Mr. Monroe Pottinger,
Upton, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I saw your name in the E'town News several years ago and have intended to write to you for some time and find out what kin we are.

I can only figure you out as a grandson of Uncle John Pottinger who lived east of Buffalo, Ky., and died in Daviess Co., Ky., about 1869. He married Louisa Hagan of the Pottinger's Creek country. He was a brother of my father, Thomas Jefferson Pottinger, who lived at the old Pottinger place near Gethsemane. This house was built in 1788 and a picture of it was in The Louisville Times last April.

I have been working for the Government in Washington for a long time this town being a suburb, and at odd times have been compiling a history of the Pottinger family. I believe you have a son who married Miss Ruth Cave.

I am enclosing a blank form and would be glad if you would fill it out and return to me. Please tell me something about the Pottingers in that part of Kentucky as I have not been fortunate enough to meet any of them although my father married the second time and lived for a while on Knob Creek and later east of Hodgenville, three or four miles, where he died May 1, 1900. I was then living in Louisville and often visited him. He told me then that we had some Pottinger kin living in that part of Ky.

Do not fail to fill up and return the blank as I want to have a complete record of the family. The first one of the name in America was named John and lived in the county where I am now. He came here in 1665. It was his great-grandson, Capt. Samuel Pottinger who settled in Nelson County in 1776 and died there in 1831. He was born here in Maryland in 1754. If there is any information concerning the family that you would like to have I will gladly send it if I have it.

With kind regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

S. F. Pottinger

exact dates, it is as I remember them. none of the children are living, and I doubt if any of the grandchildren could tell you any thing more definite.

Cordelia was the oldest child. You have not written their names in the order as they were born but you can tell from the dates of their births how they come - I don't remember if any of them had any middle names but Thomas. I am pretty sure their birth dates are correct.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter rec'd some few days ago and it is with pleasure that I write you all I know concerning the family of ^{John} Pottinger.

What a very wonderful thing is memory and what a storehouse it is. Often the slightest thing will recall to mind incidents and places almost forgotten but after dusting them

Cordelia, Bettie, Robert,
Lucinda, John, and James
all died pretty close to gether. They had consumption.

Frank and Emmeline died
the same week of flu.

After John Pottinger died
in Davies Co. Louisa sold her lifetime interest in the farm to me - and about 1874 she, with the two youngest children, Josephine and Addie went to her brothers near Owensboro in Davies Co. I said after his death Louisa sold her interest in the farm - I meant she sold it just before she went to her brothers.

The girls both married in Davies Co but I do not know whom they married.

I heard that they also died of consumption and that off they are as distinct and as bright as ever.

John and Louisa Pottinger lived neighbors to my father, and the two families grew up together.

He ran a big distillery
until the tax got too heavy and he had to shut it down. Then he made "moonshine" until the Government was about to get him, then he went to Davies Co. and died shortly after he went.

The dates I have given you of the children's births and deaths are as nearly correct as you'll get. I remembered their births
as corresponding with our family. and while these of course may not be the

Dear Forrest,

I inclose a sketch of the family of Geo. W. Pottinger. I did it hastily.

I aimed principally to give a sketch of our own branch of Geo. W. Pottinger's family - i.e. the family of Alice E. Thompson. However what I did write of the other branches of Geo. W. Pottinger's family was strictly true.

Take it that the family of Geo. W. Pottinger as well as Geo. W. Pottinger himself were of a literary turn

Notes of the Family of George W Pottinger

1. George W Pottinger was educated at St Mary's College Ky. being a member of the first class graduated in that college, - a classmate of the celebrated Martin John Spalding, Archbishop of Baltimore. At the time of the death of his father, G. W. Pottinger was at school at Centre College Danville Ky. He was a well educated man & of literary tastes. All of his daughters were given liberal educations at Loretto Academy, and his sons at St Mary's and Cecilian Colleges.

His oldest daughter Betty Ann married John C Brodhead a distinguished civil Engineer of Pennsylvania, who laid out the Knoxville Branch of the L. N. Railroad, the B. O. & S. W., and many others.

2. His second daughter Alice E. married James Thompson a descendant of the original Catholic Colony of Lord Baltimore of St Mary's Maryland, and whose father Ignatius Thompson came with the first Catholic Colony to Ky. This family of Thompsons he came to Maryland from Yorkshire England, and have always been Catholic, and proud of the fact of having been one of those who first established Religious Liberty in America - at St Mary's Maryland.

James Thompson was a liberal broad minded southern gentleman and one of the largest land & slave owners of Kentucky.

His eldest son George was educated at St Mary's College, graduating after an 8 years course of classics, and mastering the Latin, Greek, German, French and Italian languages. He afterwards finished his education at the University of Louisville, in the Law Department, and was admitted to the Kentucky bar. He was afterwards admitted to the Missouri bar, and the United States Courts, and began the practice of Law in the city of St Louis. On the death of his father six years after he returned to his old home in Kentucky, "Peacock Hill", where he is now upholding the traditions of the family.

Alice his only sister, and only girl that was ever born on "Peacock Hill", though it was the seat of the family and family slaves for a hundred years, graduated with highest honors at Nazareth Academy in Nelson County, and is an author of noted ability. Her best known work is the Drama of "The Three Graces".

Virgil J. James H. and Albert S. after finishing the Commercial Course at St Mary's College became Railway Clerks in the service of the Big Four, Vandalia and Missouri Pacific Roads at St Louis, where they now are.

Sam C. the youngest brother was educated at The State College Lexington Ky. in the Course of Civil Engineering and Military Tactics. He went in this capacity with the Army of Invasion ~~of~~ Cuba and Porto Rico, where he remained during the Spanish War.

He is now located in St Louis.

3rd William Talbot the eldest son of Geo. W. Pottinger began life as a Railroad Contractor on the Knoxville Branch of The L & N R.R. at Broadhead Ky. with John C. Broadhead, where he made a fortune.

He afterwards engaged in farming and the Distilling business in Logan County Ky., having established the first distillery in that County, and the well known brand of "Coon Range Whiskey".

Notes on Family of GEORGE W. POTTENGER,
Son of Samuel and Lucinda Jameson Pottenger.

John Burch, father of Moses and Nace Burch, married Louisa Hagan and built the brick house, "Peacock Hill," since known as the Jim Thompson place on the Howardstown Road. After the death of John Burch, Jim Thompson married his widow and had one son, Young Jim Thompson. When she died Jim thompson married Alice Pottenger, ^{next to one} oldest daughter of George W. Pottenger and Adeliza Talbott, whose children were: George, Virgil, Alice, James, Albert and Sam.

Henry Burch built the other brick house, just below "Peacock Hill" towards New Haven, and the big door leading to the old dining room at "Walnut Hill" came from Henry Burch's sale. Tom Blincoe cut the opening in the brick wall for the door and took out the window that was there. A cubby hole was left over the door and I remember that it was used to store mill sacks in.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Alice Thompson, of New Haven, Dies After a Brief Illness.

Mrs. Alice E. Thompson, aged seventy-seven years, widow of the late James Thompson, died at her home near New Haven, Sunday morning, January 4, after suffering only a few days of pneumonia.

Mrs. Thompson was the daughter of the late Geo. W. Pottinger and was a member of one of the best known families in Central Kentucky. She was the first graduate of Loretto Academy and her father with Martin John Spalding were the first graduates of St. Mary's College. She carefully educated her own children.

Mrs. Thompson was a true christian woman, being a devout member of the Catholic church. She is survived by five sons and one daughter, namely: Messrs. Virgil, James and Sam Thompson, of St. Louis; George and Albert Thompson, of New Haven, and Mrs. Miles Howard, of Howardstown. She is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Leoria Wilkinson, of Louisville; Mrs. Bettie Broadhead, of Bloomfield, and Mrs. Steele, of Indiana.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Catherine's church at New Haven, Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Wm. P. Hogarty officiating. Interment took place in the Catholic cemetery at that place.

GREAT-GREAT-GRANDFATHER

It is a Fact That persons who will not take the trouble to send a record of their family are often blamed by their children or grandchildren for not having done their duty. Daniel Webster, in his speech December 22, 1845, said: "It is wise for us to recur to the history of our ancestors. Those who are regardless of their ancestors do not perform their duty to the world." Thucydides, the Athenian philosopher, who lived 400 years before Christ, expressed the sentiment in stronger terms, viz: "Both justice and decency require that we should bestow on our forefathers an honorable remembrance." Books are more enduring than stone monuments.

Statement of Gen. F. C. Ainsworth, Chief of the Record and Pension Office, War Department, Washington, D. C., under date of February 17, 1903.

I 12 of Collins' "History of Kentucky."

ANCESTOR'S SERVICES:

As a private in a Regiment of Infantry formed in April, 1777, by the junction of Col. Grayson's and Gist's Additional Regiments raised agreeable to a resolve of Congress of December 26, 1776, the Colonel in command being Nathaniel Gist. SAMUEL POTTENGER, the Patriot named herein, served in a Company of this Regiment under the command of Captain Samuel Lapsley, who received the rank of Captain on March 10, 1777. His (SAMUEL POTTENGER'S) name appears on a pay roll of that organization "from the time of their several enlistments until 1 November, 1777," with the remarks: "Commencement of pay, April 27, 1777." (Records of the War Department, Washington, D. C., Record and Pension Office).

This same SAMUEL POTTENGER was a private in Captain William Harrod's Company of 96 men, belonging to a Virginia Military Organization known as "The Pioneer Soldiers of Kentucky," which served in 1780 at the Forts near the Falls of the Ohio (Louisville). (Collins' "History of Kentucky," Vol. I, page 12).

Laura Browning Blackburn, Versailles, Ky.

The Military Service described on page 3 hereof was accepted and a pension was granted thereon by the United States Government under that Act of June 7, 1832, according to the records of the Bureau of Pensions, Washington, D. C., cited as "Sur. File 4427."

Services of JOHN JAMESON

Served four enlistments of six months each as a Private in the following named organizations of Virginia Troops:

Date of Enlistment	Name of Captain	Name of Colonel
Sept. 1, 1779	Michael Coulter	(Not stated in his Pension Papers)
May 1, 1780	Samuel McCutchen	Richard Taylor
April 15, 1781	Patrick Buchanan	William Boyer; William Campbell.
April, 1782	William Ward	(Not stated in his Pension Papers)

He applied for a pension on April 19, 1832, and his claim was allowed. His declaration states that he was in the Battles of Hot Water, Jamestown (or Green Springs), the Siege of Yorktown and Surrender of Cornwallis, and that his residence at the time of service was Augusta County, Virginia, whence he moved in 1786 to Fayette County, Kentucky, and from there to Nelson County, Kentucky. His residence at date of application was Barren County, Kentucky. He states therein that he was born October 22, 1763, near Staunton, Augusta County, Virginia, and that his first service was as a substitute for his father, George Jameson. (From the records of the Bureau of Pensions, Washington, D. C., Sur. File 4427, Rev. War.)

der the rules then in effect it was not required to report the given names.
 for 1810, Nelson County, Kentucky, he had eight boys and one girl, but un-names of the others are not known. According to the United States Census

Secretary, Treasurer and Chaplain Are Relected; Group Invited to Hold 1933 Convention in Chicago; National Defense Act of 1920 Indorsed.

Portland, Oreg., Sept. 15 (A.P.).—Mrs. S. A. Blackburn, of Versailles, Ky., was elected and installed as president of the American Legion Auxiliary at the national convention here today. She was unopposed.

Three other national officers were reelected and a new historian chosen by the executive council. They are Mrs. Gwendolyn Wiggin MacDonald, of Indianapolis, secretary; Mrs. Cecilia Wenz, of Indianapolis, treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Doyle, of Toledo, Ohio, chaplain, and Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, of Seattle, national historian.

The following new vice presidents, all unopposed, were elected: Mrs. W. Helder, Sheridan, Oreg., Western division; Mrs. Charles S. Schall, West Haven, Conn., Eastern division; Mrs. J. A. Corbin, Poplar, Mont., Northwestern division; Mrs. Roland B. Howell, Thibodaux, La., Southern division, and Mrs. O. H. Allbee, Marshalltown, Iowa, Central division.

