 1812. A Bazil Williams left a will in Flaming County, probated April 5, 1819, naming his wife, Priscilla, and children, Bazil, Lawrence, Nancy, Cynthia, Priscilla, Delilah and Joseph. Evidently none of these are the Basil you are seeking.

The Jefferson County Marriage Records show that a Bazil Williams married Eve Coffman, daughter of Jacob, July 27, 1790. Is it possible that Basil William's wife was a Coffman, instead of his widow marrying a Coffman?

Another Bazil Williams married Elizabeth Reynolds, daughter of Charles, on January 15, 1809 in Jefferson County.

I am afraid none of this information will be of help to you. We would like to be able to do further research for you, but because of our small staff we cannot devote much time to genealogical research, and I would suggest that you have a professional genealogist go over all our records, including the census records from 1830 through 1880 which we have on microfilm for information on the children of Basil. If you care to do this you might write to Mrs. Charles A. Craik, 118 Oxford, Louisville, or Mrs. Harry P. Gorman, 2404 Woodbourne, Louisville, either of whom, I feel sure, would be glad to attend to it for you for a reasonable fee.

Sincerely,

Ellison Williams

The last Legislature of Kentucky directed that the remains of this old pioneer should be taken from Kenton county and deposited in the cemetery at Frankfort. This was done on Monday last. The remains were accompanied by John W. Menzies, Esq., and Preston Davis, a grandson of Mr. Williams.

We are indebted to the Commonwealth for the following sketch of the old pioneer's life.

Ellison Williams was born on the 19th day of April, 1766, in North Carolina, and was brought to Kentucky by his father in 1775. He was in the fort at Bryant's Station in 1782, when it was besieged by Girty and the Indians. He subsequently hunted with Daniel Boone in many excursions, and was a favorite companion of that distinguished pioneer. In 1785, he went into what is now Kenton county, and assisted in cutting out the first road that was made from the Ohio river, opposite Cincinnati, to Lexington and was frequently the escort and guide of strangers traveling from the former to the latter place. In 1786 he settled on Bank Lick, about eight miles from Covington, on what is now the Bank Lick turnpike road. He and his brother built the first house that was ever put up in Covington, near the mouth of Licking.

Ellison in Collins but Ellison in Cent. Kinship v.1.

During Wayne's campaign, which was terminated by his celebrated treaty, Mr. Williams had a contract to supply Wayne's army with venison and wild game, which contract he executed to the entire satisfaction of "Mad Anthony".

In 1845, when the State of Kentucky brought back from Missouri the remains of Daniel Boone, Mr. Williams came to Frankfort to take part in the ceremonies of the re-interment, and was one of the pall-bearers on that occasion. Afterwards, he expressed a strong desire to his friends that his remains should be brought to this place, and buried as near the grave of Daniel Boone as Kentucky would permit. He died on the 11th day of August, 1850, and in 1860 the Legislature made an appropriation to defray the expense, and directing that they should be so interred.

3-2-1860 See Collins Hist v.1

Mr. Williams resided sixty-five years in the neighborhood in which he died, and was always regarded as a true man, and one that scorned indirection in his intercourse with his neighbors. He was a good woodsman, a fearless man, and a true friend.

"This indenture made 25 March 1862 between Wm. Rodes, Commissioner appointed by order of Madison County Court to make this conveyance of the 1st part, and Patsy Williams, of the County of Madison, State of Kentucky, of the 2nd part, witnesseth that whereas pursuant to a judgment of the Madison Circuit Court rendered on the 24th of Dec. 1860 in the petition case, wherein Silas Hill, James Maupin and Thomas H. Barnes were plaintiffs and Joseph Williams defendant, the following described lands of Joseph Williams were ordered to be sold for benefit of plaintiffs and the said William Rodes, as Commissioner, sold the same at public auction on the premises on the 28th of February 1861 and the said Patsy, or Martha, Williams became the purchaser at the price of $755, which purchase money has been paid. Now, in consideration of these premises the said Commissioner hereby transfers and conveys unto the said Patsy Williams, widow of Abraham Williams, deceased, all the right, title and interest of the said Joseph Williams in and unto the following described parcels of land to wit: 100 A. lying in Madison Co. on the waters of Silver Creek, which was conveyed to said Joseph Williams by Fowler, and upon which said Joseph Williams' family resided at the time of the sale, and it is bounded as follows, to wit: beginning at a post, --------etc. -------- etc.

"Also the following land adjoining the above described tract, it being the land allotted to said Joseph Williams by Commissioner appointed to allot and divide the residue of the land of said Abraham Williams, deceased in the suit of Abraham Williams' heirs agreement Aletha Fowler, 1 parcel bounded, ----- etc. and also the right and interest of the said Joseph Williams in the 76 Acres of land which was allotted by said Commissioner to said Patsy (or Martha) Williams as her dower in the lands of her late husband Abraham Williams, and also on which the said Patsy has, and now resides, to have and to hold the said described parcels of land unto the said Patsy Williams, her heirs and assigns forever. By the fact the above land was on Clear Creek instead of Silver Creek, and by the James Williams name as witness (we did not seem to have James carried down in our family), — I am inclined to think the above land transaction was the other Abraham Williams. Williams

Massillon, Ohio
April 30, 1964

Dear Mrs. Swainson,

I was glad to receive your letter and the information on the Casey's was most helpfull.

Your Williams line has me "stomped" at the moment but I feel certain they tie in with my husbands line. I checked the James Williams will futher, maybe these names will mean something to you.

James Williams- dated 1/3/1818, Annapolis, Md., probated 4/1838- Coshocton County Will Book , pg. 79. Brothers, if living, William, and John Williams, sisters, Hannah Jane, Esther Green, Susannah, Nieces, Mary Pearce and Ann Lane. Nephews, Stephen Williams and Richard Pearce; niece Elizabeth, sister of my nephew Stephen. Exec. Nephew, James Williams

I wonder if your Hannah could be a daughter of John Williams, (brother of Col. Charles Williams). John was in the Revolution and is buried in Keene Twp. Coshocton County. I know nothing of this family but will check on them when I get to Coshocton.

Also from my "Ohio Pioneer" I found- Elijah Williams-born 1782, died April 3, 1847- Soldier of War 1812- buried in Harrod Cemetery, in Sec. 3, Auglaize Twp. Allen County. Came to Auglaize Twp. in 1835.

In Zanesville I copied a portion of a deed that I thought might interest you. Deed Book A., pg. 38--Slyanus Lawrence to Joseph Butler of Wacatomaka Territory, a part of the 3 rd. quarter of the 1st. Twp. in the 8th. Range of the United States land Northwest of the Ohio River ----consisted of 833 and 1/3 acres-------Recorded Oct. 22, 1802 Washington County, attested Dudley Woodbridge, Res.

I am probably bothering you with alot of useless facts but being so new at this I haven't learned yet just what is really important so I copy most everything that could be of interest.

They are starting a"Daughter of American Colonists"in Massillon and I have been asked to join. In your Butler manuscript you said that you were a member so perhaps you can help me. Did you go in on your Butler line? On the application it states -"the ancestor who assisted in establishing the foundation of Colonial America while acting in the capacity of _____. I don't know what to put in that blank. I could go in on my Carpenter line but I would rather use the Butlers. I hope I am not making a "pest" of myself but you have so much knowledge of the Butlers and I am very eager to learn all I can about them.

I have enclosed a couple of our lineage charts, they tell at a glance what it would take me pages to explain.

Well I must close and go to a P.T.A . meeting. Only five more weeks of school and then freedom for awhile.

Cordially,

Joyce Carpenter Fair

Piedmont, Calif. 94610
June 25, 1964

Dear Mrs. Fair:

I'm sorry to be delayed so long in answering your nice letter, and thanking you for the enclosures. Particularly because you asked about membership in DAC.

I used my De La Maitre line for DAC. It is one of my French families and I wanted it on the record. There are several other French lines which I had planned to send in as supplementals but haven't done so. I am a member of the Huguenot Society through the Rapalje family. All of these families qualify for supplementals.

Thomas Butler, Sr., would qualify for DAC. He was appointed constable in Lewis Stephen's District June 6, 1749. (Reference: Order Book 3, p. 84, Winchester, Virginia).

I do not want to raise your hopes too high, but I have reason to suspect that the Butler line goes back a few generations from Thomas. If you recall, the histories in Ohio claim that he was a "native" of Ireland, but not one record we have found states when he came to this country. I accepted him as the immigrant ancestor, sometimes with tongue in cheek, but now there is slight reason to believe he was the third or fourth generation. That he was of Irish descent is true. It will take some "doing" to clear this, but I understand that many records are available now that were not when I visited the various counties in Virginia.

One of my very bright Harrod relatives is an author, and has done much research in fields other than genealogical. We worked together a lot when I lived in Washington, D. C., and she finally became interested in family affairs. Any way, she has sent me a lot of Harrod material this past year, and we find a similar situation in that family that I believe exists in the Butler family. They were both Virginians, their migration was along the same route, though the Butlers went to Monongalia County, while the Harrods were in that part of Frederick Co., Va., which became Berkeley Co., W. Va. I wish so much that I could go back to Virginia and work on this family, but my health isn't too good and I never know when some miserable upset is coming.

You mentioned that my Hannah Williams may have been a daughter of John Williams who served in the Revolution. He would have been at least sixteen years old, and older than Col. Charles (b. 1764). If he served from Maryland- then Frederick County- I might be able to get something about him. I see on your chart that he died in 1833, Keene Twp, Coshocton Co. The best guess that I can make is that if he went into the service in 1776, he was probably eighteen years old, thus born about 1758. My Hannah was born in 1779, so she could have been his daughter. I note that Col. Charles named a son, John , and that he was born the same year as Hannah's XXXXXXXson, Robert-1805. Hannah's first son was John, b. 1802; married Eleanor Sanders July 7, 1831.

Two of Hannah Williams Henry's children married Harrods, and both moved to Allen Co. (Auglaize later), and both are buried in Fairmount Cemetary, the land was donated by one of the Harrods. So, I am not surprised to find Elijah Williams there. This Cemetary is quite laege and most of the persons buried there were Harrods and Fochts- one of the latter married a Williams girl, but I know nothing about them. She could h have been one of Elija's descendants- daughter or grand daughter.

Is it possible that Col. Charles Williams and Hannah were brother and sister? And, that their father was named John? Obviously Charles was not a Colonel in the Revolution- he was too young even for lesser rank.

Do you know the name of a town in Keene Twp, where John Williams might be buried? If so, dates from his tombstone might be available. I shall write to Coshocton for a Will, or Settlement, of his estate. He may have had a pension, but I would need to know the name of the state from which he served.