Mrs. Pat Allen, of Portland, Oreg., was elected American vice president of Fidac Auxiliary.

Paul Armstrong, representing the Illinois State Legion commander, invited the auxiliary to hold its 1933 convention in Chicago.

Resolutions approved by the convention called for support of the national defense act of 1920; recommendations of the War and Navy Departments as to what constitutes a minimum for effective application of the national defense act so as to assure its purpose, and appropriations necessary to provide this irreducible minimum.

DAVID BRADFORD,

Nephew of Jefferson Davis, Was Struck By Train and Instantly Killed.

Mr. David Bradford, of New Hope, was struck by a locomotive on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company's trackway near the residence of Mrs. E. L. Miles last Friday afternoon and was instantly killed. The body was thrown about twenty feet and was badly bruised and mangled.

Mr. Bradford was bringing cows from the pasture late in the afternoon and drove them across the track in front of an approaching train. He had some difficulty in getting the animals across and when he did so, the train being near him, he became excited and started down the track. At this instant the engine struck him, hurling him quite a distance and causing instantaneous death.

The deceased was 52 years of age and was married to Miss Addie Pottinger, who, together with an only child, died several years ago.

Mr. Bradford was a brother of Mrs. E. L. Miles, of New Hope, and a nephew of ex President Jefferson Davis. He was an elegant gentleman and justly popular and had a host of friends who lament his sad and untimely departure.

The funeral services were held Saturday and the remains interred at Gethsemane Abbey cemetery.

MRS. STEELE

Formerly of Nelson County, Dies
in Bristow, California.

The Following Clipping is From the Northern Arizona Leader Which is Edited by Mr. Craig Pottinger A Former Nelson County Man. Mrs.
Steele Has Many Relatives in Nelson County.

Following a very short illness with pneumonia, Mrs. Louisa Jane Steele, grandmother of Craig Pottinger of this city, passed away at 2:40 o'clock yesterday morning at Barstow, Calif.

Mr. Pottinger was called to California last Saturday night by a telegram announcing her serious illness but shortly she seemed to be improving and the attending physician declared she would recover.

Mr. Pottinger left Barstow at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and on his arrival here at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning he found a telegram announcing death.

Mrs. Steele was a guest of the Pottinger home for a few weeks until a few days before Christmas. At the time of her departure she was complaining of a cold and on the train en route it became worse. She went to bed at once on arrival in Barstow and pneumonia set in, in a few hours before her death.

Pending receipt of word from relatives in the east, funeral arrangements will not be made. It is likely however that burial will be made at Marion, Ind. beside her husband, the late Attorney Richard G. Steele.

Deceased is survived by two sisters in Kentucky and two sons and one daughter, besides a large number of grandchildren and great great grandchildren.
One of her sons from Indiana passed thru Flagstaff last night en route to his mothers bedside,
not knowing she had died,

Mrs. Steele was Miss Louisa Jane Pottinger, before her marriage. She was born in 1844 at Gethsemane, Kentucky, the daughter of George W. Pottinger a Kentucky slaveowner. She educated in Loretto Academy in Kentucky and at the age of twenty-one, in 1865, when the civil war was ended she married Richard G. Steele, Jr., a northern man, the son of Col. R.
G. Steele of an Indiana regiment.

When she went to Indiana to live there were no bridges over the Ohio river and it was necessary to cross on a flatboat.
Neither had a railroad been constructed in those days from Kentucky into Marion, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele took up their residence in Marion and to this union there was born four sons and three daughters, one of the latter being the late Mrs.
Millard F. Pottinger, mother of Craig Pottinger.

Eight years ago Mrs. Steele came to Phoenix for a daughter's health, and resided there continuously until a year ago last summer and since then has been living in the east. She had just recently come to the Southwest for the winter.

Mrs. Steele was a sister-in-law of former Congressman Geo. W.
Steele of Marion, Indiana, who was the first Governor of Oklahoma state, this appointment
having been made by President Benjamin Harrison. Congressman Steele is looking after the funeral arrangements in the east.

The body of Major George W.
Steele, who died at his home at 6:15
Wednesday night, will lie in state at the Gethsemane Episcopal church from 10 to 1 Saturday, where friends may pay last respects to a nationwide figure, whose death is mourned
all over the country.

Funeral at 2 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held from the Gethsemane church at 2 Saturday afternoon, with the Father F. B.
Johnston in charge. Burial will take place in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Telegrams and dispatches arriving here from Oklahoma, where Major Steele was governor for 19 months, report the state is mourning
the death of the man, who organized and started the state's ship on the right course. Tributes from officials and prominent persons in the state were received in Marion today.

Tribute From State.

A tribute from the state as a whole was expected in Marion today, according to a dispatch received here Thursday night, from Governor J. B. A. Robertson, of Oklahoma.

Captain George W. Steele, Jr., of the United States Navy, son of Major Steele arrived in Marion late Thursday afternoon, from Washington, D. C., where he was stationed at the time of his father's death.

The pallbearers as announced at a late hour this afternoon follows:
Honorary, E. H. Johnson, W. B.
Dodds, George A. Southall, Frank
Smith, commander of the G. A. R.,
Joe Clouse, Sr., and Daniel Price.

Active, Dr. B. C. Dale, Field Swezey, Tom Fruchy, Frank Goldthwaite, Charles Beshore and Hiram Beshore.

COLLEAGUES MOURN DEATH OF STEELE

Congressmen Praise Life of Veteran as Solon, Soldier and Citizen.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, July 14—News of the death at Marion, Ind., of Maj. George W. Steele was the cause for expressions of sorrow from many persons in official life who knew him during his sixteen years' service in Congress. Ex-Congressman John Dalzell of Pennsylvania, who maintains residence in Washington, was especially saddened by Maj. Steele's death. They were cronies when they served in Congress together.

Maj. Steele, who was an influential member of the ways and means committee during his congressional service, was known as a quiet and unassuming but unusually effective worker. He was highly respected by his colleagues for his courage. Just yesterday, though he had not known of Maj. Steele's illness, Representative Frank Clark of Florida, was recalling Mr. Steele's service in Congress and spoke of him as one who commanded respect from his colleagues for his ability. Senators Watson and New and Representative Will R. Wood, all paid tribute to Maj. Steele's service to his country as a civil war soldier, a member of Congress and private citizen.

Lockwood Lauds Steele.

George B. Lockwood, secretary of the Republican national committee, who for years had been one of Maj. Steele's most intimate friends, said of him:

"Indiana has never had a member of Congress whose career reflected more credit to the state than that of Maj. Steele. He was lacking in some of the showy qualities which many people confuse with greatness, but he had integrity, ability, courage and common sense and a deep sense of devotion to duty which made him the ideal public servant. Closely associated as I was with him for a number of years I never knew him to attempt, either directly or indirectly, to mislead or deceive any one. I never knew him to take a position on a public issue dictated by fear or by a desire placate public sentiment

he believed to be mistaken. He was as courageous in politics and public affairs as he was on the field of battle during his four and one-half years of gallant service as a Union soldier. His greatness, and among the men with whom I have come in contact I have known no one better entitled to be described in that term, was rooted in character. The great need of this country today is more men of his courage, horse sense and unselfish loyalty to country in public life.

Portrait in Oklahoma Statehouse.

Oklahomans living in Washington recall that a large portrait of Maj. Steele, the first territorial Governor, is displayed in the Governor's office of the Statehouse at Oklahoma City.

Capt. George W. Steele Jr., of the United States Navy, who has been on duty in Washington, left Wednesday evening for Marion, Ind., on receiving a message announcing the critical condition of his father. Death ensued before the son could reach his father's bedside.

FUNERAL SERVICES SATURDAY.

MARION, Ind., July 14.—The funeral of Maj. George W. Steele, who died at his home in this city Wednesday night will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Gethsemane Episcopal Church, with the Rev. Johnston in charge. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery here. The two surviving children, Mrs. Percival Owen of Indianapolis, and Capt. George W. Steele Jr. of the navy, stationed at Washington, have arrived at the home.

Many telegrams of condolence from old personal friends of the family from over the nation are being received at the Steele home.

MRS. ADDIE TYLER
DIES TUES. MORN
By Standard 7/13/34
Woman Of High Culture, Taught Select School
In Bloomfield

Mrs. Addie Brodhead Tyler, age 73 years and widow of the late Ben S. Tyler, died at her residence in Bloomfield Tuesday morning, December 11, at five o'clock, of heart attack.

Mrs. Tyler was formerly Miss Addie Brodhead, daughter of the late John C. Brodhead, native of Pennsylvania, and Annie E. Pottinger, of Hardin County and a member of the pioneer Pottinger family that settled in south Nelson. She was a woman of splendid culture and for a number of years conducted a select school of advanced curriculum in Bloomfield, later marrying the late Ben S. Tyler, retired banker and farmer.

Her survivors are, a sister, Mrs. Bessie B. Dalrymple, Dover, N. J.; one brother, William T. Brodhead, Elkhart, Ind.; three nephews, Richard J. Brodhead, Wisconsin, J. Milton Brodhead and W. Thomas Brodhead, Elkhart, Ind.; and a niece, Irma Brodhead.

Funeral arrangements have been delayed awaiting the arrival of the sister, Mrs. Dalrymple, who is expected to arrive to-night, and if she arrives the funeral services will be held at the Tyler residence Friday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. C. Martin. Burial will take place in the Maple Grove Cemetery, Bloomfield.

It is a Fact That persons who will not take the trouble to send a record of their family are often blamed by their children or grandchildren for not having done their duty. Daniel Webster, in his speech December 22, 1845, said: "It is wise for us to recur to the history of our ancestors. Those who are regardless of their ancestors do not perform their duty to the world." Thucydides, the Athenian philosopher, who lived 400 years before Christ, expressed the sentiment in stronger terms, viz: "Both justice and decency require that we should bestow on our forefathers an honorable remembrance." Books are more enduring than stone monuments.

~~MARDIN LOGAN POTTINGER~~

Georgia Ann Pottinger Kaster Romine (dau. of above) was born Mar. 10, 1842 near New Haven, Nelson Co., Ky. at age of 16.

She was married in March or April, 1858, to Frederick Kaster. She died in Apr. 1930 at Warsaw, Ill., and is buried in Oakland Cemetery in that city.

She had nine children but do not know their names except mother's and Uncle Marshall Kaster's.

Mother, the oldest, was born Mary Elizabeth Kaster Apr. 25, 1859, and married Richard Ridgway May 30, 1885. She died in Oct., 1932. They had four children:

1. Lula Ann Ridgway, b. Feb. 23, 1886; d. in 1889.
2. Louis Thomas Ridgway, b. Sept. 21, 1887; at Bardstwn Jct., Ky., and d. in Omaha, Neb., Feb. 16, 1935.
3. Virgil Joseph Ridgway, b. Sept. 17, 1889, at Bardstown, Ky.
4. Elmer Ridgway, b. May 29, 1894, at Warsaw, Ill.

The above Louis Thomas Ridgway mar. May 10, 1904, at Fort Madison, Ia., Nida White of Colchester, Ill., who was b. May 14, 1886, and had two children: Mildred B., b. in Adrian, Ill., Sept. 12, 1905; mar. to Carroll Short, Omaha, Neb. Nov. 28, 1928. The other child was Dean, b. Oct. 7, 1934 in Omaha, Neb.

Virgil Joseph Ridgway, named above, mar. Lula Jane Peeble of Alexandria, Mo., who was b. Mar. 13, 1892. They were mar. May 9, 1912, at Warsaw, Ill., and had three children: Vivian Josephine, b. Mar. 29, 1913, and d. Apr. 3, 1913, at Alexandria, Mo. Gladys Louise, b. Sept. 22, 1915 at Alex., Mo., Joseph Robert, b. July 15, 1920, at Milwaukee, Wis., d. July 6, 1938 in Denver, Colo. Gladys Louise mar. Wallace Wesley Hopper of Denver, Colo. Feb. 14, 1937, and had two children: Janet Gay Hopper, b. June 24, 1938 and Jerry Joe b. Feb. 2, 1943

The above Elmer Ridgway Mar. (date unknown) Myrna Kinney of Alex., Mo., and they had two sons: Melvin Ray, b. June 28, 1914 at Alex., Mo., and d. Jan. 18, 1920 at Milwaukee, Wis. The other son was Thomas, b. at Elkhorn, Wis., (date unknown) and mar. an English War Widow with one son. They have a set of twins, a boy and a girl, around two yrs. old.