Indeed you are not " making a pest" of yourself. If there is anything I can do to help, I am always happy to do so. Just fill in the blank " Thomas Butler was appointed constable in Lewis Stephen's District June 6, 1749", and give the reference. The place was Frederick County, Virginia. He received an early grant of land— from Lord Fairfax, Jan. 6, 1752 (therefore a landowner so far as a Fairfax Grant could be considered ownership- Grantees sold their tracts. They were more like leases) Ref: Northern Neck Book "H", State Land Office, Richmond, Va.)

I found more on the Caseys- some notes are references. In Kerchival's History of the Valley, p. 74, Peter Casey had a son Benjamin; p. 80, a son of his was a friend of Chief Killbuck- see p. 91 also.

Isle of Wight Co., Va. Wills, 1647-1900 (looks like), by Chapman, 1938, Vol.2: pp. 62 and 315- John Harrison's estate was settled by Lawrence Baker, Thomas Hill, and Thomas White. Mentioned in will: Nicholas Casey and Thomas White who married two daughters of John Harrison, and Benjamin Hodges who married his"widow and relect", dated Aug. 25, 1732.

Isle of Wight Marriages, same author: p. 10, Nicholas Casey and Constant Harrison , dau. of John, m. 1732. Her name was taken from the Will Book 3, p. 318(she was married before her father died.).

Richard Casey and Jane Reynolds, dau. of Richard Reynolds, m. 1704 (Deed Book 2, p. 46).

p. 36, (Chapman, 1938), Joseph Meredith and Sarah Denson, dau. of Francis Denson, m. by 1708 (Will and Deed Books 2, p. 496). This was copied because of the name, Meredith. If I recall, the name shows in Coshocton or Knox Co. records, as does Harrison. Correction- the latter name was a given name, Harrison Henry Butler who m. Margaret Neller, in Coshocton Co., Marriages. There were Caseys and Harrisons in the Butler area in Monongalia Co., Va. (W. Va.) .

The above is another reason why I now believe that our Butler line had eary back-ground in Virginia, and that they migrated along with relatives and friends- the usual pattern of migration. It is an accepted fact among Historians that men who pioneered, as Thomas Butler did, were not "fresh out" of other countries... that they were men who had experience in meeting rough situations. Even Virginia had troubles in those days.

Butlers in the Shenandoah Valley were associated with : Hortons, Doughertys, Vance, Denton, Ashby, Huston, to name a few whose names are found in XXXXXXX other parts of Virginia— also along with Butlers.

With very best wishes,

Cordially,

Gentlemen,

I am seeking information on a Thomas C. Williams who served in Capt. Rhodes' Company, 4th Regiment, Kentucky Militia. I have enclosed a copy of an article giving the name of Thomas C. Williams. Can you advise me where I might find the service record or the proof that he was in the Kentucky Militia during the period of the War of 1812?

If you can assist me in any way please advise me of the cost of the search and photocopies of proof of his service, I will forward a check by return mail.

I am enclosing a self-addressed stamped-envelope for your reply.

Gentlemen:

I am indebted to Miss Kinceid and her assistant for a most delightful day spent in the Filson Club recently, while checking on your Logan County historical and genealogical material.

While at Russellville, I secured the loan of a most interesting pamphlet, which is out of print. Enclosed is a photostatic copy of same for your Logan County file. It is entitled "Place-Names of Logan County," by Margaret Barnes Stratton (Mrs. Clarence Stratton of Russellville). I understand she is contemplating a new edition soon.

From a genealogical standpoint, I am interested in the Williams family of Logan County, Kentucky and Robertson County, Tennessee. I am a grandson of Lucy Harriet Williams, born at Keysburg, Logan County, Kentucky, in 1836. Her father was Dr. George Augustin Williams, born in South Hampton County, Virginia, in 1804. He graduated from Medical School at Cincinnati in 1837 and practiced medicine at Keysburg and Old Volney in Logan County from 1837 to 1855 when he moved to Livingston County, Missouri (Chillicothe, Missouri), where he died in 1892. The father of George Augustin Williams was Ethelbert Carr Williams, who came to Robertson County, Tennessee, from Littleton, South Hampton County, Virginia, and settled at La Mont (formerly known as Black Jack), Robertson County, Tennessee in 1808. He was born in Virginia in 1779, was the son of Benjamin Williams, born in 1726, the son of Nicholas born in 1678, who was the son of Richard Williams, an original immigrant from Wales.

I am a life member of the Oklahoma Historical Society.

Respectfully,

Raymond A. Tolbert

Dear Mr. Williams:

In answer to your letter regarding James Williams who lived in Cumberland County, the only reference we have found in the short time we can allot to genealogical research is:

"Josiah Brown and Hiley Williams, married May 24, 1807"

This was copied from the Cumberland County Marriage Records published in The Filson Club History Quarterly, Vol. 11, p. 223.

Since to run this line back thoroughly would take quite a long time I would suggest that you employ a professional genealogist to do the work for you. If you wish to do this you could write either Mrs. Charles E. Craik, 118 Oxford, Louisville, or Mrs. Harry F. Gorman, 2404 Woodbourne, Louisville, either of whom, I feel sure, would be glad to take care of it for you for a reasonable fee.

Dear Mr. Meake:

I do not know whether you are writing about Gen. Samuel Lutrelle Williams for a thesis or to publish, but we have a pamphlet In Memoriam: Remarks on the Life and Character of General Samuel L. Williams, by his nephew, John Augustus Williams of Daughters College, Ky., delivered before the Church of Christ, at Somerset, Montgomery Co., on the 20th of October 1872, and published by the request of Many Brethren. Cincinnati, Robert Clarke & Co., 1872.

I am sorry we cannot lend this to you, but as we have a Library of Congresscard for this book, I imagine they have it and through your library you might be able to borrow it, or you might get a microfilm copy of it. I imagine your library has a reading machine so that you can read the microfilm there.

I can find very little about in print. him In a biographical sketch of John Stuart Williams in The Lawyers and Lawmakers of Kentucky by H. Levin, it is stated "Samuel L. Williams the General's father, was born in Virginia, was a captain in the war of 1812, and took part in the battle of the river Raisin. He served in the house and senate of the state legislature for twenty-two years and was a general in the state militia. He married Fanny Eluke, a representative of a prominent old Virginia family that came to Kentucky in its pioneer days." In the Register of the Kentucky Historical Society Vol. 2, No. 5, p. 57 the wife is given as Fanny Cluke, and the marriage as in 1811.

This article on the "Williams and Hutchcraft Genealogy and History by H.D.Hutchcraft of Louisvilld, in the Register states he was born in Culpeper County, Va., Oct. 31, 1781. "After winning laurels in the War of 1812, he served in the Kentcky Legislature, first in the House of Representatives from 1814 to 1818, then in the Senate from 1820-24, 28-32-40-44. Many incidents illustrqtive of his prowess are told of him during the scenes of the second war with England. He fought at Raisin and Fort Malden. On one occasion, at the head of a detachment, having discovered the enemy in a strong inclosure, he rushed forward alone, regardlessof their superior number and their position, and tearing away the palisades, leaped in at the breach, exclaiming, 'Come on my men!' sublimely courageous toward the foe, and sublimely trustful in the courage of his men.

"While in the Legislature, Henry Clay was proud to call him ~~friend~~ friend. One spot he called home for eighty years." ...

"In 1811 he married Miss Fannie Cluke. Twelve children were the result of this union". (The children are named)

"Portraits in oil, by Marshall, painted in 1824, of General Samuel L. Williams and wife are treasured possessions of Judge R.W. Hutchcraft, oldest son of their eldest child Eliza Ann."

Mrs. Stuart Hunter, Versailles, Ky., is a descendant and may be able to give you some assistance or suggest some one who can.

As you see we are not able to answer your questions but I hope the above will be of some service.

Very truly yours,

Ludie J.Kinkead, Curator

Dear Sir:

I am writing in regards to finding out something about Gen. Samuel Lutrelle Williams of Kentucky who fought in the War of 1812 in the Battles of Malden and River Raisin. He was later a member of the Kentucky Legislature for many years. He is the father of Gen John S. Williams of Paris who fought in the War with Mexico and also was in the Confederate army.

Would appreciate if you could give me the answers to the following questions. Just write the answers on this letter & return to me.

1. What was his military experience?

Dear Ms. Oliver:

I want to thank you for discovering which, undoubtly, is the family of my grandfather. This information seems to fit with what little I knew of the paternal side of my family.

According to the marriage information, however, when Lafayett Williams married Josephene Dyer on 10 October 1874, he must have been 34 or 35 years of age rather than 24. The recorder could have been in error.

In the 1880 census, Josephene is listed at 26 years of age, which would relate to her age of 21 at the time of her marriage in 1874. John Henry Williams is recorded to be 12 years of age in the 1880 census. Therefore my grandfather must have been married before.

I am unsure where the Reverend J.J.W. Mathis was born. Probably he simply served churches in that area of Kentucky. He also apparently spent several years in Mississippi. He married a maternal relative of mine, Hattie Bloomfield, who lived along the Louisiana or Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Again let me thank you for being so helpful.

Sincerely,

Robert Mathis

Dear Mr. Mathis:

I have taken another look at your request, and believe this time, I have been a little more successful.

After having no luck in finding James LaFayette Williams in Hardin Co., I looked at the neighborhing county of LaRue and find in the 1880 census in the Buffalo magisterial district, Lafe Williams, 39, farmer and minister, with wife Jospehine 26, born in Ky., children: John Henry 12, Mary Jane 4, Linsey 2 and James L. 2 months old. William Douglas your father who was born in 1883 would not have been born yet.

In the Larue County marriages I see where Lafayette Williams married Jospehine Dyer, 10 Oct. 1874. He being a preacher and born in Illinois. He was 24 and Josephine was 21. (I enclose a copy).

Also I enclose a copy of the 1850 census of LaRue Co. where a John H. Wiliams 42 and his wife Mary E., 33. In the household is Lafayette William 11 years old son born in Illinois.

I have not been able to locate a J.J. W. Mathis in the 1900 census. Do you know any more about him that could help.

I do hope this will be helpful to you.

I am not able to find any mention of a James LaFayette Williams in our sources with the time that has been allowed to me.

I have searched through the 1860 census for Williams in Hardin Co. and also in 1880.

You have not given me the name of your father. This may help. Any other clues you may be able to supply may help. How do you know about descendants possibly living in Louisville. Please fill me in. I'll take another look.