Marshall Kaster, above referred to, mar. Katie Pearson and they had one son, Fred. Fred married but don't know whether they had any children. We have not heard from him for years.

The foregoing information was furnished with the following letter from Lula Ridgway to Mrs. Walter V. Mathis of Mt. Washington, Ky.:

8038 North Federal,
Denver, Colo., March 30, 1949

My Dear Mrs. Mathis:

Will try to do my best to give you the records of Virgil Ridgway's family the best I can. I am Virgil's wife Lula and we have our family records from far back. My forefathers were Mormons and my great-grandmother's sister was one of the women that came west with the Mormons. Her name was Berdic. She nursed so many that had the cholera and then died of it herself. One of the men (in the pioneering party) sat up all night carving her name on a wagon wheel. The C.B.&Q.R.R. (used as a tombstone) found it when they were surveying for the railroad; they moved their survey so as not to go near it and put up an iron fence around it. I think it is nice to know things our ancestors did.

We do not have much in the Bible about Grandmother George Ann Pottinger except her name and age and where she was born and when married. I will try and tell you some things she told me of her life. She had nine children by her first husband (Kaster). She told me her father bought and sold slaves; that she never had to do anything when she was at home -- they had plenty of slaves to do the work. I remember she told me that she saved a passenger train from a wreck during the war; that she was out tending the sheep when she saw a lot of railroad ties across the track. She then got some salt for the sheep and went quite a way up from where the ties were and flagged the train. A cousin was on the engine and took her home. Then she went away for a while.

We found some letters from an Edna that were written in Lenore, Ky., in 1923 and 1926.

We live on one of the main highways to Estes Park. Our daughter and family live next door to us. Her little boy has been in bed for 11 weeks with rheumatic fever. He is quite a bit better; think he can get up a little next week.

If any of you folks come out this way, look us up; we will be happy to have you drop in and see us. Would love to hear if this will help you any.

Sincerely yours,
Lula Ridgway.

Blighted Life Ended.

New Haven Echo: Mrs. Mary J. Pottinger, after a year's illness with cancer of the liver, died at the home of her son, Mr. Charles Pottinger, near Holy Cross, August 17, 1904. In her early teens she was united in marriage with Mr. Wickliffe Pottinger, who was nineteen years old. After a few months of wedded bliss he deserted her and married three different women, one in Indiana, one in Arkansas and one in Texas. He had never been divorced from his lawful wife. She would never grant him a divorce, nor, for the sake of her son she bore him, prosecute him. She endured her blighted life with an admirable patience and heroism. She devoted her life to her son who was her comfort. Her remains were buried in the cemetery at Holy Cross.

Wickliffe name was Clark

Wickliffe Pottinger was son of Wm. Russell Pottinger and Barbara Jameson of near New Haven, Nelson Co., Ky.

Mrs. Ann Pottinger Dies At New Haven.

Mrs. Ann Pottinger died at her home in New Haven, Friday morning, Oct. 7, at 2 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks of complication of diseases.

She was seventy-six years of age and had been twice married, her first husband being John Roberts. Her second husband, who was Samuel Pottinger, preceded her to the grave several years ago.

She is survived by one son, Joseph H. Pottinger, of New Haven, and two brothers, Mr. Hilary Bowling, of Bardstown, and Mr. Joseph Bowling, of New Haven. Several nieces and nephews also survive, one of whom is Mrs. R. W. Nevitt, of this place.

She was a most worthy member of a most worthy family. From early youth she was a devout christian and a faithful member of the Catholic Church and died fully fortified by the last sacraments.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. P. Hogarty, at St. Catherines' Church, Saturday morning at eight o'clock with Solemn Requiem Mass. Interment was in St. Catherines' cemetery.

Mrs. Shore Entertains Members Local D. A. R.

Members of the Echebucassassa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. S. D. Shore, regent, on Lake Thonotosassa road for its April meeting last Friday afternoon. Miss Sammie Herron, Mrs. W. E. Calvert and Mrs. Reece Smith were named the nominating committee to select candidates for the election of officers the decision of which will be announced at the May meeting.

The last topic on the "Cavalcade of Colonies," which began in September, 1939, was concluded at this meeting by Mrs. P. M. Moody, whose subject was North Carolina, and Mrs. R. M. Morgan, whose subject was Rhode Island. Mrs. Albert Schneider discussed the D. A. R. magazine in an inspiring manner.

Mrs. Thomas Clair Maguire, who has recently returned from Continental Congress held in Washington, D. C., where she was installed as State Regent of the Florida Daughters of the American Revolution, gave an interesting report of its work, and honored her own chapter by giving its members her first official address as state regent. Her talk, "What the Daughters Do," dealt with the objectives of the D. A. R. and emphasized the historical, patriotic, and educational activities of this organization. Mrs. Maguire's talk was instructive and inspiring.

She said in part: "Since my return from Washington, I feel more than ever the responsibility that lies before us as Daughters of the American Revolution. It is for us to protect and preserve our heritage as citizens of a great free nation; we must help to keep it such." In summing up the work of the D. A. During the civil war a ~~body~~^{body} of Union troops was stationed at New Haven to guard the railroad bridge. One day ~~the~~^{one of the captains} captain was up in the village, and during a conversation in a crowd assembled in front of the hotel the officer made a remark that cast serious reflections upon the Southern people in general, but more particularly upon the citizens of New Haven. This was an insult that Uncle William could not allow to go unchallenged. In looking around for something with which to give the captain a drubbing the only available object was a bench-legged hound. Seizing the dog by its hind legs he swung it around and knocked the officer sprawling in the street. Of course he was immediately arrested and marched to the stockade near ^{west end of the} the bridge where he was kept under detention. Uncle William, who loved his violin and was more than an average performer, sent a negro for his "fiddle." That evening while ^{Uncle William was} playing his fiddle the who was in charge of the ~~Stockade~~

major, became interested in his rendering of the local times ^{to which he listened with respectation, knowing nothing of the choice ago} and asked him ^{why} what he was ^{being held prisoner} doing there. "For knocking a captain down with a dog," replied Uncle William. ^{and straightforward manner of the answer} The incident so amused the commanding officer that during his chuckles he told Uncle William that when it got dark he would be free to go home.

MAREEN DUVALL

Mr. Justice Gabriel Duvall of the Supreme Court of the United States took considerable interest in the origin of the Duvall family in America and the information herein given was derived from an account written by him and preserved in a copy in the possession of a descendant, Richard M. Duvall, Attorney at Law, Baltimore, Md.:

The original settler, Maren Duvall, came to Maryland from France about 1655. On Aug. 25, 1659, a tract of land on the south side of the South River, in Anne Arundel County, was surveyed for him under the name "LaVal." It was resurveyed Sept. 9, 1665, into a tract called "Goodwill." The exact date of his birth is unknown, but it is inferred from the dates of his marriage and death and other facts that he was born between 1630 and 1635.

He was married three times. He married first about 1660 a lady whose name is unknown. She died prior to 1679. He married secondly Susannah about 1678-9 and she died about 1692. His third wife was Mary Stanton whom he married about 1693-4. Maren Duvall executed his will on Aug. 2, 1694, and it was probated on the 13th of the same month and year. He died in 1694 on his plantation called in his will "Middle Plantation," which was located near the head of South River. His widow, Mary (Stanton) Duvall, married about 1696 Col. Henry Ridgely I, and after his death in about 1711, she married the Rev. Jacob Henderson, Rector of Queen Anne Parish, in Prince Georges County and Commissary of the Province of Maryland under the Bishop of London. She had no children by either husband and died about 1650.

Maren Duvall secured grants for "Middle Plantation" "Howerton's Range" and "Richneck" in 1664; "Duvall's Addition" in 1669; "Duvall's Range" in 1672, and later "The Plains," "Morley's Grove," "Morley's Lot," "Bandel's Choice," "Larkin's Choice" were conveyed to him. In 1678 Maren Duvall contributed to the public cost of an expedition against the Nanticoke Indians, and in 1683 he was appointed by the Governor and Assembly of Maryland a Commissioner to purchase and lay out town sites. He was not a conspicuous political character, but the records show him to have been a prominent, useful and trusted member of the community in which he lived. There are many references to him in the testamentary proceedings of the State, as administrator, etc., and the church records as well as his will show that he was a devout Christian of the Protestant faith.

His first wife was the mother of his six oldest children, and his second wife, Susannah, was the mother of his remaining six children. The following are the names and the order of their ages, etc.:

1. Maren, b. 1662-3, m. prior to 1680, Frances Stockett, dau. of Capt. Thomas Stockett and Mary Wells, his wife, of Anne Arundel Co., Md.

In the Maryland Archives, Vol. XXX, there are 88 references to Robert Tyler as participating in the deliberations of the Maryland House of Delegates, and in Vol. XXXIII thereof there are 79 references, and in Vol. XXXIX there are 103 references.

WILL OF ROBERT TYLER

Dated Dec. 29, 1735; probated Aug. 24, 1738.

Mentions daughter-in-law Elizabeth Tyler, widow of his son, Edward Tyler, lately deceased; mentions also grandchildren (children of Edward Tyler, Dec(d) as follows: Samuel Tyler, Edward Tyler, Robert Tyler, and Susannah Tyler.

His daughter, Mary Whitehead (late husband James Baldwin) to have part of "Brough?" Mentions Grandsons John Baldwin, Tyler Baldwin, Thomas Baldwin, James Baldwin.

Mentions daughters Susannah Lamar and Priscilla Wickham.

Mentions son Robert Tyler and the latter's children William and Mary.

His son Maren to have a part of "Brough."

Mentions Granddaughter Ruth (parents not indicated).

To Susannah Lamar and Elizabeth Pottenger, equally, one-half moiety or part of a tract of land called Howerton's Range, 200 acres, had of Benjamin Duvall.

Susannah to have the eastern part and Elizabeth the western part; Elizabeth was also to have ten pounds in money and negroes.

Son-in-law Samuel Pottenger should give the above 100 acres (western part of Howerton's Range) to his (Samuel Pottenger's) son Robert, he being son of Samuel's present wife, my daughter Elizabeth.

Witnesses: Benj. Boyd, Phillip Pendell, Jr., Abra. Boyd, Jr., Henry Bryant. (Prince George's Co., Md., Records--Will Book, page 280)

(NOTE BY COMPILER: The above Robert Pottenger, son of Samuel, was the father of Capt. Samuel Pottenger, founder of the Pottenger's Creek Settlement in Nelson Co., Ky., in 1781. See below)

POTTENGER LINE

1693-1742

SAMUEL POTTENGER, second son of JOHN POTTENGER, the immigrant (Born 1642; died 1735), and his wife Mary (last name unknown to me, but practically proved to be BEALL), was born at his father's plantation, "Major's Lot" in Queen Anne Parish, Prince George's Co., Md., Apr. 11, 1693; (this birth date from the Queen Anne Parish records at the Md. 11. Eunice Pottenger, b. 1777; d. 1842; married Abram Grafft.

(CAPTAIN) SAMUEL POTTENGER (1754-1831)

Capt. SAMUEL POTTENGER, was born at "Parrott's Manor" in Prince Geo. Co., Md., Apr. 29, 1754; served in Capt. Samuel Lapsley's Company, Col. Nathaniel Gist's Regiment of Continental Troops in the Revolutionary War; also in Capt. William Harrod's Company of the "Pioneer Soldiers of Kentucky"; Captain in the Kentucky Militia; pioneer settler and founder of Pottenger's Fort in 1781 in Nelson Co., Ky.; died Jan. 20, 1833, while on a visit to his eldest child, Elizabeth Philips, and is buried in Cox's Creek church cemetery nearby, six miles north of Bardstown, Ky.; married first JANE (nee GRAY) WITHROW-GILKEY, June 12, 1782; married second Jenny (Caldwell) Logan, of Washington Co., Ky., Jan. 7, 1799, widow of Robert Logan, her cousin, daughter of Robert and Mary (Logan) Caldwell, sister of Gen. John Caldwell, Lieutenant-Governor of Kentucky in 1804, and niece of Gen. Benjamin Logan, pioneer settler and founder of St. Asaph's Fort in Lincoln Co., Ky., in 1775.