A guardianship record may be filed in the Hardin Co. Courthouse for 1883. This may be worth your checking.

As I indicated to you in an earlier letter I am trying to obtain information regarding my grandfather and his family.

The scanty knowledge of him comes from army records. In 1861 he enlisted in the Union Army, Company A, 5th Kentucky Cavalry. He was discharged as a corporal at the war's end.

My father was born in the month of December, 1883 in Elizabethtown. Therefore I assume the family had lived in that area for some time. Apparently my grandfather died shortly after my father's birth, and he was raised by a Reverend Mathis and assumed his name.

I am quite sure some of the descendants of this family now live in the Louisville area. Any information you can provide will be greatly appreciated.

Dear Sirs/Madam:

I was recently at the Brown-Pusey House in Elizabethtown searching for records of my grandfather, James Lafayette Williams and his family. The resident geneologist said your organization might be of assistance.

I have some sketchy information regarding his military service during the Civil War. He served in Company A 5th Volunteer Kentucky Cavalry. Before or possibly at some time following the War he lived in or around Elizabethtown. The date of his death was some time around 1883.

If you can be of some assistance in providing information pertaining to him or his family, it would be greatly appreciated.

Dear Ms. Oliver:

Thank you for your continued efforts to trace records relating to my grandfather, James Lafayette Williams.

This further information may be of some assistance: My father's name is William Douglas Mathis. As indicated in our earlier correspondence, he was born in Elizabethtown on December 26, 1883. Following my grandfather's death, my father was adopted by the Reverend J.J.W. Mathis, a Baptist minister, and long-time friend of my grandfather's.

My father had several brothers and sisters. Some seem to have settled in Louisville, and became prominent. Their descendants would still bear the Williams name.

I'm unsure I can furnish any further information, but please write me if I've left any unanswered questions.

Enclosed please find my check for $18.00 for an annual Payment Membership. I am trying to locate any information concerning Lemuel Bartlett WILLIAMS. I was told that Dudley WILLIAMS that married Betsey RASCOE, 12 November, 1805 in Christian County, was his father but nothing to substantiate it. I need birth records of L. B. WILLIAMS; he married Attra (Attrey) LEWIS, daughter of Robert LEWIS and Elizabeth MORRIS (dau of Leonard MORRIS). L. B. was born 20 Sept. 1810 in Ky; he married 30 May, 1832 (have marriage license) but on the marriage license; Attra was a TURBEVELLE but can't locate a marriage license for them. I can't locate death certificates of LEWIS, TURBEVILLE, or MORRIS. Have will of Robert LEWIS probated in 1846. (Attrey is listed as a WILLIAMS on will) L. B. WILLIAMS moved to Missouri and then to Kansas.

I would appreciate any help and will follow any leads that you may have. I had a Mrs. Mason search for me in Christian County, Ky., but she found nothing that I haven't received from other sources.

Mrs. Spurgeon:

Ourmembership records secretary has turned over to us your inquiry about Lemuel Williams.

We are not able to help you very much.

The state of Kentucky did not require birth and death registrations except during 1852-1862 and 1911 to date. Therefore death certificates will not be available and you must depend on family bibles, cemetery records, or probated wills to give or indicate death dates.

We have an abstract of Robert Lewis's will probated Nov. 1846 in Christian Co., butaaaa copy does not show Attry Williams among his daughters, and I do not see any other connecting names. I have not seen Lemuel Williams except in the 1832 marriages.

In the Christian Co. marriages I see ahht James Turbeville m. Eliz Clark, license dtd 24 Feb. 1813. James' will was probated in Hopkins Co. in 1821 - see photocopy enclosed. I see that David C. Turbeville m. Jane Johnson in Hopkins Co. 14 Jan. 1842.

This doesn't move you forward in your search, but I hope something will tie together.

Three members of a Williams family came from KY to MO in pioneer times. The brothers settled in Stoddard County on Crowley Ridge. Thomas, the oldest of the 3 brothers, was born in VA. Abner married in late 1850 to Elizabeth Dowdy. He had cleared only a few acres when he died in 1855 leaving 2 small boys. The other brother, John N. Williams, born in Hopkins Co. KY, 1826. This family of Williams have been identified with this part of MO since 1842, when John Williams came as a young man to find his fortune in a newcountry. He remained at home in KY until his father's death and then came to Stoddard Co., locating 5 miles north of Bernie. He was already a married man, at the age of 17 years, having been united to a young neighbor girl, Edie Wiggs.

18 Apr 1991, Betty Darnell to Edna Williams
From the 1850 Stoddard Co. census, it looks like the Williams moved to MO about 1848. With that in mind, I checked the 1847-1850 tax lists. Nothing conclusive there. I was hoping to find a widow in the 1850 Hopkins Co. census, but no such luck.
With Samuel having land in Hopkins Co. and in Christian Co., I decided to explore Christian Co. I believe the Thomas Williams in the 1840 census is the Thomas Williams in the 1850 Stoddard Co. census -the ages of the kids match.
In the 1820 Christian Co. census, either Dudley or Richard could be the father of Thomas, Abner, and John. Neither Dudley or Richard are in the 1810 census. However, there is a Dudley and a buch of Richards int he 1810 VA census index (copy enclosed). Remember that Thomas stated in the 1850 census thate he was born about 1813 in VA, abner about 1818 in KY. The Christian Co. histories pretty well establish that Samuel is not the father of Thomas, John, and Abner.
The exciting one was the Christian Co. marriage record for Thomas. The next time I'm at Frankfort, I'll check the record (on microfilm) to see if I can figure out what her name actually was. Her last name tallies with the Mary Hagan in the 1850 census. (Hagan is probably the correct name).

Abner married in 1850; Matthew b. 1851; Abner d. 1855. His wife Elizabeth Dowdy (b. 1831) married twice more; had 2 children by Isaac Shelby; he was killed, then she married Wm. I'd like to explore statewide records to see if I can track Richard - that might lead to something. That 1843 Hopkins Co. tax list really has me puzzled. That acreage isn't given in the 1842 or 1844 tax list, or in deeds. And where was Richard in the 1840 census?

I'm a member of the Christian Co. Genea. Soc. and am placing a query on your Williams. Maybe I'll get a response.

14 Oct 1991, Betty Darnell to Edna Williams.

Have you talked with all your cousins, descendants of Abner, John, & Thomas, to see if anyone has any family papers or a bible or a photo album? When did Thomas die? There are some early vital statistics in the county clerk office in Stoddard Co. If he died during that time frame, that record might give his place of birth. Can you check that?

Dear Mrs. Ringhofer:

We cannot undertake the task of doing extensive searching, but have taken the time to look up a few things for you.

First of all I have checked in Spencer's History of Kentucky Baptist and do not find a mention of a Stephen Williams.

In checking in some of the early indexes to the Federal Census for Kentucky, I find the following Stephen Williams living in various counties: In 1800, I find a Stephen William in Christian, and one in Muhlenberg Counties in Kentucky. In 1810, I find a Stephen Williams in Ohio Co. living in Hartford, and no doubt the right one. In 1820, Stephen is still in Ohio, but by 1830, I only see a Stephen in Garrard, Union and one in Christian counties in Kentucky. In 1840, only one Stephen appears in Christian County.

I hope this will help you in some way.

Sincerely,

Nettie Oliver

Dear Mrs. Hilbert:

I have received your request and have spent some time searching, but am not able to tell you very much.

Unfortunately we have so little on Clinton Co. other than the census records. I do see where in 1850, Harmon Wynn 76 years old is living in the household of John Sandusky, and his daughter Asena

Clinton County was created out of Wayne co. in 1835, so have looked at what records we have for Wayne co., and find in Wayne Co. Wills the will of Harmon Winn, written 25 May 184449 and probated in Jan. Court of 1852. (states he was from Clinton Co.). It names grandsons David Calhoon, and Alford M. Winn, grandchildren Angeletta and Jenetha Kidwell, sons Jesiah Kealey, F.L. Harmon and John A. Harmon. Son-in-law John Sandusky and daughter Mary A. Winn.

In Wayne County, Kentucky Marriages and Vital Records 1800-1860 there is a pension application for a Isaac Crabtree, and an affidavit is made in Clinton Co. on March 7, 1844 by Harmon Wynn, who states he was well acquainted with Abraham and Isaac Crabtree. The brothers formally lived in Washington Co. Virginia about 25 miles from himself.

John Sandusky married Asenath Wynn 11 May 1833 in Wayne Co. Ky. Also in Wayne Co. a Sally Wynn married a Silas Kidwell 31 May 1830.

Hope this will be helpful in your search.

Sincerely,

Nettie Oliver

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am descended from the STRONG and WILLIAMS families from Cumberland Co., Ky. Inasmuch as I am unable to come there at present to do research in person, I wonder if you would help me in the following ways?

In one of your publications, you have the marriage of my direct line ancestors, Elizabeth (Betsey) WILLIAMS and John STRONG, on 13 Oct 1808. I would like copies, if at all possible, of all the other marriages of these two surnames from this article, as they would most likely be brothers, sisters, or cousins of the above. The article is titled Record of Marriage Returns on Cumberland County, Kentucky, 1799-1817, and is found in the Filson Club History Quarterly, Vol 11, 1937, page 218+

I have reason to believe that her father is Hardin WILLIAMS. He was aged 45+ in the 1810 census, and was alive in 1816. Would you be so kind as to check the probate records from 1816 on and send me copies of whatever you might find that would be useful. Betsey could be listed as Elizabeth or Betsey ROSE if the will was after April, 1820, when John STRONG died.

Also, would you please check land records that list him either as grantor or grantee, and send me copies of what you find.

Enclosed is a donation for $15 to reimburse you for your services. If the cost comes to more than this, please let me know so I can send it to you. If it would be very much more, please advise me before you perform the service.

Yours truly,

G. R. Gibbons

Dear Mr. Gibbons:

I have been able to find some of the information you are seeking. I have numbered the enclosures so I can list the information in order.

1. This is from Vol. 11 of The Filson Club History Quarterly. There are other Williams marriages listed but I don't believe any are sisters or brothers of Betsey. You will note on the first page of this article there is information about a fire that destroyed many Cumberland County records.

2. John Strong's will abstract (1820).

3. Information from the Hardin Williams Bible listing birth dates for Williams, his wife, and all their children. After reading these records, I concluded that none of the other Williams in the marriage records could be Betsey's brothers and sisters. Their marriages, if they were in Cumberland County, would have been later and probably in the group that burned.

4. Cumberland County History records: 1st section - early land grants; 2nd section - Revolutionary War pension information.

5. Cumberland County deed records.

6. Microfilm copy of pension application for Hardin Williams. There is good genealogical information here, including the married names of his daughters.

I also looked in various other places including our family files. In our Williams family file, I found only one letter about the right Williams family. In 1955 we received a request asking if we had information on a Hardin Williams in Cumberland County Kentucky. The letter was from a D. C. Williams, Box 412, Oblong, Illinois 62449. I realize that this was written a long time ago, but it might be possible to trace this person, especially if Oblong Illinois is a small town.

I hope this proves helpful. If I can help further, let me know.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Michael C. Frederick

Dear Mr. Williams:

In answer to your letter regarding James Williams who lived in Cumberland County, the only reference we have found in the short time we can allot to genealogical research is:

"Josiah Brown and Riley Williams, married May 24, 1807"

This was copied from the Cumberland County Marriage Records published in The Filson Club History Quarterly, Vol. 11, p. 223.

Since to run this line back thoroughly would take quite a long time I would suggest that you employ a professional genealogist to do the work for you. If you wish to do this you could write either Mrs. Charles E. Craik, 118 Oxford, Louisville, or Mrs. Harry P. Gorman, 2404 Woodbourne, Louisville, either of whom, I feel sure, would be glad to take care of it for you for a reasonable fee.

Sincerely,

MAR [illegible]

Dear Librarian:

One James Williams lived in Cumberland Co Ky., from an early date, 1802 until 1838 when he went to Hempstead Co. Ark. He was a soldier of the Revolutionary War and in War of 1812. He is believed to have been the father of Highly Williams, who in 1807 married Josiah Brown in Cumberland County. (See Wells' History of Cumberland County), and of James Williams, who married 1808? Esther Jones of Overton Co. Tenn.

If your files contain any reference to these Williams - Brown people, or Hardin Williams of the same county, please let me know.

Very truly yours,
D. C. Williams

OBITUARY.

Died, at the residence of his uncle, C. D. Hamilton, near Grand Gulf, Miss., on the 10th of March, of typhoid fever, W. Irvine Williams, fourth son of W. K. Williams, aged 23 years and 10 days.

We are induced by no ordinary feeling to offer this accustomed tribute of respect to departed worth, for the virtues of the deceased while living have left a memorial in the memory of all who knew him. He was kind and gentle in his manners, affectionate and forgiving in his disposition, open and declared in his friendships; his untimely sorrow had secured him a polished education. He finished his academic course at the Kentucky Military Institute in 1852; since then his attention has been diverted to the study of the law. He graduated at the Tougaloo Law State and National Law School, and had just received his license to practice his profession when God in his all-wise providence chose to remove him. The untimely death of one in the prime of early manhood, so robust and strong, reminds us that in life we are in the midst of death. This, as it were, but yesterday the subject of this notice was with us in the full enjoyment of health, a model of manly strength, to-day he lies before us a cold, lifeless corpse—that bright eye is dimmed, that intellectual expression is gone, that manly frame is fallen. Alas! he sleeps the sleep of death.

DIED,

On the 18th inst., at 3¼ o'clock P. M., Mrs. HANNAH WILLIAMS, aged 68 years, relict of the late Daniel Williams. She was a native of England and had resided in this city over 50 years. She was greatly esteemed by her numerous friends, and none knew her but to respect and love her.

The funeral will take place from her late residence on the west side of Fifth street between Chestnut and Broadway, this (Thursday) afternoon at 4 o'clock P. M. Her friends and those of the family are invited to attend.

☞ The death of Mrs. Hannah Williams is announced under the obituary head. Mrs. W. came to this city a half century ago, when it was comparatively a wilderness. She experienced all the privations and dangers of a border life. It required then as many months as it now does days to reach the Atlantic cities. Mrs. Williams was highly esteemed. Peace to her ashes.

From a wound received in the trenches, near New Hope Church, May 30, 1864, Col. A. C. RILEY, 1st Missouri Infantry, aged 27 years. His body was conveyed to Atlanta for burial.

At a meeting of the society of Alumni of the Kentucky Military Institute on the 11th June, 1856, the following resolutions were presented and adopted.

IRVIN WILLIAMS, a member of this society, having departed this life since the last annual meeting, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the society do tender to the relatives of the deceased their heartfelt condolence upon their bereavement.

Resolved, That the deceased, while a cadet at the Institute, discharged his duties as an officer and a student so faithfully and fairly as to win the approbation and respect of the professors and his fellow-cadets.

Resolved, That in the death of the deceased our Alma Mater has lost one of her brightest ornaments.

Resolved, That as members of the society of Alumni we deeply deplore the loss of our brother at a period when his age, acquirements, integrity, and ambition were opening to him the enjoyment of the world's prospects for usefulness to friends and country; that we miss his voice so cheering to us at our annual meetings, and while we bow in submission to the Almighty fiat in taking him from us, we may be permitted to mourn our loss.

On motion it was resolved that the foregoing resolutions be published in the Frankfort Commonwealth and a copy sent to the relatives of the deceased.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, on the 26th March last, at his residence, "Highland Home," Claiborn county, Miss., C. D. HAMILTON, in the 56th year of his age.

Mr. HAMILTON was born in Hinds county, Miss, and after acquiring a liberal education, turned his attention to the business of planting, at which he was eminently successful. Although not a politician, he had great influence with the people of his district by virtue of his more than ordinary intelligence and good judgment. During the exciting times of calling conventions to vote the Southern States out of the Union, and in all probability make an open rupture with the Government, he counselled moderation and forbearance, telling the people that they had better bear the ills complained of than to flee to those they knew not of. Seeing the end from the beginning, he pleaded for rights under the laws, that if they had to be determined by the sword there were no hopes in the future that slavery could be maintained. In the progress of the rebellion the views he held became so obnoxious that he ceased to express them, and was called on for material aid in the cause of the revolution, to which he contributed with a liberal hand, fitting out one entire regiment at a cost of $25,000. The conflict terminated as he predicted it would, in the utter overthrow of slavery. His estimate of his loss in slaves, cotton, sugar, &c., exceeded one million dollars. Yet a more important struggle with him has now ended, having yielded up his life with the satisfied consciousness that he did what he could to divert so terrible a calamity from being inflicted upon his fellow-citizens of the South and in the full assurance of a religious faith (having long been a member of the Baptist church) that he would meet his Maker in peace. He leaves quite a large and interesting family (he married a Miss Belknap, daughter of M. B. and P. L. Belknap, and sister of W. B. and M. L. Belknap, of this city), and one sister (wife of W. C. Williams, Esq., of Jefferson county), besides a large circle of other relatives and friends to mourn his loss. A good man, a kind husband and father, and a useful citizen has passed away in the death of C. D. HAMILTON.

Requiescat in pace!

Apply it freely to the part affected; leave it on for an hour; afterward cover the plasters with tar; remove in a few days, and if protuberances appear in the wound apply the plaster and tar alternately until they all disappear, after which apply any healing salve.

MEMORANDUM OF ADDRESS DELIVERED BY NOAH C. BAINUM / T THE DEDICATION OF THE D. A. R. MARKER AT THE GRAVE OF EDWARD WILLIAMS, OHIO COUNTY, KENTUCKY, AUGUST 17th, 1930.

One Hundred Twenty-Three years, when marked by the events of men is a long period of time, and when the progress of the United States of America, is measured by One Hundred Twenty-Three years it includes the History of its greatest advancement.

One Hundred Twenty-Three years when applied to the History of Edward Williams the subject of this address, is readily distinguished and appreciated since One Hundred Twenty-Three years ago he came to this site, to this farm upon which we now stand from across the Green River, from Mahlenberg County, Kentucky, and established his home here, which had been selected by him, no doubt, for its beauty and its commanding position.

And when he viewed its natural setting and knew it was to be his permanent home I can imagine he was imbued with the thought of the poet who said:

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said;
This is my own, my native land,
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turn'd,
From wandering on a foreign strand.

Here he brought with him Betsy Ross, his wife, and the children who had up to that time been born to them. His coming was significant. He was born in Wales about 1760, the exact date being unknown to his family. He came to the State of Maryland with his mother, ~~this is doubtful~~, and perhaps with other members of his family. He came at the beginning of that stirring period of the Country preceding the announcement of the Revolutionary War. He was here at the age of sixteen years, when the thirteen colonies determined to wage a War for Independence upon Great Brittain. Like other young men he had come to the new-found land for the purpose of establishing a home in what was known as the Free Country.

enlisted with others in the War of the Revolution. His enlistment is dated March 7th, 1776 in the Sixth [illegible] Maryland Company from Chester County. The Captain of this [illegible] Thomas Woolford. The date of the time when he was mustered out of service, so far, has not been ascertained but it is presumed that he served during the entire war, since immediately after his discharge he was married to Betsy Ross, not the Betsy Ross who made the first flag of the United States, but for all we know she might have been a near relative. After his marriage to Betsy Ross he started westward with others of his family of his disposition and inclination and lived for a short period of time in the State of Virginia, then moved on into Kentucky. ~~It is known that in first settled in Nelson County. Come to see that he received land, presumably granted from his services as a Revolutionary soldier. The date he arrived in Nelson County is not definitely ascertained, however, it is presumed that~~ He lived in Nelson Co. or Virginia as early as Fifteen Hundred since his grandson Isaac Williams was born in Nelson County in Fifteen Hundred [illegible] ~~From Nelson County, Kentucky, he~~ moved to [illegible] County, ~~and then to~~ Mecklenburg County and as stated above, to the site thereon the [illegible] are being held and we are reminded, on account of the nature of the situation, of that Biblical injunction "Take off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou stands is Holy Ground."

The story is, that his service in the Revolutionary War was that of a drummer, entering the War at the early age of thirteen, he was appointed to this duty. How long he continued in that capacity we do not know. There is a story in the family that while he was in camp his Mother desiring to visit him proceeded to the [illegible] upon a spirited horse and a young officer being in need of a horse, at once seized it and endeavored to take the animal from the rider but the mother of Edward Williams, appreciating the [illegible] needing the horse herself at once took hold of the young officer by the back of his neck and the seat of his pants and threw him into a pool of water. No doubt, young Williams, receiving the spirit of his mother, gave him those elements which were necessary to make a strong and fearless soldier.

He was one of the early settlers and reared a large family.

We are told that he was the father of eleven children: Stephen, Edward, Even, John, Philip, James W., Sallie, Nancy, Betsy, Keren and Polly.