I copied the birth and death dates from his tombstone, which are the same as those in Pottenger family Bibles containing also the data hereinafter given pertaining to his children.

Issue of Capt. Samuel Pottenger by his First Marriage:

1. Elizabeth Pottenger, b. in Pottenger's Fort May 14, 1783; d. May 6, 1857; mar. Sept. 4, 1803, James Philips who was b. Apr. 2, 1780, and d. Jan 28, 1842, in Nelson Co., Ky.

3. John Pottenger, b. 1789; died a bachelor Sept. 7, 1833.

Issue of Capt. Samuel Pottenger by his second marriage:

1. Robert Pottenger, b. about 1801; died unmarried 1820.
2. Jane Pottenger, b. Nov. 12, 1803; d. Jan. 9, 1828; mar. Mar. 20, 1821, Ignatius A. Spalding; resided in Union Co., Ky.
3. Anna Pottenger, b. Sept. 5, 1805; d. May 10, 1881; mar. Dec. 26, 1826, Benjamin Lancaster; resided about five miles north of Bardstown, Ky.

After the country was safe from Indian depredations, Capt. Pottenger built on a tract of land adjoining his homestead preemption the first brick house in that whole region--1788--which house is still in the family. All of the interior finish is black walnut which grew in abundance on the farm, and from that fact the place was named "Walnut Hill." I have the original land grants signed by Patrick Henry, that region then being a part of Virginia. "Walnut Hill" came into the possession of Captain Pottenger's son Samuel, then to the latter's son, Thomas Jefferson Pottenger (my father), and is now owned by my sister, Vienna Pottenger. Captain Pottenger did not make a will, but divided his property among his children in his late life, and lived with them.

SAMUEL POTTENGER (1785--1832)

SAMUEL POTTENGER, b. Mar. 1, 1785; d. Sept. 23, 1832; mar. Oct. 15, 1809, LUCINDA JAMESON, b. Oct. 19, 1791; d. Butler Grigsby Remy was gr. grandson of Jacob Remy, who was driven out of France by religious persecution, emigrated to Virginia where (Westmoreland County) he took the oath of allegiance to the Crown in 1702. These persons were the antecedents of the compiler hereof.
8. Mary Jane Pottenger, infant, b. Nov. 2, 1822; d. Dec. 15, 1822.
9. Hardin Logan Pottenger, b. May 4, 1824; d. Feb. 13, 1898; mar. Rebecca Stiles.
10. Meriman Greenup Pottenger, b. Mar. 31, 1826; d. Feb. 10, 1871; mar. Eliz. Lewis.
11. Mariah Jane Pottenger, b. Jan. 5, 1830; d. Nov. 15, 1860; mar. Joseph Brown.
12. Mary Ann Pottenger, b. Aug. 12, 1832; d. Mar. 13, 1883; mar. Jas. P. Magruder

Samuel Pottenger (1785-1832), described above, left a very large real and personal estate in Nelson County, Ky., comprising about eleven thousand acres of land, water mills, distilleries, warehouses on streams tributary to the Ohio (used for shipment of merchandise to New Orleans), negroes, etc., and left a voluminous will, a copy of which is not deemed necessary since the descent is clearly established from the data last given above, taken from his and other family Bibles.

WILLIAM RUSSELL POTTENGER (1815-1887)

WILLIAM RUSSELL POTTENGER (or, as he and his contemporary kin spelled it, POTTINGER, the change in spelling being adopted by the heads of about fifteen families of the name and at the same period and has never been clearly understood by me) was b. in Nelson Co., Ky., Sept 17, 1815; d. at his residence near New Haven, Ky., in the same county, Dec. 9, 1887; mar. Mar. 18, 1835, Barbara Ann Jameson, b. Sept. 15, 1817; d. June 18, 1895; dau. of Rice Jameson (b. Sept. 11, 1793) and his wife, Susan Pulliam (b. Oct. 15, 1790; d. May 3, 1880). Rice Jameson was a brother of Lucinda Jameson, who mar. Samuel Pottenger, named above.

Issue of William Russell Pottinger and Barbara Ann (Jameson) Pottinger:

1. Lucinda Pottinger, b. June 13, 1836; d. Nov. 1, 1909; mar. James Pike.
2. Samuel " b. Oct. 27, 1840; d. Feb. 22, 1904; mar. Ann Bowling.
3. George Ann " ^{6. March} _{10, 1842} b. ~~June 3, 1844; d. Nov. 23, 1895;~~ mar. Fred. Kaster; Thos. Romine.

6. Wickliffe " b. Jan. 10, '48; d. Dec. 3, '17; mar. Mary J. Clark
7. Josephine " b. April 1, 1852.
8. SALLIE POTTINGER, b. Oct. 27, 1855; mar. Oct. 24, 1880, James Jackson of Knoxville, Tenn., who was born July 6, 1855. (Sallie Pottinger Jackson is now residing with her daughter, Comizelle Maguire, wife of Dr. Thomas Clair Maguire, at Plant City, Florida.)
9. Janie Pottinger, b. Mar. 1, '58; married James Mattingly.

The foregoing facts and dates relating to William Russell Pottinger, Barbara Ann Jameson Pottinger his wife, and their children were obtained partly from family Bibles, partly from their own children (my first cousins whom I knew well) and partly from my own personal recollections, which I took the pains to record.

SALLIE POTTINGER JACKSON (born Oct. 27, 1855)

Sallie Pottinger, daughter of William Russell and Barbara Ann (Jameson) Pottinger, was born October 27, 1855, and on October 24, 1880, married JAMES JACKSON, of Knoxville, Tenn., who was born July 6, 1855. She resides in Plant City, Fla.

Issue of James Jackson and his wife Sallie (Pottinger) Jackson;

1. Commie Zelle Jackson, who was born August 3, 1881, and was married (1st) on September 2, 1897, to Samuel Carpenter Elliott who was born at Bardstown, Ky., May 1, 1858; she married (2nd) Dr. Thomas Clair Maguire on 1908.
2. Barbara Ann Jackson who was born Oct. 28, 1883, and died Feb. 10, 1903.

COMMIE ZELLE (JACKSON-ELLIOTT) MAGUIRE

Commie Zelle Jackson, first child of James Jackson and his wife, Sallie (Pottinger), was born August 3, 1881; married (1st) Samuel Carpenter Elliott on Sept. 2, 1897, who was born at Bardstown, Ky., on May 1, 1858; married (2nd) Dr. Thomas Clair Maguire on 1908, who was born at Conyers, Georgia, May 13, 1881, the son of David O. and Margaret Maguire. Dr. Maguire has a very extensive and lucrative practice at Plant City, Fla., and he, his wife and her mother occupy a beautiful residence near that prosperous city.

Issue of Samuel Carpenter Elliott and his wife Commie Zelle Jackson;

1. William Darwin Elliott, born October 2, 1898.

No children of her marriage to Dr. Maguire.

THIS CERTIFIES that during a period extending over many years, I have been collecting and recording information and data pertaining to my family history, both paternal and maternal, and in foreign countries as well as in America; that the information herein given has been compiled and condensed from those sources; that such information was derived from personal searches of public records in Maryland and in Kentucky (the affiant was born and reared in Nelson Co., Ky., and since 1902 has been a resident of Prince George's Co., Md.); from printed works, from family Bibles, from tombstone inscriptions, from personal interviews with well-informed persons, and in many instances relating to very recent times from personal knowledge of contemporary persons, and that I believe the information and data herein set forth are true and correct.

Re C.D.A. Papers filed by
Mrs. Comizelle Maguire,
Plant City, Fla.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of a letter from my cousin, Mrs. Comizelle Maguire, named above, requesting for the State Registrar, Mrs. Frank E. Jennings, Jacksonville, Fla., certain additional information "concerning the several brothers and sisters of SAMUEL POTTENGER, who, it is said, was out to Kentucky and there married."

Enclosed is the information called for, and it is being sent to you direct at the request of Mrs. Maguire. It establishes that SAMUEL POTTENGER and all of his brothers and sisters went to Kentucky; that he and his brother William Pottenger remained there; and that all of the others emigrated to Ohio.

The name Pottenger is not a common one and for that reason is easy to follow in public records. For many years I have been compiling a record of the family and every one of the name in this country, so far as I have been able to learn, with the exception of two families, is traceable to John Pottenger of Prince Georges County, Maryland, who came over in 1665.

CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER founded the settlement in Nelson Co., Ky., (then Virginia) in 1781, although he had been prospecting and locating lands for himself and in partnership with his relatives, the Willetts and Sealls of Prince Geo. Co., Md., in that part of Virginia (since cut off into Kentucky) for some time prior to that year. He was the great-grandfather of both Mrs. Maguire and myself. He built the old homestead in Kentucky, "Walnut Hill," in 1786. My grandfather was born there; my father was born there; both owned it in succession; I was born there, and it is still in the family. I have the original patent for the land signed by Patrick Henry, Governor of Virginia. I mention this to explain that my Pottenger ancestors in Kentucky have always lived at the same location, and in Maryland in the same neighborhood on Collington Branch near Old St. Barnabas Church. A well-settled family like ours is easy to trace.

I well remember Capt. Pottenger's youngest daughter, my great-aunt, Mrs. Ann Pottenger Lancaster. She told me her father, Capt. Pottenger, was born in Prince Georges County, Md., and that he built the old house in which we were then conversing. My father often told us children the same. There has never been any doubt whatever among any of us on this point.

It appears that you are under the impression that Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Maguire are both descended from Samuel Pottenger. Only Mrs. Maguire is. For this reason please permit me to suggest a review of the evidence now in your hands, in connection with the enclosed, which establishes the line of descent required, so far as I understand the matter.

I have no interest in this case other than to accommodate Mrs. Maguire with information in my possession; and I should be glad to run over to Baltimore at any time if needed to clarify any matters in the papers submitted.

Yours very truly,

27 Spencer Street,
Hyattsville, Md.

Re C. D. A. Papers filed by

Mrs. Comizelle Maguire,
(Mrs. T. C. Maguire),
Plant City, Florida.

Data desired by Mr. Marye (extract from his letter of June 25, 1934, to Mrs. Frank E. Jennings, Jacksonville, Fla.);

"The next meeting of the Maryland Society, C.D.A., will not take place until October. In the meanwhile I should like to have copies or abstracts of the original records concerning the several brothers and sisters of SAMUEL POTTENGER, who, it is said, went out to Kentucky and there married. Judging by the dates on which they were married, I should say that several of them were much younger than SAMUEL POTTENGER, but I hope that this will cast no doubt on their identity."

ANSWER

The brothers and sisters of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER are shown in the annexed copy of a deed of gift of personalty from their father, "Robert Pottenger, of Prince Georges County, Maryland," executed December 31, 1773. (Pr.Geo.Co.,Md.,Land Records, Book BB, page 346). The names are as follows, stated in the order in which they are therein recorded, his name (SAMUEL POTTENGER) being first:

Mary Pottenger, Elizabeth Pottenger, Jemima Pottenger, Susannah Pottenger, William Pottenger, Robert Pottenger, John Pottenger, Dennis Pottenger, and Anne Pottenger.

SAMUEL POTTENGER was the eldest child. His name appears first in the above deed. As eldest male child and heir at law to his realty, he joined with his father, Robert Pottenger, of Prince Georges County, Maryland, on November 24, 1773, in deeding a tract of land to Thomas Duckett of the same county and state. (Land Records of PR.Geo.Co., Md.,Book BB, page 395). A copy is annexed in Exhibit A.

More than thirty years ago I copied the date of his birth from the SAMUEL POTTENGER family Bible. As given therein it is April 29, 1754. At the same time I copied therefrom the date of his marriage to Jane Gilkey, viz: June 12, 1782. (His first marriage.) (Note--Jane Gilkey was then a widow with two Gilkey children, and she had been previously married to a man named Wathrow by whom she had three children.)