Those descendants of Edward Williams who are largely responsible for the stone just unveiled are the posterity of Stephen Williams, the oldest son of Edward Williams. Stephan Williams and his family removed to White County, Illinois, from this neighborhood in 1821. We can imagine the condition of the country at that time. No railroads, no bridges, a few ferries across the rivers and a district sparcely settled and inhabited by wild animals of various kinds. It was necessary for the family to remove to Illinois in Wagons. Quite likely these wagons were drawn by Ox teams. They traveled Southwestward through Kentucky and crossed the Ohio river to Illinois, at the old town of Shawneetown. ~~There was a purpose in crossing the river at Shawneetown~~ There was a purpose in crossing the river at Shawneetown since at this place was located the United States land office. Here some members of the family entered land and then they traveled almost due north fifty miles to ten miles north of the present city of Carmi, Illinois in White County. Stephan Williams with his family here established a home and acquired a considerable amount of land and reared his family. Among his sons was Thomas Williams who married Susan Ralls, a native of Logan County, Kentucky. Two daughters of that marriage, Miss Laura Williams and Mrs. Noah C. Bainum, are here attending these exercises and they are the donors of the monument which has been erected to the memory of their Great-Grandfather.

Robert M. Williams, a grandson of Thomas Williams and a great-great-grandson of Edward Williams is also here with his wife. Edward Williams a grandson, is also here. He now and has ever lived upon this farm. He inherited it from his father James W., who inherited from his father, the Revolutionary Soldier.

Magdie Williams who unveiled the stone was reared upon this land and is a great-granddaughter of Edward Williams. And here among this vast assembly are other descendants too numerous for the speaker to speak of, not being sufficiently well acquainted with them to do so with accuracy. There are here children and grandchildren of the present Edward Williams and descendants of other children of the Revolutionary soldier.

This occasion would not be complete were it not for the Patriotic services of the Fort Hartford Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, under whose auspices, these ceremonies are being held. They give to the situation an official recognition. These members of the Fort Hartford Chapter ~~of the Daughters~~ of the American Revolution are likewise descendants of Revolutionary Soldiers. They belong to a patriotic organization which has grown to be one of the effective institutions of the land. Their influence is now felt in every State, in every community and they are performing a patriotic service in commemorating the memory and deeds of Revolutionary Soldiers wherever they are buried. They come from the highest type of American Citizens.

It is not necessary that a Revolutionary Soldier should have been a general, a colonel or captain, or ~~a~~ another commissioned officer to have left a rich heritage, ~~to his family~~. The very fact that he was attached to that conflict and did his duty leaves ~~to his family~~ a sufficient heritage. ~~The~~ His family and other may be proud to commemorate his memory by erecting at his grave a suitable memorial as members of that family have done ~~upon this occasion~~, but which could not have been properly done without the assistance of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The spirit of the Revolution is with them. It inspires them with the love of a Patriotic duty which is a sufficient compensation for any and all efforts they may make here and elsewhere in order that a fitting recognition may be given and the graves of deserted Revolutionary soldiers be properly and sufficiently marked.

While Edward Williams enlisted in the service as a mere boy in years, he did his part along with Washington, Hamilton, Randall, Putnam, Starke, Marion and others, to maintain the Declaration of Independence, that all men are and ought to be free and independent, which Independence he endeavored to establish upon a permanent and firm foundation in the way of an Independent Government. He did not know at the time he entered the Service what that Government might be called or what it would finally consist of, but out of his service and the service of others similarly situated, came the United States of America and its emblem the Stars and Stripes, created and designed by the original Betsy Ross. Not the Betsy, however, who became the wife of Edward Williams. The Betsy who bore the name of Edward Williams, shared with him the honors of his conquests, for with him she came across the mountains where Boone was known, where Kenton lived and where General Logan fought with the Indians and where numerous soldiers of Lafayette were laying their land warrants and establishing home for themselves and their families. Where George Rogers Clarke had come from Virginia with his Virginia riflemen. Here in this young territory he was joined by Kentucky riflemen and with an army of about three hundred Virginians and Kentuckians he set out upon that expedition, down the Ohio River, past the Falls of Ohio and on to Fort Massack then across Southern Illinois to old Kaskaskia, which surrendered to him and then through the swamps and wooded country to Vincennes, which likewise surrendered to him, and there he planted the flag of the American Revolution and secured to the Country and the coming new Government of the United States of America an empire known as the North West Territory. Many of his own ancestors and relatives in that conflict and the speaker without claiming any distinction, here states, as a matter of information, that in that expedition he had a Great-Great Uncle, whose name was Lieutenant James Montgomery, and after the conflict was had for the purpose of creating a new Republic, he came the Edward Williams came, to this Commonwealth and established his home and lived in and around the South and western part of the State.

The History of the Commonwealth of Kentucky is a history of loyalty and great deeds. From Virginia and the country beyond the Alleghenies came the Clays', the Marshalls', the Lincolns', the Logans' the Daviess', the Montgomerys' and thousands of other Patriotic men, with their families who opened here a new territory which was a part of Virginia, and became a part of the Union as a State in 1792 and has ever occupied an enviable position in the sisterhood of States. To recount her great deeds and accomplishments would be to detail the history of conquest and of peace, of blood and savagery, of constitutional loyalty by and through the high patriotism of her common citizens who in her supreme test put the Federal Constitution above all other laws and by their efforts and patriotic sacrifices sustained the Constitution which had been established after the Revolutionary War.

And in this connection it might be said that Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis were both native sons of this Commonwealth. Two monuments mark their memories. That of Lincoln in the Rotunda of the new State Capitol Building at Frankfort and that of Jefferson Davis in a towering shaft at Fairview in Todd County, Kentucky. However, the greatest monument of all, and the one cherished by the Revolutionary Soldier and his descendants is loyalty to the Federal Government which Edward Williams and his kind gave their best manhood to establish and his posterity to maintain.

It is fitting therefore that the descendants of Edward Williams should assemble upon this occasion in connection with this Patriotic Society and here erect to his memory and to his accomplishments this simple stone, a mark of love and esteem; that the passerby may gaze thereon and stop and read, and maybe what he will see will inspire him to a deeper and more convincing appreciation of the hardships of the Common Revolutionary Soldier and the patriotic duty that he performed. That those who come after him may inherit the promise, that promise was the accomplishment and the establishment of a new Republic. That those of us who wish might could come and drink from the fountain of an everlasting liberty.

No one can count the cost of the establishment of a Government of this kind, but its story is beautiful, however it may be written and whatever the hardship, and sometimes I wonder if we appreciate all that has been done, all the sacrifices that have been endured for the purpose of giving here to us this great heritage which we have received through the efforts of the ordinary American Revolutionary soldier.

God has ordained that some of the posterity of Edward Williams might assemble here upon this occassion, upon these hills, and near this beautiful river and here with the descendants of his neighbors among whom, no doubt, there is Revolutionary blood, and here to establish this monument as a lasting memorial and a mark of reverence for a duty well done and a life well spent, a character great in simplicity. A life which represented the real Americanism.

Here upon this occassion are those who helped to give freedom to Cuba and here are representatives of those millions who crossed the seas and a few years ago and under God brought freedom and Democracy to the world.

In passing may it be said that the sons of Kentucky played no small part in that last great conflict. She registered 400,938 men, who might be drawn upon for service, and up to and including September 12th, 1919 sent into that service 78,000 soldiers. Kentucky did her full part in filling her quota in the Liberty Loans and other war-time drives. Her citizens have every reason to be grateful for the record the State made in its activities during the period of the Nation's greatest need.

Her people were possessed of the spirit of Edward Williams, who [illegible] other like him left to us a country, to cherish

"O! beautiful and grand,
My own, my native land!
Of thee I boast:
Great Empire of the West,
The dearest and best,
Made up of all the rest,
I love thee most."

STEPHEN WILLIAMS.

JANUARY 15, 89.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House and ordered to be printed.

Mr. HUNTER, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

(To accompany bill H. R. 11586.)

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 11586) for the relief of Stephen Williams, have considered the same and now report:

The claimant was a private in Company E, Fourteenth Illinois Cavalry. In declaration plea, April 28, 1881, he alleges that while at Nicholasville, Ky., in October, 1864, received injury to head by a blow from a gun-stock. The claim was rejected upon the ground that the alleged injury to head was not incurred while in line of duty, having been received in a personal quarrel. The evidence is sufficient to establish the fact that claimant received the blow on his head from a comrade, the only question being as to whether he was in line of duty at the time the accident occurred. The committee are inclined to give the claimant the benefit of the doubt, and therefore submit a favorable report and recommend the passage of the bill, with the following amendment: In line 5, after the word "Williams" insert of "Company E, Fourteenth Illinois Cavalry."

In your response to my letter you asked for more specific information about the Daniel William I am tracing. I am enclosing a newspaper article about him. I can't find any proof of the statements that he was at Boonesboro with Daniel Boone. Do you have any material about Boonesboro. or is there a Boonesboro org. if so do you have an address for it.

Thank you for the information about the Transylvania Company. Supposedly he (D.W.) came to Kentucky with that group. Do you have an current address for the President of that organization? If so please send it to me.

Thank you,
Margaret Scott

Valued Books owned by Henshaw Woman.

One of a set of four priceless and rare vulumes handed down from generation to generation, and now owned by Mrs.H.B.Self, of Henshaw, was exhibited by Mrs.Self to a number of her friends in this city Saturday.

The four books, "Chesterfield's Letters" were written by the late Right Honorable Philip Dormer Stanhope, Earl of Chesterfield, to his son, Philip Stanhope, Esquire, late envoy extra-ordinary to the Court of Dresden.

The books were published by Mrs. Eugenia Stanhope from the original, then in her possession, in four volumes, second edtion. They were published in London for J. Dodeley in Pall-Mall, in the year 1774.

In 1776 these books were purchased by Jonathan Williams in England. It was in that year that Williams, nephew of Benjamin Frnaklin was associated with Franklin as his secretary when he was United States Ambassador to France. Williams made several trips to England and the West Indies.

Jonathan Williams was born in 1750 in Boston, Mass., and died in 1815. Inscribed on the front page of each volume of thefour books in his own handwriting is: "From Jonathan Williams Junr. to his brother John Williams, Junr., Nantes 1777, to be given by him to his nephew, Josiah Williams, when he shall become twelve years old."

In Good Condition.

Despite the fact that these books have passed thru the hands of eight generations, thay are still in excellent condition, each being bound in genuine leather.