I personally searched the public records at Springfield, Washington Co., Ky., (formed from Nelson County, in which the Pottengers settled in 1781) and there found the bond executed January 6, 1799, for the marriage of SAMUEL POTTENGER to Jenny Logan (his second marriage) which took place the following day, January 7, 1799.

MARY POTTENGER, sister of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER the founder in 1781 of the Nelson Co., Ky., Settlement, was married to James Kercheval before emigrating to Kentucky, according to Kercheval family records.

SUSANNAH POTTENGER, sister of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER, married Robert Brown in Nelson Co., Ky. I copied the entry from the marriage records of that county. The marriage ceremony took place March 30, 1791, and was performed by Rev. Benjamin Lynn.

WILLIAM POTTENGER, brother of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER, settled on land granted to him by the Commonwealth of Virginia, which land was in that part of Nelson Co., Ky., from which Washington Co., Ky., was formed in 1792. In the Washington County records I found a bond executed on January 19, 1795, for his marriage to Mary Melton.

ROBERT POTTENGER (1767-1848), brother of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER, married Fannie Gee (1777-1864) according to records in that family. They were in the Settlement made by CAPT. POTTENGER in Nelson Co., Ky., but the Gees and Robert Pottenger went to WESTERN OHIO with the migration of 1801 and it is likely they were married there, since their eldest child (Dennis Gee Pottenger) was born in Ohio April 20, 1804.

JOHN POTTENGER, brother of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER, according to the Nelson Co., Ky., marriage records (which I personally examined and copied) married March 17, 1795, Jane Gilkey, stepdaughter of Capt. POTTENGER. The records also show this note to Mr. Benjamin Grayson, the County Clerk: "Sir: Please to let John Pottenger have marriage license for Jane Gilkey, and oblige, Yours, SAMUEL POTTENGER." The note bears as witness the name of John Withrow. The latter was Jane Gilkey's half brother who married Anne Pottenger, named below. He died in Preble Co., Ohio, in 1842 aged 74 years.

DENNIS POTTENGER (1770-1856), brother of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER, according to the Nelson Co., Ky., marriage records (which I personally examined and copied) married December 8, 1796, Mrs. Sarah Black, widow of Joseph Black. Dennis Pottenger went with the migration of 1801 to Ohio. He is buried in the Town Cemetery at Camden, Ohio, and his gravestone shows that he was born July 14, 1770, and died October 14, 1856. I personally copied these dates therefrom.

ANNE POTTENGER (1773-1853), sister of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER, according to the Nelson Co., Ky., records (which I personally examined and copied) married John Withrow, a stepson of Capt. Pottenger, on March 17, 1795. (The same date as her brother John Pottenger, above, and by the same preacher, Rev. Josiah Dodge). I visited the graves of John Withrow and Anne Pottenger Withrow, his wife, in the Old Blue Meeting House Cemetery, near Seven Mile, Butler Co., Ohio, and noted from their tombstones that he was born January 17, 1768, and died November 17, 1842; she was born August 16, 1773, and died December 1, 1853. The Nelson Co., Ky., land records show that on October 21, 1805, John Withrow and Anne his wife, of Butler Co., Ohio, deeded to James Dant of Nelson Co., Ky., 193 acres of land adjoining SAMUEL POTTENGER'S preemption on Pottenger's Creek in the latter county. This deed was executed at Hamilton, Butler Co., Ohio.

ELIZABETH POTTENGER; JEMIMA POTTENGER, sisters of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER. No record of their marriage found; but see copy of Judge Robert Wilson Quinn's article below on the Family of ROBERT POTTENGER.

Given below is an extract (relating only to the family of ROBERT POTTENGER of Maryland, as pertinent to the evidence asked for in this matter) from a book printed in 1925, entitled

"A SHORT ACCOUNT OF THE QUINN, WEST, LACY, POTTENGER, KINKADE AND WILSON FAMILIES,"

compiled by Robert Wilson Quinn, for several years Judge of the Probate Court of Preble County, Ohio, at Camden, Ohio, in collaboration with David Huston Pottenger, Attorney at Law and Chief Counsel for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, Cincinnati, Ohio:

"THE POTTENGER FAMILY"

"The Pottenger Family is of English descent, the name being quite common in England. The name denotes an apothecary. It is not known to me at what time they emigrated to America, but at the beginning of the eighteenth century they were living on the western shore of Maryland and were possessed of considerable property of land. * * * * *

"DESCENDANTS OF ROBERT POTTENGER"

"ROBERT POTTENGER married Elizabeth Willett and had the following children: SAMUEL, the oldest, known as CAPTAIN POTTENGER; William, Robert, John, and Dennis; Mary, married to James Kercheval; Jemima, whose husband's name I do not know; Susan, married to Robert Brown; and Anna, married to John Withrow. Both Robert Pottenger and his wife died in Maryland when their younger children were quite young. Samuel, the oldest, went to Kentucky about the time of the Revolution. He married first a Widow Gilkey, who had been formerly a Widow Withrow."

"SAMUEL POTTENGER'S wife had three children by her first husband, Withrow; one son and one daughter by her second husband, Gilkey; and three children by SAMUEL POTTENGER. Her eldest son by Withrow, James, married Sarah Pottenger (a first cousin of his stepfather, CAPTAIN SAMUEL POTTENGER); her second son, John Withrow, married his stepfather's sister (Anna Pottenger); while her daughter, Susan Withrow, married Samuel Pottenger, Jr., a first cousin of her stepfather. Her son by Gilkey (Robert) married Sarah Kercheval (a daughter of CAPTAIN POTTENGER'S sister, Mary Kercheval), and her daughter by Gilkey (Sarah) married CAPTAIN POTTENGER'S brother John Pottenger."

"CAPTAIN POTTENGER settled on Pottenger's Creek in Nelson County, Kentucky. He built in 1788 one of the first brick houses in that part of the country. It was still standing in 1900 and was then owned by one of his grandsons. Many of his descendants and the descendants of his brother, William Pottenger, still live in that county. He got his title of Captain in the Indian wars. His brothers, Robert, John and Dennis, came from Nelson County, Kentucky, to Hubble County and bought land where Camden now stands. Robert Pottenger moved with his family to Montgomery County, Indiana, about 1832. John and Dennis Pottenger remained in Preble County. They both left large families; all of their children are now dead. John still has many grandchildren and great-grandchildren residing in Preble County. Thomas Pottenger, his oldest son, married Eliza Robbins, whose father, Daniel Robbins, was a son of Sally Withrow, originally Sally Pottenger."

"Mary Kercheval and Anna Withrow, sisters of CAPTAIN POTTENGER, also came to Ohio with their husbands. The former has a few, and the latter many descendants still living in Ohio. Among the descendants of Mrs.

Kercheval is John Pottenger Charles, of Eaton, Ohio. Anna Pottenger Withrow had a large family. Of her five sons John and Dennis Withrow died unmarried. Samuel Withrow, the oldest, died a few years ago over ninety years of age. Robert Withrow married Eliza Pottenger, and James Withrow married and died leaving a family."

"Of the daughters of Anna Pottenger Withrow, Jane, the oldest, married first a Schooley; secondly a Moorehead, and thirdly Judge Gregg of Indiana. She had children by all these marriages. Susan, the second daughter, married James Hardin of Butler County, Ohio, and has a large family. Anna, the youngest daughter, married Arthur Baird and had nine children.

SUMMARY

The foregoing furnishes evidence that "the several brothers and sisters of SAMUEL POTTENGER went out to Kentucky" and that he and five of his brothers and sisters were married in Nelson County, Kentucky, (or Washington County adjoining and formed therefrom in 1792).

I have at different times during the last forty years examined the public records in both Nelson and Washington Counties, Kentucky, and have found the data on record respecting the marriages, or marriage bonds executed, concerning five of the brothers and sisters of CAPT. SAMUEL POTTENGER as set out above. I further state that I have seen and examined the family Bible of SAMUEL POTTENGER, and that the dates and facts as above stated are as recorded therein; and that I have visited his tombstone over his grave, in Cox' Creek Baptist Church, in Nelson County Kentucky, the inscription on which shows that he died January 20, 1831, aged 77 years.

Further evidence of her descent from Marseen Duvall of Anne Arundel Co., Md., and Col. Robert Tyler of Prince Georges Co., Md., and others. (Supplemental to evidence furnished in July, 1933, which should be consulted in connection herewith).

A request has been made of me for the following additional matter:

- Item 1. A copy of the will of Robert Pottenger of Prince Georges Co., Md., (the father of Capt. Samuel Pottenger of Nelson Co., Ky.)
- Item 2. Some record to show that Capt. Samuel Pottenger went to Kentucky from Maryland.
- Item 3. Will of Capt. Samuel Pottenger.
- Item 4. In what History of Kentucky is there a sketch of Capt. Pottenger?

A note appended to the request reads:

"Genealogist requires documentary proof that Capt. Samuel Pottenger is son of Robert Pottenger of Prince Georges Co., Md., and that he went to Kentucky from Maryland."

ANSWER

- Item 1. Robert Pottenger (1729-1780) of Prince Georges Co., Md., son of Samuel Pottenger the First (1693-1742) of the same county, left no will. In lieu thereof see Exhibit A herewith, showing (1) a joint deed by this ~~XXXXXX~~ Robert Pottenger and his eldest son and heir-at-law (Capt.) Samuel Pottenger to Thomas Duckett, executed and recorded in Prince Georges Co., Md., November 24, 1773, which positively establishes by the transfer of 100 acres of land, a part of "Howerton's Range" the connection of Robert Pottenger with Robert Tyler. (See will of Robert Tyler heretofore furnished). (2) Deed of gift of personalty, dated December 31, 1773, from Robert Pottenger of Prince Georges Co., Md., to his ten children named therein.
- Item 2. Note that in the above deed from Robert and Samuel Pottenger to Thomas Duckett, SAMUEL POTTENGER states he is "of Virginia." He was therefore an inhabitant of Virginia, claiming that Colony as his place of domicile, as early as 1773. That portion of Virginia beyond the Alleghenies (later made into the State of Kentucky in 1792) was but little known until after Dummors's War of 1774, which tended to curb the activities of the Indians in the Ohio Valley. Collins' History of Kentucky, Vol. 2, page 576, shows Samuel Pottenger (with 83 others) was a petitioner in a land matter at Harrodsburg, Ky., (the first permanent settlement in the State), in December, 1776, and also in Vol. 1, page 12, that he was a soldier in a Virginia Military Organization known as the "Pioneer Soldiers of Kentucky," serving in 1780 at the forts near the Falls of the Ohio (later Louisville, Ky). Honorable Lafe S. Pence, of Lebanon, Ky., in his article on "Pottenger's Creek" states that Capt. Samuel Pottenger, the founder of the settlement thereon, came from Prince Georges Co., Md. See Exhibit D.
- Item 3. Capt. Samuel Pottenger (1754-1831) did not leave a will. After the death of his last wife he turned over his lands to his children under a contract and lived among them until his death in 1831. He died at the residence of his daughter, Elizabeth Philips. See Exhibit B which contains a copy of a deed from James Philips and Elizabeth his wife and others to Samuel Pottenger, Jr. (1785-1832). This deed shows all of Capt. Pottenger's children, except Robert who died young.

Item 4. There is no sketch of Capt. Samuel Pottenger in any History of Kentucky. He is mentioned, as above stated, in Collins' History of Kentucky in Vol. I, page 12, and Vol. II, page 511. Sketches of his life and activities have appeared in the press, the most complete of which was prepared by Hon. Lafe S. Pence, of Lebanon, Ky., and appeared in The Lebanon (Ky.) Enterprise, in several issues of that paper in 1920. See Exhibit D for extracts.

The will of Samuel Pottenger, Jr., son of Capt. Pottenger, is found in Exhibit C. He was born in 1785 and died at Walnut Hill in 1832. The son, William R. Pottenger (1815-1867) named in the will, was Mrs. Maguire's grandfather and lived and died on the property therein bequeathed to him. This William Russell Pottenger was the father of Mrs. Sallie Jackson who is now living with Mrs. Maguire at Plant City, Fla. Mrs. Sallie Jackson can substantiate these statements.