Josiah Williams was named for Josiah Franklin, the father of Benjamin Franklin. His father went from Massachusetts to Pennsylvania, and Josiah settled in Kentucky, near Louisville, later coming to Union County where he purchased a farm on the Shawneetown road in the Antioch neighborhood. He married Nancy Finnie. To this union were born four daughters and three sons (should be 6 daughters & 4 sons)

Jonathan John married Isabella Ferdinand Sugg; James married Lucy Huston, sister of the late Judge Huston; Douglas went to Memphis, Tenn., and later moved to Texas; Marianne married Tom Blackwell; Judy married Mr.Quigley; Lavinia married Mr.Philander Berry. Their daughter, Mrs. Anne Berry now resides at Uniontown. Elinor, eldest daughter of Josiah Williams, was married to Isham Sellers, a school teacher, in 1826. Her eldest daughter, Anne Amanda, was married in 1861, to Abram Davenport, and their daughter, Mary Pascal Davenport, married James Madison Joyce in 1884. Their daughter, Amanda Davenport Joyce, was married in 1907, to Harberd Brnjamin Self, both of whom now reside at Henshaw, Ky. Mrs.Self said the books would be passed to her daughter, Elinor Sprague, of Birmingham, Ala., then to her granddaughter, Julia Joyce (Judy) Sprague.

On a leaf of the above books is this notice: "Josiah Williams b Feb.17, 1777 m. June 15,1807, Nancy Finnie b Apr.7, 1779-d Aug.25, 1825 - Completely filling the character of a Faithful wife, affectionate Mother.....endearing neighbor."

Josiah Williams was appointed on the Committee to draft plans for the Court House of Union County at Morganfield, Kentucky. July 1818.

a call for a public meeting, as announced in the following handbill, already printed and distributed throughout the town:

"Friends ! Brethren ! Countrymen ! That worst of plagues, the detested tea, shipped for this port by the East India Company, is now arrived in this harbor; the hour of destruction or manly opposition to the machinations of tyranny stares you in the face; every friend to his country, to himself, and posterity, is now called upon to meet at Faneuil Hall, at nine o'clock this day,(at which time the bells will ring) to make a united and successful resistance to this last, worst and most destructive measure of administration.

Boston, November 29, 1773."

At nine o'clock the bells were rung, and the people, to the number of at least five thousand thronged in and around Faneuil Hall. This edifice, then about half as large as now, was entirely inadequate to hold the concourse that had gathered there. Jonathan Williams[1], a citizen of character and wealth, was chosen moderator. The selectmen were John Scollay, John Hancock, Timothy Newell, Thomas Newhall, Samuel Austin, Oliver Wendell[2] and John Pitts. The patriotic and efficient town clerk, William Cooper[3], 1-Jonathan Williams, a distinguished merchant and patriot, captain of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, in 1751; died Mch. 27, 1788. Jonathan, his father, was a member of the Artillery Company in 1711.

2-Judge Oliver Wendell, son of Hon.Jacob Wendell, was born in Boston 5th Mch.1733; died 15th Jan. 1818. Harvard College, 1753. His daughter, Sarah, married Rev.Abiel Holmes, the father of the poet, Oliver Wendell Holmes.

3-William Cooper, son of Rev.William, and brother of Rev.Samuel, of the Brattle Street Church, and forty-nine years clerk of Boston; died November 28, 1809; aged 89. The brothers were both active patriots of the Revolution.

Jonathan Williams, Sr., merchant of Boston, son of Robert, was born 22 Sept.1673, and died in Boston 27 Mch.1737. His parents were members of the First Church, and of that Jonathan, Sr., and Jonathan, Jr., were deacons. Jonathan Sr., began life as a wine cooper, and carried on that business in Boston for some years. His first wife was Mary Hunlock, a granddaughter of Samuel Sendall, by whom he had two sons, Jonathan Jr., and Sendall, and a daughter Mary. Mary (Hunlock) Williams died in Sept.1707, and Jonathan Sr. married on the 24 June 1708 Mrs.Rebecca Townsend. She was the widow of James Townsend of Boston, a wine merchant. Jonathan Sr., succeeded to the business of Mr.Townsend, and sold wines, etc., at the famous wine store under the sign of "Blackboy & Butt" in Cornhill (Washington St.) Boston. By his second wife, Deacon Williams had several children, one of whom, Rebecca, married Thaddeus Mason, and they were the grand-parents of the distinguished Reverend Thaddeus Mason Harris of Dorchester. Jonathan Sr., was Clerk of the Artillery Co. from 1711 to 1713 inclusive, and second sergeant in 1714.

Jonathan Williams Jr., of Boston, merchant, son of Jonathan Sr., and Mary (Hunlock) Williams, was born in Boston 8 January 1699, and baptised at the First Church 14 Jan. of the same year. He was second sergeant of the Artillery Co. in 1736, ensign in 1742, Lieutenant in 1748, captain in 1751.

For forty years Jonathan Jr., was prominently identified with the public affairs of the town. On the 5 July 1728 he petitioned the selectmen for a retailer's license, which was approved by them, and he kept a wine store on Caorhill, now Washington St. The license was again issued in 1739. On the 3rd of March 1735, a tomb was granted him in the South Burying Place, which was subsequently No.69.

His father Jonathan for several years had charge of the purchase and sale of grain, etc. at the granary. He was so engaged at the time of his decease, and Jonathan Jr., continued in charge until the selectmen had examined his father's accounts and determined the balance due the town. His father died in March 1737, and Jonathan Jr., managed the granary until 22 July following, when the amount due the town was 1,207 pounds, six shillings, 2 pence, which Jonathan Jr., paid.

On the 11 March 1739, a motion was made in town meeting that a committee be appointed to consider what right the town had in Fort Hill and the adjacent shore. Jonathan Jr., was one of the committee which was continued by reappointment until 1757. The town's land had been trespassed upon by the Provense, and by sundry persons, notably Col. Jacob Wendall. The committee reported several times, and they were authorized to prosecute the trespassers in the courts. This matter, which caused at times such prolonged meetings and heated discussions, seems to have exhausted all the disputants.

On the 6th of June 1739, Jonathan Jr., resided in Cold Lane, now Portland St. He was clerk of the market 1729; constable 1731; fireward 1764-8; visitor of the schools 1766, and overseer of the poor in 1767. On the 14 Mch.1768, the town voted its thanks to him for his good services as overseer of the poor, and also by another motion, thanked him for his services as fireward for some years past. He was repeatedly on the committees to consider the fortifications and batteries.

In 1767 the town was distressed, being drained of ite money, and threatened by poverty and ruin. These conditions were supposed to result from the "excessive use of Foreign Superfluities". Mr.Williams was one of the committee to lesson the use of "Loaf Sugar, Men & Women Hats, (!) Gloves, Snuff, Mustard, Clocks, Watches, Muffs, Furs and Tippets, Fire Engines, Chinaware," and many other articles, and to encourage their manufacture in this province. It must have stimulated manufacturing in Boston, for at the next afternoon meeting, Mr.Williams, with six others, was appointed to consider some measure "for employment of the poor of Boston by reviving the linen manufacturing, etc." The town voted 28 Oct.1767 not to purchase any of the articles enumerated that were imported from abroad after 31 Dec.next.

Mr.Williams was evidently prepared for events which were soon to follow. The newspapers of Boston 29 Nov.1773 announced that the "Dartmouth" had anchored off Long Wharf with 114 chests of tea. The handbill, "Friends, Brethren, Countrymen !" had been freely distributed throughout the town and the papers also announced that a public meeting would be held "at Fanueil Hall at nine o'clock this day .. to make a united and successful resistance to this last, worst, and most detestable measure of administration." At nine o'clock the bells were rung, and thousands rallied to Fanueil Hall. This was the commencement of organized resistance. Jonathan Williams, Jr., whose name was on the roll of the Artillery Co. for half a century, was elected moderator of the meeting, in which the principal debators were Samuel Adams, Dr.Warren, Hancock, Young and Molineaux. Mr.Williams was one of the Committee of Correspondence, elected 1775.

Distinguished as a merchant and as a patriot, he died 28 Mch.1788, ae 88, and was buried in the tomb in the Granary Burial Grounds which later was the property of Col.Bradford's heirs. (Samuel Bradford married his daughter Nancy).

He married Elizabeth, Widow of John Smart, and they had a son Jacob Williams b Boston 21 Mch.1741 (his Biography also given in this Volume), who was shipwrecked on the coast of Africa, and was one of the few who got back alive. He moved to Vermont where he died at the advanced age of 80 or 81.

To Mr.F.Williams, Westover the 16th July 1728
Sir, I have desired Mr.Bannister to wait upon you with the letter to the Commissioners of Carolina, to know, if you will please to sign it. It is + Mr. Dandridges opinion, and mine, that the tenth of September, will be before the Snakes are retir'd into Winter Quarters. On that account, therefore we have agreed, to put off your meeting, till the 20th of that month, and the rather because it is agreeable, to the Gentlemen, who are to meet us. It would be best, for the Service, if we could act in concert-- but if that cant be done, we must be content, to act by the majority. I dont distinctly remember, what our Carolina Friends, are to provide for us, nor do I know, what share of the trouble, you will take, in providing. Our chief want will be bread - (the woods affording Plenty of meat in the Fall), of this I will provide a thousand weight, because, we can hope for no supply, by the way, and we must have enough, to bring us, from the Mountains as well , as to carry us thither. I will also Take care to get Horses to carry it, which as the Bread waste may supply any of the men, whose Horses, happen to fall, in the Expedition - as for Rum or Wine, if our supply from Carolina, be not suffucient, you are the best situated to provide them, there being none to sell in these parts. I am you &c &c

Young, first to Mr.Jonathan Williams apartments who received me very kindly and shewed me every civility, he acts at Nantes as agent for the Continent, and is very highly respected by the French, as well as by the Commissioners who can place the utmost confidence in him, and is in every respect a very amiable character...accordingly set out from Nantes before day next morning with a French guide procured for me by Mr.Williams, in a chaise drawn by three horses abreast...and breakfasted with Mr.Williams' brother John at Ancenis about 30 miles from Nantes."

Marianne Alexander, wife of Col.Williams, had a brother who became Lord Chief Baron of England, and another of her brothers owned a great estate called "Woodburn" in Woodford County Ky., (then Fayette Co.Va.) to which he imported the first blooded Arabian horses from Europe which were the ancestors of most of the famous race horses of Kentucky to-day. Most of the Alexanders were titled people, and all related to the nobility of England. A nephew of Marianna's became the head of the Bank of England.

First, I offer up my soul to God who gave it and my body to the grave to be buried with christian like manner. And as to my worldly estate that God has been pleased to bless me with, I dispose of in the following manner, viz:

OLIVER CROMWELL

"C O R N E R IN A N C E S T O R S"

By Frances Cowles.