I personally copied the deeds and wills, shown in the attached Exhibits, from the public records of Prince Georges County, Maryland, and Nelson Co., Kentucky, respectively.

9. Dennis Pottenger married Sarah Black Dec. 8, 1796, according to Nelson Co., Ky., marriage records.
10. Anne Pottenger mar. John Withrow Mar. 17, 1795, according to Nelson Co., Ky., marriage records.

Captain Samuel Pottenger of Nelson Co., Ky.

Deed from James Philips and Elizabeth (Pottenger) his wife, John Pottenger (unmarried), and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann (Pottenger) his wife to Samuel Pottenger, Jr. (son of Captain Samuel Pottenger).

THIS INDENTURE made this 12th day of May in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one between James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, of the one part, and Samuel Pottenger of the other part, all residing in the State of Kentucky and in Nelson County, except Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife who reside in Washington County in said State,

WITNESSETH, That whereas Samuel Pottenger, Sen'r, deceased, late of said County of Nelson was seized of and owned sundry tracts of land lying in Nelson County on Pottenger's Creek and its waters, and other property, and by a certain instrument of writing previous to his death, dated the 20th day of February, 1828, the said Samuel Pottenger, deceased, surrendered all the lands then owned by him in said county to his heirs and representatives, to wit: Samuel Pottenger, Jr., James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, and to Ignatius Spalding as natural guardian of the infant children of said Spalding and Jane his wife, formerly Jane Pottenger, deceased, and also nearly all of his negroes and other property then owned by him; and whereas the said heirs above named mutually agreed (and did sign the said contract and agreement) that the lands and a large portion of the personal property should be sold and that agreeable to said agreement and deed of gift and transfer before referred to (and which is now filed in a suit in chancery depending in the Nelson Circuit Court in the name of Samuel Pottenger against the above named parties, and which is here referred to), and whereas in pursuance and agreeable to the said writing and agreement, at the sale made of a considerable proportion of the lands referred to and embraced in said agreement, Samuel Pottenger purchased the following tracts of land, to wit: six hundred and thirteen acres lying on the North Fork of Pottenger's Creek and including WALNUT HILL the farm whereon Samuel Pottenger, Sen'r, formerly resided; also ninety-seven acres adjoining the above tract on the east and called POTTENGER'S GIRT, and also fifty-seven acres lying on the waters of Pottenger's Creek, being the same tract of land conveyed by Andrew Rowan to the said Samuel Pottenger, Sen'r, for which several tracts of land the said Samuel Pottenger bid for and gave the sum of seven thousand six hundred and twenty-four dollars and eighty-two cents.

NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH, That the said James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife for and in consideration of the premises and their respective proportions of the said seven thousand six hundred and twenty four dollars and eighty-two cents paid to them by the said Samuel Pottenger, the receipt whereof they do hereby acknowledge, have granted, bargained and sold, and by these presents do grant, bargain, sell, alien, enfeoff, convey and confirm unto the said Samuel Pottenger, his heirs and assigns forever the above described tracts of land; the 613 acres is bound as follows, to wit: Beginning at a sycamore, double maple and hickory on the bank of Pottenger's Creek below the mill, thence north 12 deg. west 376 poles to a white oak and two small black oaks, thence north 78 deg. east 59 poles to a dead white oak in the field at Oethsemans, thence south 12 deg. west 40 poles to two white oaks and dogwood, thence north 78 deg. east 108 poles to a white oak, thence north 12 deg. west 40 poles to a walnut stump and spanish oak, thence north 78 deg. east 79 poles to a stone, thence south 12 deg. east 40 poles to a buckeye, white oak and iron wood, thence north 78 deg. east 20 poles to a buckeye, thence south 12 deg. east 135 poles to a honey locust and two elms, thence south 78 deg. west 28 poles to a white oak and hickory, thence south 12 deg. east 48 poles to two white elms on the bank of the North Fork of Pottenger's Creek, thence down the same with its meanders sundry courses 213 poles to the lower corner of Pottenger's Girt tract, thence continuing with and binding on said North Fork sundry courses 186 poles opposite to the junction of said North Fork with the Main Fork of Pottenger's Creek, thence with the meanders of said creek 405 poles to the beginning, being in all with said meanders 806 poles. The 97 acre adjoining the above tract on the east and is bounded as follows, to wit: Beginning at two white elms at D, thence with Major Price's line south 12 deg. east 86 poles to a stone, thence north 87 deg. east 212 poles with said Price's line to a stone, thence south 12 deg. east 52¹/₂ poles to a stone, thence south 87 deg. west 211 poles to two sugar trees and hackberry, thence west to the meander line of said WALNUT HILL tract and with said lines, binding with said North Fork 213 poles up the same to the beginning. The 57 acres lying on the waters of Pottenger's Creek and bounded as follows: Beginning at two sugar trees and beech corner to Mrs. Vowels, thence north 12 deg. west 230 poles to two white oaks, due east 39 poles to three dogwoods and beech, thence south 29 deg. east 10 poles to two maples and gum, thence south 12 deg. east 210 poles to an ash, beech and maple on Rowan's line, thence with Rowan's line south 78 deg. west 40 poles to the beginning.

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD the said three several tracts of land with all their appurtenances unto the said Samuel Pottenger, his heirs and assigns forever; and the said James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, for themselves and their heirs do further covenant and agree to and with the said Samuel Pottenger and his heirs that they by virtue of the contract and agreement before referred to and as heirs of the said Samuel Pottenger, deceased, a good and valid title in law to the said described tracts of land, and that they will forever warrant and defend the said several tracts of land and the appurtenances unto the said Samuel Pottenger and his heirs forever, all and singular the same (unless it is that part of a portion of said lands owned by the children of Ignatius A. Spalding and Jane his wife, formerly Jane Pottenger, the said Samuel Pottenger has to obtain their title to the same agreeably to the provisions and stipulations of the agreement referred to) and the said James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, do agree that they will forever warrant the said land as herein described, to the said Samuel Pottenger and his heirs from themselves and their heirs, and all persons claiming by, through or under them, and against the claim or claims of all and every person or persons claiming or to claim the same in any manner whatever.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals that date first written.

Will of SAMUEL POTTENGER, Junior,
of Nelson Co., Ky.

(Son of Capt. Samuel Pottenger, founder of "Pottenger's Creek Settlement")

In the name of God, Amen. I, Samuel Pottenger, of Nelson County and State of Kentucky, being of perfect health of body and of perfect mind and recollection, calling to mind that it is appointed for all men to die, hoping that after death I shall receive mercy through the merits of Jesus Christ, I commend my body to the earth to be decently interred at the discretion of my surviving friends, and as touching such of my worldly estate as it has pleased God in his mercy to bless me, after paying all my just debts I give and demise in manner and form following, to wit:

Item 1st. I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Lucinda Pottenger, to hold during her life, seven hundred and ten acres of land where I now live, the land purchased at my father's sale; also four hundred acres of land to include 57 acres purchased at my father's sale, running with Joseph Masterson's back line and running with Robert L. Pottenger's line and thence to my back line and down said line and also down front equal distance on each line for quantity. I also give to my wife five negroes as follows: Joe, James, Yellow Henry, Lue, and Bruen. One wagon, four choice horses, one first choice yoke of steers, six first choice milk cows, meat and bread sufficient for one year, one-third of the stock hogs, one-third of the choice sheep, four first choice plows, four pair gears, first choice four bridles, four collars, first choice, her own saddle and bridle, four beds, bedsteads and furniture, all my household and kitchen furniture and cupboard furniture and cooking utensils and clock (but only four beds, etc., as above named), and irons and sad irons. All the land and negroes above willed to my wife, at her death to go to my two youngest sons, Hardin Pottenger and Greenup Pottenger, to be equally divided in the following manner, to wit: Beginning at the creek and running through the tract of land leaving to one half the grist and saw mill, and to the other half the dwelling house and all other houses, also the knob land equally divided, the negroes and increase to be equally divided between them.

Item 2nd. I give and bequeath to my son John C. Pottenger three dollars to be paid in specie as his part allotted forever of my estate.

Item 3rd. I give and bequeath to my son George^{W.} Pottenger five hundred acres of land to include the warehouse, beginning at William Price's white oak corner, in the knobs, and with said Price's line to a small beech, a corner to Price, thence with another of Price's lines to the bank of the Rolling Fork below the warehouse to a mulberry, thence up the Rolling Fork with the meanders binding on it at low water mark to the upper edge of West's old field, there corner, and thence with a straight line to the road leading from Springfield to New Haven, intersecting said road at a small branch near a brushy field, there corner, thence to the back line so as to make the quantity above mentioned; also, one hundred acres of land out of the land I purchased of Rice's heirs; also, one negro man, Old Frank.

Item 4th. I give and bequeath to my son William R. Pottenger seven hundred acres of land adjoining George W. Pottenger's, beginning at West's old field, George W. Pottenger's corner, on the bank of the Rolling Fork, running up the river, binding on same to the mouth of Pottenger's Creek, thence up said creek binding on same to the mouth of a small branch that crosses the Elizabeth road and enters into the creek below the house where the Widow Masterson has lived, called Bray's old place, and first branch below her spring branch, there corner, thence run due north to the Elizabeth road and to the back line and with George W. Pottenger's out lines for quantity; also, one negro by name Saul.

Item 5th. I give and bequeath to my son James A. Pottenger seven hundred acres of land to begin at the mouth of a branch on Pottenger's Creek, William R. Pottenger's corner as above named, thence down the creek with William R. Pottenger's line to three beeches on the west bank of Pottenger's Creek, corner to Henry Burch, cross the creek to a sugartree, corner to Burch, thence a line to include the land purchased by me of Walter Burch to corner on the north bank of Pottenger's Creek, made by Walter Burch for Pottenger, up said creek binding thereon to Oldham's corner on Pottenger's Creek, near George Howard's, thence with Oldham's line up the creek to where it crosses a branch that runs through the farm I bought of Oldham the last time it crosses said branch near the fence of the Oldham farm, there corner and run due north to the Elizabeth road, thence across said road to my back line so as to include the quantity adjoining William R. Pottenger's lot; also, one negro man, Young Frank.

Item 6th. I give and bequeath to my two sons Robert C. Pottenger and Thomas J. Pottenger all the land clear of James A. Pottenger's lines and up Pottenger's Creek with Oldham's line, crossing Pottenger's Creek to a corner of Samuel Pottenger, Senior, across said creek with his line and up said creek binding thereon to include a lot of land I bought of Charles Masterson, and with the creek to a corner of my cave place on the bank of said creek below the mill, with the home place line to the Nuns' farm, another of the home place corners, and with the back line to the land I bought of Zachariah Masterson, with Masterson's line to James Dant's and Chabrat's corner, and with Chabrat's line as it may be to James A. Pottenger's corner, be the same more or less; also, two hundred acres of knob land adjoining the four hundred acres willed to the home plantation, the south side of Pottenger's Creek, to run equal distance on the back and front lines for quantity, to be equally divided between them according to quantity and quality; also, to Robert C. Pottenger a negro boy named Bob; also, to Thomas J. Pottenger one negro boy named Lewis.

Item 7th. I give and bequeath to my daughter Emeline Pottenger all the land I purchased of John Coy's heirs, be the same more or less; also, the balance of my interest of the land bought of Rice's heirs after the one hundred acres willed by me to George W. Pottenger; also, the following negroes: One woman Jude; one man Jack; one boy Zachariah; and one girl America.

Item 8th. I give and bequeath to my daughter Maria Jane Pottenger all the land I bought of the heirs of Clement Gristy, deceased; also, all the balance of the knob land not willed to Robert C., Thomas J., Hardin and Greenup Pottenger as above named in this will, be the same more or less; also, the following negroes: One woman named Henry; one boy Jordan; one boy Henry; and one boy Calvin.

Item 9th. I give and bequeath to my daughter Mary Ann Pottenger the following negroes, to wit: One woman Clara; one boy Sim; one boy Mat; one boy Robertson; and one boy Charles. Also I will that my seven youngest sons give to my daughter Mary Ann Pottenger one thousand dollars, to wit: Each of said sons to pay her one hundred forty-two dollars eighty-five and four sevenths cents, to be paid to her by them when she arrives at the age of twenty-one years; and I do further will that the lands which I have willed to my said seven sons be bound to her in security for the payment of the above-named one thousand dollars to her.

Item 10th. It is also my wish that all the residue of my property that may not be included in this will should be sold at my death and the money arising therefrom to be equally divided among my wife and my ten youngest children.

Item 11th. It is further and lastly my wish and desire that if either of my last mentioned ten children in this will shall depart this life without heir lawfully begotten of their body, in that case such part as I have willed to such child out of my estate shall descend to my wife and all my surviving children, except my son John G. Pottenger, to be equally divided among them. And I do hereby appoint my wife, Lucinda Pottenger, and my son, George W. Pottenger, the executors of this, my last, will and testament.

In testimony whereof I have set my hand and seal this twentieth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-two.

(Signed) SAMUEL POTTENGER (seal)

Witnesses present:

Henry Miles, John O'Bryan, William S. Price.

At a County Court begun and held for Nelson County, at the Court House in Bardstown on the 8th day of October, 1832, this last will and testament of Samuel Pottenger, deceased, was exhibited in court and proved by the oaths of Henry Miles, John O'Bryan and William S. Price, subscribing witnesses thereto, and ordered to be recorded; and on the motion of Lucinda Pottenger, one of the exec'rs therein named, she having taken the oath required by law and executed bond with Moses Thomas and John Jameson her securities in the penalty of $10,000.00, it is ordered that a certificate of probate of said will be granted her in due form.

Rev. Jesse Head officiated at the marriage ceremony of the President's parents. In this connection see the credit given to Judge Pence in the Foreword to Dr. William E. Barton's "The Lineage of Lincoln." (Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

Judge Pence is a descendant of the Bealls and Willetts of Prince Georges Co., Md., and the Virginia (later Kentucky) pioneer Bealls and Willetts were in partnership with Captain Samuel Pottenger in Virginia (Kentucky) land transactions. Pertinent extracts from Judge Pence's article follow:

"The lives of many early Washington county citizens, before the county was formed from Nelson in 1792, were made safe from attacks of the Indians, then numerous in the unbroken forest, by reason of the privations, labors and sacrifices endured by Captain Samuel Pottenger. Had it not been for this pioneer, many a settler would have banished hope and ambition in endeavoring to establish a cabin home within the wilds of Kentucky county. This series of articles is a tribute to the noble achievements of Captain Pottenger." * *

"Captain Samuel Pottenger was born at "Parrott's Manor" in Prince Georges Co., Md., in 1754; served in the Continental Line of the Revolutionary War and later in Harrod's command of the "Pioneer Soldiers of Kentucky" (then Virginia.) He first married Jane Gilkey, in what is now Nelson county (then Jefferson), in 1782; and for his second wife he married a widow, Jennie (Caldwell) Logan, in Washington county, in 1799, a niece of Gen. Benjamin Logan, founder of St. Asaph's Fort in Lincoln county. He had three sons and three daughters, and the descendants of this eminent man are scattered over many states. He died January 20, 1831, and lies buried in Cox's Creek church cemetery in Nelson Co., Ky.

"In the spring of 1776 Captain Samuel Pottenger came to that part of Kentucky now embraced in Nelson county, then Kentucky county, Virginia. At that early date there was but one station, or fort, in Nelson county, where the new bound settlers making into the wilds of an unbroken forest might find refuge, and that was at Cox's Station, in upper Nelson county. It was at this latter station that Captain Pottenger first lodged, after having landed in company with a party of settlers at the mouth of the Kentucky river.

"Very soon Colonel Isaac Cox, who founded this station bearing his name, realized that with such rapid increase in settlers as found their way to this one distributing center, necessary shelter and food could not be furnished to supply the needs of all. Samuel Pottenger was quick to perceive the situation at Cox's station, and he turned his attention to found another station for the usefulness of the settlers. The exact words of a witness, found in a deposition (case of Meshack Carter vs. Samuel Oldham, Court of Quarter Sessions) are as follows: "Isaac Cox having told them (settlers) there was not land enough on Cox's Creek for the needs of all," Pottenger at once determined to start for the Rolling Fork of Salt River in company with a friend from his boyhood, James Harrod (after whom Harrodsburg was named) for the purpose of settling upon a fine body of land near that stream, and with a fixed hope of founding in that section of the Rolling Fork a distributing center such as Colonel Cox had permanently founded in upper Nelson county. The impressive words of Captain Samuel Pottenger (taken from a deposition in the same case) are as follows: "I came to this county in 1776, and in 1779 (James) Harrod and myself in going from Cox's station over to the Rolling Fork, came to a creek, and Harrod then gave this creek the name of Pottenger's Creek." * * *

Further evidence of her descent from Marseen Duvall of Anne Arundel Co., Md., and Col. Robert Tyler of Prince Georges Co., Md., and others. (Supplemental to evidence furnished in July, 1933, which should be consulted in connection herewith).

A request has been made of me for the following additional matter:

- Item 1. A copy of the will of Robert Pottenger of Prince Georges Co., Md., (the father of Capt. Samuel Pottenger of Nelson Co., Ky.)
- Item 2. Some record to show that Capt. Samuel Pottenger went to Kentucky from Maryland.
- Item 3. Will of Capt. Samuel Pottenger.
- Item 4. In what History of Kentucky is there a sketch of Capt. Pottenger?

A note appended to the request reads:

"Genealogist requires documentary proof that Capt. Samuel Pottenger is son of Robert Pottenger of Prince Georges Co., Md., and that he went to Kentucky from Maryland."

ANSWER

Item 1. Robert Pottenger (1729-1780) of Prince Georges Co., Md., son of Samuel Pottenger the First (1693-1742) of the same county, left no will. In lieu thereof see Exhibit A herewith, showing (1) a joint deed by this ~~XXXXXXXX~~ Robert Pottenger and his eldest son and heir-at-law (Capt.) Samuel Pottenger to Thomas Duckett, executed and recorded in Prince Georges Co., Md., November 24, 1773, which positively establishes by the transfer of 100 acres of land, a part of "Howerton's Range" the connection of Robert Pottenger with Robert Tyler. (See will of Robert Tyler heretofore furnished). (2) Deed of gift of personalty, dated December 31, 1773, from Robert Pottenger of Prince Georges Co., Md., to his ten children named therein.

Item 2. Note that in the above deed from Robert and Samuel Pottenger to Thomas Duckett, SAMUEL POTTENGER states he is "of Virginia." He was therefore an inhabitant of Virginia, claiming that Colony as his place of domicile, as early as 1773. That portion of Virginia beyond the Alleghenies (later made into the State of Kentucky in 1792) was but little known until after Dunmore's War of 1774, which tended to curb the activities of the Indians in the Ohio Valley. Collins' History of Kentucky, Vol. 2, page 576, shows Samuel Pottenger (with 83 others) was a petitioner in a land matter at Harrodsburg, Ky., (the first permanent settlement in the State), in December, 1776, and also in Vol. 1, page 12, that he was a soldier in a Virginia Military Organization known as the "Pioneer Soldiers of Kentucky," serving in 1780 at the forts near the Falls of the Ohio (later Louisville, Ky). Honorable Lafe S. Pence, of Lebanon, Ky., in his article on "Pottenger's Creek" states that Capt. Samuel Pottenger, the founder of the settlement thereon, came from Prince Georges Co., Md. See Exhibit B.

Item 3. Capt. Samuel Pottenger (1754-1831) did not leave a will. After the death of his last wife he turned over his lands to his children under a contract and lived among them until his death in 1831. He died at the residence of his daughter, Elizabeth Philips. See Exhibit B which contains a copy of a deed from James Philips and Elizabeth his wife and others to Samuel Pottenger, Jr. (1785-1852). This deed shows all of Capt. Pottenger's children, except Robert who died young.

"When Captain Samuel Pottenger returned from the Revolutionary war he found that George May, the eminent surveyor, had been sent from the Virginia capital to Cox's station (then in Jefferson county) with full powers and instructions to open a land entering office at that place. In this move a stroke of fortune fell upon Pottenger in disguise. * * * * * Captain Pottenger was enabled to give satisfactory proof that the original land commissioners had granted him a certificate entitling him to legally hold his entire boundary of land. He also produced proof before said office that he had been prevented in having his original certificate "registered" after the same had been originally "surveyed," on account of his being in the "Continental service." * * * * * Thus was terminated (in favor of Pottenger) one of the earliest land contests in the then District of Kentucky. * * * * *

"The first court order mentioning the name of Captain Pottenger is as follows: "June 3, 1783. Ordered that the clerk be directed to certify the validity of Captain Samuel Pottenger's pay roll for the campaign of 1782." * * * * *

"In 1781, Captain Samuel Pottenger and Andrew Beall, also from Prince Georges County, Maryland, had a partnership wherein Beall was to furnish the price per acre for 12,500 acres of land along Green River, and Pottenger was to locate, survey and patent said lands and received 3,800 acres as his portion. Said contract was faithfully carried out as between themselves. It appears, however, that Captain Samuel Willett, brought suit against Pottenger making the charge, among other things, that Captain Pottenger had not paid him for assisting said Pottenger in surveying, laying out the lands, etc. It was proved, however, that Pottenger had conveyed to Willett "1,100 acres in full payment." * * * * *

"However, the fact will be remembered that Captain Pottenger obtained in 1781 a large tract of land on Green River as the result of a partnership with Andrew Beall of Maryland. * * * * * In 1799 Captain Pottenger "bargained from Nathan Beall, on the waters of Salt Lick Run and the Rolling Fork of Salt River," a large tract of land. * * * * * In the spring of 1788 Captain Samuel Pottenger erected upon his preemption tract, which was east from his settlement tract, a commodious brick residence. Like all pioneers of that day he built near a big spring. * * * * * Still one fact pertaining thereto is remarkable in America--that is that the sixth generation from the builder now lives in it, and that the title to the land has never changed from the same family since the original patent was granted unto Captain Samuel Pottenger by Governor Patrick Henry of Virginia. * * * * *

"Although the Kentucky historian neglected to mention his noble works in aiding the early settlements of our state, yet, in the words of that Presidential hero, who was brought up within sight of "Pottenger's Settlement," and was a school child on Knob Creek, the name of Captain Samuel Pottenger "shall not perish from the earth." "

Item 4. There is no sketch of Capt. Samuel Pottenger in any History of Kentucky. He is mentioned, as above stated, in Collins' History of Kentucky in Vol. I, page 12, and Vol. II, page 511. Sketches of his life and activities have appeared in the press, the most complete of which was prepared by Hon. Lafe S. Pence, of Lebanon, Ky., and appeared in The Lebanon (Ky.) Enterprise, in several issues of that paper in 1920. See Exhibit D for extracts.

The will of Samuel Pottenger, Jr., son of Capt. Pottenger, is found in Exhibit C. He was born in 1786 and died at Walnut Hill in 1832. The son, William R. Pottenger (1815-1867) named in the will, was Mrs. Maguire's grandfather and lived and died on the property therein bequeathed to him. This William Russell Pottenger was the father of Mrs. Sallie Jackson who is now living with Mrs. Maguire at Plant City, Fla. Mrs. Sallie Jackson can substantiate these statements.

I personally copied the deeds and wills, shown in the attached Exhibits, from the public records of Prince Georges County, Maryland, and Nelson Co., Kentucky, respectively.

The foregoing deed was recorded on March 23, 1774.

Captain Samuel Pottenger of Nelson Co., Ky.

Deed from James Philips and Elizabeth (Pottenger) his wife, John Pottenger (unmarried), and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann (Pottenger) his wife to Samuel Pottenger, Jr. (son of Captain Samuel Pottenger).