The family of Williams in which the blood of Oliver Cromwell flows, claims descent from Brutus, the first king of the Britons. From this Brutus was descended one Carradock, of Glanmorganshire, Wales, and from him was descended the Tudor family of England and the Stewart family of Scotland, both famous regal families. From Carradock, too, it is supposed that Thomas was descended. This Thomas lived in the days before last names were the style; but his great-grandson Morgan, whose father was named William, took Williams as his last name. Doubtless the matter of changing his last name did not appear very serious to him, since so many of his Ancestors had got along well without one; so Morgan Williams changed his last name to Cromwell, so that he might get the estate of his uncle, Thomas Cromwell, Earl of Essex, Secretary of State under Henry VIII.

Morgan Williams, alias Cromwell, had a son Henry Cromwell, whose son Robert was the father of the famous Oliver, Lord Protector of England, Scotland and Ireland. Oliver had a son Richard of Huntington, England, Glanmorgan, Wales and Hadley, Mass., who called himself both Cromwell and Williams, and from his son Richard one American branch of the Williams family is descended.

James Williams, of Northampton, Mass., son of Richard and grandson of Oliver, was the grandfather of Benjamin Franklin, of Thomas Paine, author of "Age of Reason", and Col. Jonathan Williams and William Williams, both Signers of the Declaration of Independence.
(NOTE: Jonathan Williams name is NOT signed to the Declaration of Independence.)

The Williams and Hutchcraft Genealogy and History.

Long before the time of Henry the Eighth, the family of Richard Williams flourished in Llangollon, Wales, and were people of wealth and consequence, as the Aps in the name will indicate. Henry the Eighth secceeded to the throne in the year 1509. Cardinal Wolsey, who flourished in King Henry's Court, had a secretary, one Thomas Aps Williams. But the record of the Aps Williams family in England and Wales was of such a nature on account of their warlike and daring deeds that people feared even thername.

The politic and wiley Cardinal Wolsey changed the name of his secretary from Thomas Aps Williams to Cromwell; and Thomas Aps Williams gave up the name the better to serve his own interests and those of Cardinal Wolsey and the king whom he served. This Thomas Cromwell appears in the dramatic personae of Henry the Eighth, written by Shakespeare. One who reads the history of Thomas Aps Williams of Thomas Cromwell must admire his bravery in defense of Cardinal Wolsey at the time of his fall.

Thomas Cromwell entered the services of Henry the Eighth in middle life. He was a mere boy, however, when he took part in the wars of Italy as a common soldier, and owned to Cranmer afterwards "That it was the most unscrupulous school the world contained". He mastered the Italian language and the manners of Italy of the Borgias and the Medici. He turned from the soldiers life to that of scrivener, banker and attorney, amassing great wealth.

He assisted Cardinal Wolsey to found "those twins of learning, Ipswich and Oxford", and when Wolsey fell Cromwell was his friend still, and followed him to Esher, where the fallen minister poured out the sorrows of his broken heart.

Says an ancient chronicle of Cromwell: "For his honest behavior in his master's cause, he was esteemed the most faithfullest servant and was of all men greatly commended".

He became first minister of England, and during the period of his rule, had one great and definite purpose. That purpose was to raise Henry the Eighth to absolute power in the realm. If in his zeal for his king he erred, there was no personal vindictiveness mingled with the error.

After a time Cromwell's will clashed with the kings and he fell into disfavor. When the ensign of the garter was torn from his neck by the Duke of Norfolk, after he had been tried for treason, he flung his cap in the air and said: "This, then, is my guerdon for the services I have done. Make quick work and do not leave me to languish in prison". So perished on the black Thomas Aps Williams (alias Cromwell), who made Cromwell a name as much to be feared as Aps Williams had ever been.

A century and a half elapses and we find Walter Raleigh Williams, son of a Welsh nobleman, a direct descendant of Thomas Aps Williams and relative of Roger Williams, of Colonial fame, emigrating to America. To him and brothers was granted a tract of land of immense extent, on either bank of the Potomac. The tract is known as "The Williams' Grant".

Walter Raleigh Williams served with distinction in the Revolutionary War. His son, General Samuel Luttrell Williams, one of Kentucky's most noted men, was born in Virginia Oct.31,1781. After winning laurels in the War of 1812, he served in the Kentucky Legislature, first in the House of Representatives from 1814 to 1818, then in the Senate from 1820-24-28-40-44.

Many incidents illustrative of his prowess are told of him during the scenes of the second war with England. He fought at Raisin and Fort Malden. On one occasion, at the head of a detachment, having discovered the enemy in a strong inclosure, he rushed forward alone, regardless of their superior number and their position, and tearing away the palisades, leaped in at the breach, exclaiming, "Come on, my men". Sublimely courageous toward the foe and sublimely trustful in the courage of his men.

While in the Legislature, Henry Clay was proud to call him friend -- -- in 1811 he married Miss Fannie Cluke. Had twelve children: Eliza Ann; Samuel Perry; Maria Louisa; John S. "Cerro Gordo"; Nancy L.; Richard Luttrell; Frances Amanda; Thomas Jefferson; Henry Clay; Caroline Frances; Harriett Amanda; and Benjamin Warfield.

(Ky. Hist. Soc. Register, May 1904 Page 56)

General "Cerro Gordo" Williams Family of Kentucky.

The tradition and history of the Williams family of Kentucky, in the Register of May 1904, is affirmed by the following note appended to the history of William Wadsworth in "Wadsworth, or the Charter Oak" by W.H.Gocher, of Hartford, Conn. (page 66): "Sir Richard Cromwell was a son of Morgan Williams, or Morgan Ap Williams, whose father, William Ap Teran, held an honorable place in the household of William, Duke of Beford, and it is said, in that of his nephew, Henry VII. Morgan Williams married a sister of Thomas Cromwell, afterwards Earl of Essex, and their son, upon the suggestion of Henry VIII, assumed the name of his uncle.

On March 22, 1663, Pepys referred to him in his diary as "Col. Williams, Cromwell that was". King Henry was so pleased with his prowess "Formerly", said he, "thou wast my Dick, but hereafter thou shalt be my Diamond," and thereat let fall his diamond ring upon him. In avowance thereof, these Cromwells (alias Williams) have ever since given as their crest "a lion holding a diamond ring in his fore paws."

Sir Richard was a son of a Gla-Morganshire squire named William and a sister of Thomas Cromwell (alias Williams) known in history as the "mauler of the monasteries", and to whom, according to Shakespeare, the fallen Cardinal Wolsey said:

"Cromwell, I charge thee fling away ambition!
Had I but served my God with half the zeal
I served my King, he would not in mine old age
Have left me naked to mine enimees."

Dear Ms. Tosh,

The Kentucky Genealogist magazine has no library and has turned over to us a few days ago your letter of September 26.

No official birth records are available in Kentucky except for 1852 - 1862, and after 1910.

Looking at various compilations, as indicated, I see the following information:

-consent recorded for marriage of Jackson Stroud and Frances Dick (poss. daughter of ~~Sarah~~ Samuel) 12 July 1847.

Dear Miss Kinkead:

In November you kindly answered an inquiry of mine regarding the descendants of William Williams, signer of the Declaration of Independence. Many things including my husband being called to active duty with the Army, illness and a major operation of mine and our removal from Arizona to Washington have prevented me answering you. I have been most anxious to do so but my genealogical material has been packed away until 2 weeks ago. I hope I may get started again now that I am well and am settled.

I am enclosing a pedigree chart with what information I have, which you will agree is very meager. I hope and pray it will be enough to prove my connection with the signer's line.

I shall happy to pay any charges for this service of copying anything you think will be of value to me.

Thanking you and hoping to hear from you soon, I am,

Very Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Scott:

I am not able after a search find anything substaniel to tell you about a Daniel Williams, or his association with the Transylvania Company. I do not find a marriage recorded in Ky. of a Daniel Williams to a Violet Crouch.

I do find a Daniel Williams listed in 1790 in Madison Co. Ky, but no marriage is recorded in that county for Daniel to a Ms. Crouch. By 1800 there are several Daniel Williams in various counties in Ky: A Daniel in Barren, Christian, Madison and two in Montgomery.

If you can supply any additional clues about this man, let me know,such as children, and places he may have lived.

As for the question concerning the Transylvania Company, I enclose a photocopy that tells about the organization of the Transylvania Company and those persons involved. I do not see a Daniel, but see a Col. John Williams mentioned who was a member.

The page that you have sent, was taken from William Henry Perrin's History of Bourbon, Soctt Harrison and Nicholas Counties in Ky. (I enclose a new copy).

I'm sorry that I was unable to find much to tell you about, but if I can help you further, let me know.

Sincerely,

I was reading an old newspaper and discovered that an ancestor of mine - Daniel Williams - was a member of the Transylvania Company. The only thing I know about this company is that it was organized by Col. Richard Henderson. Do you have any information about it + do you have any " about Daniel Williams.

Please let me know any cost that would be involved.

Mrs Robert B.

Would you also send me some information about churches — one ancestor - General (I think his name not a title) William Ratliff was "ordained" in Macon Co. in 179— another notation says it was James Ratliff. I'm not sure if what sect they belonged - Episcopal or Methodist. If you have an address for the Diocese of Ky. & for Ky. Methodist - I would be most grateful.

Dear Ms Oliver,

I am trying to find out about Daniel Boone's wife Rebecca Bryan Boone who was born in Phila. in 1753 married to N.C. and came to Kentucky with Daniel Boone. Supposedly she was with the Transylvania Company – do you have any information about the T.C. that mentions his name? I am told that he + Violet Crouch were married by Daniel Boone. Do you have any information that verifies that statement? Is there any information about Violet Crouch? I find no mention of Crouches other than Daniel marrying Violet in any of my mother's papers.

I am enclosing a sheet that

I hope you will be able to find the book it came from. I was interested in the Ewing name + the wrong sheet was copied. A check for 15.25 is enclosed to cover the one hour search + the 25¢ copy.

I do hope you will be able to help me.

Many thanks

I was told the enclosed sheet came from the Felton Chut. If you don't readily recognize it don't bother with spending too much time on finding it. would rather have the welcome data.

Dear Miss Thomas:

Although the Filson Club does not undertake detailed genealogical research, we are always glad to answer two or three specific questions, if the information is readily available. I have devoted, however, more than the customary time to your inquiries and have found information which should prove of value and interest to you.

Simpson County was not formed until 1819 from Logan, Warren, and Allen Counties. The court house in Simpson burned in May 1882. All records were burned except Circuit Court Order Books so you will encounter some handicaps in securing some of the records you would like to have.

James Williams, a soldier of the Revolutionary War, was granted a pension in Simpson County as of July 10, 1833. This information I derived from Gwathmey's Virginia Soldiers of the Revolution and is also found in Military Pension Lists, Vol.II and concerns soldiers who received pensions for service as Va. militia men. I suggest that you write the General Services Administration, Dept. of Nat. Archives, Washington 25, D.C. and ask for a copy of this record.

In a History of Simpson County by William H. Perrin (1886) is a biographical account of Elijah Williams who was a son of James Williams, the soldier. James, it is said, was born in 1756 in Delaware and was a son of Edward K. Williams. James married (1) Elizabeth Watson of North Carolina and (2) Elanor Bernard, daughter of John Bernard of Hawkins Co., Tenn. She was born 1773 and died 1862. Among the children of James and Elanor was John Bernard and I wonder if the name you have given as John Barnett could be an error. I have found a record of the marriage of John B. Williams and Alice Lewis in Warren Co., Kentucky on November 5, 1814. The name of the Bride was recorded as Aley Luis but this is just another illustration of the phonetic spelling of some of our early county clerks.

If you would be interested in further research in primary source records, I suggest that you write Mrs. Nora Young Ferguson, 1344 State St., Bowling Green, Kentucky. She is a highly experienced genealogist and she may be able to give you directions in regard to research in Simpson County.

Sincerely,

sse

Gentlemen:

It was suggested that I write to you in hopes that you may be able to help me with My problem.

I am trying to make up My family tree and I was wondering if you have any local history records of the pioneers of Ky. I am trying to trace the Williams family. John Barnett Williams was My Great great great Grandfather. He was supposedly born in N.J. His father, James Williams, was a Revolutionary Soldier and a pioneer farmer of Simpson County, Ky. supposedly. Around Franklin Ky.

John Barnett Williams was born around 1797
was married to Grace Lewis, dau. of Joab
Lewis and Catherine ? in 1812.
James Williams was born 1756 + died
1837 - His father was Edward Williams and his Mother Rachel ——
I need verification of these things. —
Do you have any records on these families. It has been said that We are direct descendants of Roger Williams,
the one that founded Providence, R.I.
There are about 4 generations missing between Edward Williams + Roger Williams.
I wrote to R.I. and they suggested
I try you and work backwards.
If you do not do this kind of work and if you have anyone that is interested in genealogical work please give them
this letter. I think it might be worthwhile
Roger Williams that we are descendants of, but I get in the dog house if I even suggest such a thought. I will greatly appreciate any help that you might be able to give me.

Thanking you in Advance,

I Remain,

Sincerely,

Mr. Robert S. Follis
Cave City, Kentucky

Dear Mr. Follis:

Unfortunately, we have a scarcity of early records for Barren and Allen Counties. I have found the Will of one Benjamin Williams of Barren County which was written on December 6, 1817 and probated in January 1818. Among his children are these sons: James, William, John, David, Thomas, and Richard. One of these could be the father of your Joseph.

Inasmuch as you live in the area of Barren and Allen Counties, I would urge you to search through court records of these counties. There is no substitute for original research and it is often through this medium, only, that the answers are to be found.

We do have census records for all the Kentucky counties with the exception of those for the year 1820. If you would care to examine the various censuses, we would be so happy to have you come to the Filson Club for this part of the research. Have you gone to the Bowling Green library? I understand the Kentucky Building has a rather extensive collection of Kentucky records.

Sincerely,

ssc

Miss A. Bohmer Rudd,
1819 G. Street , N.W.,
Washington, 6, D.C.

Dear Mrs. Rudd:

I am sorry that we do not have the staff to make genealogical research. I give the name of Mrs. Roy Bridwell, Route 2, Jeffersontown, Ky., a suburb of Louisville. As the records in Simpson County were burned, and unfortunately had not been copied first, I do not know how you will find what you seek that is the father of Ziba H.Williams, born in Simpson County, in 1818.

He was living in Simpson County in 1860, if he died the next year, there is one chance to find his parents and that would be to write to the Kentucky State Historical Society, Frankfort,Ky. Kentucky kept death records from 1851 to 1861, and those are in the Historical Society. Frequently in those records the names of the parents and where born are given.

We have Perrin's History of Kentucky with biographical sketches for Simpson County, and in that is the sketch of one Elijah Williams, born November 23, 1815, in Logan, now simpson, His father was James a native of Delaware born 1756, soldier in Revolution, moved to Logan County about 1800, located on east side of Drake's Creek, died 1837. He was son of EdwardK Williams of Delaware. James married Elizabeth Watson of North Carolina. They had a daughter Margaret (Laney). He married second Eleanor, daughter of John Bernard of Hawkins Co., Tenn, born 1773, died in 1862. The children are given, but your Ziba is not among them. They are, John B., Elizabeth (Moore), Edward K., Sarah C (Lewis) Polly A. (Thompson), Nancy (Hendrick), ~~Elizabeth~~ Ellen (Laney), Frances (Clampitt), James , Enoch and Elijah, twins.

I give this because some of the names might be a lead to you.

Regretting I can be of no assistance to you, I am,

Yours very truly,

Dear Miss Kinkead:

In the 1830 census of Simpson Co., Ky., I have a James Williams (Rev. Pen. & have his record) and a John Williams, both between 70 & 80. (See enclosed records.) 1820 & 1830

The Rev. Pensioner was b. 1756 and was reared in Delaware, Sussex Co. where he served etc. after the war, he lived in N. C., 12 yrs.; 8 yrs. in Tenn., the balance in Ky. where & now he is, is in his Pension Papers.

He married Eleanor Barnard in Sullivan Co., Tenn. 30 aug. 1796. She (Barnard) was still living in 1856.

I am trying to locate the names of the parents of Zita H. Williams who

Simpson 1819 - Logan, Warren & Allen

was born in (Simpson Co., Ky.)
Co. formed in 1819
April 10, 1818, but married and living in Henry Co. Ten in 1840 Census and the 1860 Census.
His father (Edward? James? or Richard Hillains?) Wayte Thomas or John?
He is supposed to have been a descendant of a Thomas Hillains and his wife Elizabeth Lytton from Virginia, of earlier history.

I wrote to the clerk of the court of Simpson and the reply:
"The Court House ... burned in 1882. We have no records prior to that date".

Dear Sir:

The Courier-Journal referred me to you when I enquired of them about any information they might have in their files about my great grandfather. He wrote for a Louisville paper at the time of the Civil War. I always thought it was the Courier-Journal but according to them it might have been the Courier. His name was Williams, and I think his first name was Robert.

I have a feeling he had a by-line and would like to know if anything exists that he wrote or if there is any other clue as to the sort of thing he did.

My grandmother remembered standing in a window in a Louisville hotel when she was a very little girl watching Union * soldiers march by.

I would appreciate hearing from you if you find anything about him in your archives.

Sincerely,

Marjory Meanwell

Dear Ms. Meanwell

I have checked in the old Louisville City directories for the years 1864-1866 and do not find a Robert Williams listed who was a writer for a Louisville Newspaper.

There were three major newspapers being printed in Lousiville at that time. The Louisville Courier-Journal, The Lousiville Journal, and the Louisville Daily Democrat.

If you are sure of the name Robert Williams, and know that he was indeed in Louisville, and perhaps may be listed in the 1860 census.

Sincerely,
Tillie Watson

Do you have anything on this subject? I'm enclosing $2.00 for postage & copy. You have been kind when I've written before, so if you have nothing to copy, keep the money for postage for others.

Dear Mrs. Downing:

I was able to find some information about your Williams family but not all that you wanted.

In the 1880 census (Soundex) for Barren County, I found the Vincent T. Williams family with the following information: (V. 2, E.D. 9, Sh. 21, Ln. 10 - this is the information that would be needed to locate this family on the regular census microfilm) Vincent T. Williams, age 33, born KY, father born KY, mother b. TN; Malindy, age 33, born KY, father born KY, mother born KY; Allen J., son, age 12, born KY; Frederick, son, age 9 (or 19 - the record isn't clear - it looks like 19 but I think it must be 9), born KY; William, son, age 7, born KY; and Nancy, daughter, age 2, born KY.

Kentucky has state-wide census indexes from 1790 through 1850. There are no state-wide indexes in 1860 or 1870 although some individual counties have their own printed census with index for some or all of these census years. Barren County did have a printed census with index for 1850 and I found the name Hagan in the index. The entry encluded the following information: John Bowman, age 50, farmer, born TN; Molly Bowman, age 52, born TN; Ellis H. Bowman, age 20, born TN; Elijah K. Bowman, age 18, born TN; Malinda Hagan, age 5, born KY. The 1850 census does not have a column which lists the relationship to the head of the household as does later years so there is no way to know how Malinda Hagan was related to this family.

In the 1850 Barren County census, I was not able to find a Williams family who had a son named Vincent T. so I checked the printed censuses we had for nearby counties. In the 1850 census for Cumberland County I found the following inforamtion: A.J. Williams, age 32, farmer, born KY; M.A. Williams, age 27, born KY; M.E. Williams, age 6, female, born KY; V.T. Williams, age 4, male, born KY; M.A. Williams, age 2, female, born KY; and E.I. Williams, age 2, female, born KY. Although the fact that only initials were used instead of names makes it much more difficult to know whether or not these are the people you are seeking, I think they probably are. The age for Vincent T. Williams is about right and those initials are rather uncommon.

Although I checked through various kinds of records for Barren County, I was not able to find any marriage records or other records for these people.

If Allen James Williams died in Kentucky in 1918, you should be able to get a copy of his death certificate from Frankfort. I am enclosing an application form if you want to send for that. I am also enclosing an application form to send for his service records. Evidently you cannot obtain service records unless you send this particular application.

Also enclosed are several pages of photocopies about the Women's Relief Corps. Apparently it was an auxiliary associated with the G.A.R. (Grand Army of the Republic).

You asked about membership in The Filson Club. I am sending a membership application and a brochure telling a little about our organization. A subscription to The Filson Club History Quarterly is part of the membership. We would be happy to have you as a member of The Filson Club if you so choose.

We do have some information here about some of the Downing families in Kentucky. If you have specific questions about your husband's Downing ancestors, I'd be glad to try to check on them for you. We don't have the staff or time to do large-scale genealogical research, but we will try to answer specific questions or send you the names of researchers in the area if you need a lot of work done.

I hope the enclosed information will be of help to you.

Sincerely,