THIS INDENTURE made this 12th day of May in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one between James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, of the one part, and Samuel Pottenger of the other part, all residing in the State of Kentucky and in Nelson County, except Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife who reside in Washington County in said State,

WITNESSETH, That whereas Samuel Pottenger, Sen'r, deceased, late of said County of Nelson was seized of and owned sundry tracts of land lying in Nelson County on Pottenger's Creek and its waters, and other property, and by a certain instrument of writing previous to his death, dated the 20th day of February, 1828, the said Samuel Pottenger, deceased, surrendered all the lands then owned by him in said county to his heirs and representatives, to wit: Samuel Pottenger, Jr., James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, and to Ignatius Spalding as natural guardian of the infant children of said Spalding and Jane his wife, formerly Jane Pottenger, deceased, and also nearly all of his negroes and other property then owned by him; and whereas the said heirs above named mutually agreed (and did sign the said contract and agreement) that the lands and a large portion of the personal property should be sold and that agreeable to said agreement and deed of gift and transfer before referred to (and which is now filed in a suit in chancery depending in the Nelson Circuit Court in the name of Samuel Pottenger against the above named parties, and which is here referred to), and whereas in pursuance and agreeable to the said writing and agreement, at the sale made of a considerable proportion of the lands referred to and embraced in said agreement, Samuel Pottenger purchased the following tracts of land, to wit: six hundred and thirteen acres lying on the North Fork of Pottenger's Creek and including WALNUT HILL the farm whereon Samuel Pottenger, Sen'r, formerly resided; also ninety-seven acres adjoining the above tract on the east and called POTTENGER'S CREEK, and also fifty-seven acres lying on the waters of Pottenger's Creek, being the same tract of land conveyed by Andrew Rowan to the said Samuel Pottenger, Sen'r, for which several tracts of land the said Samuel Pottenger bid for and gave the sum of seven thousand six hundred and twenty-four dollars and eighty-two cents.

NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH, That the said James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife for and in consideration of the premises and their respective proportions of the said seven thousand six hundred and twenty four dollars and eighty-two cents paid to them by the said Samuel Pottenger, the receipt whereof they do hereby acknowledge, have granted, bargained and sold, and by these presents do grant, bargain, sell, alien, enfeoff, convey and confirm unto the said Samuel Pottenger, his heirs and assigns forever the above described tracts of land; the 613 acres is bound as follows, to wit: Beginning at a sycamore, double maple and hickory on the bank of Pottenger's Creek below the mill, thence north 12 deg. west 376 poles to a white oak and two small black oaks, thence north 78 deg. east 59 poles to a dead white oak in the field at Gethsemane, thence south 12 deg. west 40 poles to two white oaks and dogwood, thence north 78 deg. east 108 poles to a white oak, thence north 12 deg. west 40 poles to a walnut stump and spanish oak, thence north 78 deg. east 79 poles to a stone, thence south 12 deg. east 40 poles to a buckeye, white oak and iron wood, thence north 78 deg. east 20 poles to a buckeye, thence south 12 deg. east 136 poles to a honey locust and two elms, thence south 78 deg. west 28 poles to a white oak and hickory. thence south 12 deg. east 48 poles to two white

elms on the bank of the North Fork of Pottenger's Creek, thence down the same with its meanders sundry courses 213 poles to the lower corner of Pottenger's Girt tract, thence continuing with and binding on said North Fork sundry courses 188 poles opposite to the junction of said North Fork with the Main Fork of Pottenger's Creek, thence with the meanders of said creek 405 poles to the beginning, being in all with said meanders 806 poles. The 97 acres adjoining the above tract on the east and is bounded as follows, to wit: Beginning at two white elms at D, thence with Major Price's line south 12 deg. east 86 poles to a stone, thence north 87 deg. east 212 poles with said Price's line to a stone, thence south 12 deg. east 52 $\frac{1}{2}$ poles to a stone, thence south 87 deg. west 211 poles to two sugar trees and hackberry, thence west to the meander line of said WALNUT HILL tract and with said lines, binding with said North Fork 213 poles up the same to the beginning. The 57 acres lying on the waters of Pottenger's Creek and bounded as follows: Beginning at two sugar trees and beech corner to Mrs. Vowels, thence north 12 deg. west 230 poles to two white oaks, due east 39 poles to three dogwoods and beech, thence south 29 deg. east 10 poles to two maples and gum, thence south 12 deg. east 210 poles to an ash, beech and maple on Rowan's line, thence with Rowan's line south 78 deg. west 60 poles to the beginning.

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD the said three several tracts of land with all their appurtenances unto the said Samuel Pottenger, his heirs and assigns forever; and the said James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, for themselves and their heirs do further covenant and agree to and with the said Samuel Pottenger and his heirs that they by virtue of the contract and agreement before referred to and as heirs of the said Samuel Pottenger, deceased, a good and valid title in law to the said described tracts of land, and that they will forever warrant and defend the said several tracts of land and the appurtenances unto the said Samuel Pottenger and his heirs forever, all and singular the same (unless it is that part of ~~xx~~ portion of said lands owned by the children of Ignatius A. Spalding and Jane his wife, formerly Jane Pottenger, the said Samuel Pottenger has to obtain their title to the same agreeably to the provisions and stipulations of the agreement referred to) and the said James Philips and Elizabeth his wife, John Pottenger, and Benjamin Lancaster and Ann his wife, do agree that they will forever warrant the said land as herein described, to the said Samuel Pottenger and his heirs from themselves and their heirs, and all persons claiming by, through or under them, and against the claim or claims of all and every person or persons claiming or to claim the same in any manner whatever.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals that date first written.

Will of SAMUEL POTTENGER, Junior,
of Nelson Co., Ky.
(Son of Capt. Samuel Pottenger, founder of "Pottenger's Creek Settlement")

In the name of God, Amen. I, Samuel Pottenger, of Nelson County and State of Kentucky, being of perfect health of body and of perfect mind and recollection, calling to mind that it is appointed for all men to die, hoping that after death I shall receive mercy through the merits of Jesus Christ, I commend my body to the earth to be decently interred at the discretion of my surviving friends, and as touching such of my worldly estate as it has pleased God in his mercy to bless me, after paying all my just debts I give and demise in manner and form following, to wit:

Item 1st. I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Lucinda Pottenger, to hold during her life, seven hundred and ten acres of land where I now live, the land purchased at my father's sale; also four hundred acres of land to include 57 acres purchased at my father's sale, running with Joseph Masterson's back line and running with Robert L. Pottenger's line and thence to my back line and down said line and also down front equal distance on each line for quantity. I also give to my wife five negroes as follows: Joe, James, Yellow Henry, Lue, and Bruen. One wagon, four choice horses, one first choice yoke of steers, six first choice milk cows, meat and bread sufficient for one year, one-third of the stock hogs, one-third of the choice sheep, four first choice plows, four pair gears, first choice four bridles, four collars, first choice, her own saddle and bridle, four beds, bedsteads and furniture, all my household and kitchen furniture and cupboard furniture and cooking utensils and clock (but only four beds, etc., as above named), and irons and sad irons. All the land and negroes above willed to my wife, at her death to go to my two youngest sons, Hardin Pottenger and Greenup Pottenger, to be equally divided in the following manner, to wit: Beginning at the creek and running through the tract of land leaving to one half the grist and saw mill, and to the other half the dwelling house and all other houses, also the knob land equally divided, the negroes and increase to be equally divided between them.

Item 2nd. I give and bequeath to my son John G. Pottenger three dollars to be paid in specie as his part allotted forever of my estate.

Item 3rd. I give and bequeath to my son George W. Pottenger five hundred acres of land to include the warehouse, beginning at William Price's white oak corner, in the knobs, and with said Price's line to a small beech, a corner to Price, thence with another of Price's lines to the bank of the Rolling Fork below the warehouse to a mulberry, thence up the Rolling Fork with the meanders binding on it at low water mark to the upper edge of West's old field, there corner, and thence with a straight line to the road leading from Springfield to New Haven, intersecting said road at a small branch near a brushy field, there corner, thence to the back line so as to make the quantity above mentioned; also, one hundred acres of land out of the land I purchased of Rice's heirs; also, one negro man, Old Frank.

Item 4th. I give and bequeath to my son William R. Pottenger seven hundred acres of land adjoining George W. Pottenger's, beginning at West's old field, George W. Pottenger's corner, on the bank of the Rolling Fork, running up the river, binding on same to the mouth of Pottenger's Creek, thence up said creek binding on same to the mouth of a small branch that crosses the Elizabeth road and enters into the creek below the house where the Widow Masterson has lived, called Bray's old place, and first branch below her spring branch, there corner, thence run due north to the Elizabeth road and to the back line and with George W. Pottenger's out lines for quantity; also, one negro by name Saul.

Item 5th. I give and bequeath to my son James A. Pottenger seven hundred acres of land to begin at the mouth of a branch on Pottenger's Creek, William R. Pottenger's corner as above named, thence down the creek with William R. Pottenger's line to three beeches on the west bank of Pottenger's Creek, corner to Henry Burch, cross the creek to a sugartree, corner to Burch, thence a line to include the land purchased by me of Walter Burch to corner on the north bank of Pottenger's Creek, made by Walter Burch for Pottenger, up said creek binding thereon to Oldham's corner on Pottenger's Creek, near George Howard's, thence with Oldham's line up the creek to where it crosses a branch that runs through the farm I bought of Oldham the last time it crosses said branch near the fence of the Oldham farm, there corner and run due north to the Elizabeth road, thence across said road to my back line so as to include the quantity adjoining William R. Pottenger's lot; also, one negro man, Young Frank.

Item 5th. I give and bequeath to my two sons Robert C. Pottenger and Thomas J. Pottenger all the land clear of James A. Pottenger's lines and up Pottenger's Creek with Oldham's line, crossing Pottenger's Creek to a corner of Samuel Pottenger, Senior, across said creek with his line and up said creek binding thereon to include a lot of land I bought of Charles Masterson, and with the creek to a corner of my cave place on the bank of said creek below the mill, with the home place line to the Nuns' farm, another of the home place corners, and with the back line to the land I bought of Zachariah Masterson, with Masterson's line to James Dant's and Chabrat's corner, and with Chabrat's line as it may be to James A. Pottenger's corner, be the same more or less; also, two hundred acres of knob land adjoining the four hundred acres willed to the home plantation, the south side of Pottenger's Creek, to run equal distance on the back and front lines for quantity, to be equally divided between them according to quantity and quality; also, to Robert C. Pottenger a negro boy named Bob; also, to Thomas J. Pottenger one negro boy named Lewis.

Item 7th. I give and bequeath to my daughter Emeline Pottenger all the land I purchased of John Coy's heirs, be the same more or less; also, the balance of my interest of the land bought of Rice's heirs after the one hundred acres willed by me to George W. Pottenger; also, the following negroes: One woman Jude; one man Jack; one boy Zachariah; and one girl America.

Item 8th. I give and bequeath to my daughter Maria Jane Pottenger all the land I bought of the heirs of Clement Gristy, deceased; also, all the balance of the knob land not willed to Robert C., Thomas J., Hardin and Greenup Pottenger as above named in this will, be the same more or less; also, the following negroes: One woman named Henry; one boy Jordan; one boy Henry; and one boy Calvin.

Item 9th. I give and bequeath to my daughter Mary Ann Pottenger the following negroes, to wit: One woman Clara; one boy Sim; one boy Mat; one boy Robertson; and one boy Charles. Also I will that my seven youngest sons give to my daughter Mary Ann Pottenger one thousand dollars, to wit: Each of said sons to pay her one hundred forty-two dollars eighty-five and four sevenths cents, to be paid to her by them when she arrives at the age of twenty-one years; and I do further will that the lands which I have willed to my said seven sons be bound to her in security for the payment of the above-named one thousand dollars to her.

Item 10th. It is also my wish that all the residue of my property that may not be included in this will should be sold at my death and the money arising therefrom to be equally divided among my wife and my ten youngest children.

Item 11th. It is further and lastly my wish and desire that if either of my last mentioned ten children in this will shall depart this life without heir lawfully begotten of their body, in that case such part as I have willed to such child out of my estate shall descend to my wife and all my surviving children, except my son John G. Pottenger, to be equally divided among them. And I do hereby appoint my wife, Lucinda Pottenger, and my son, George W. Pottenger, the executors of this, my last, will and testament.

In testimony whereof I have set my hand and seal this twentieth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-two.

(Signed) SAMUEL POTTENGER (seal)

Witnesses present:

Henry Miles, John O'Bryan, William S. Price.

At a County Court begun and held for Nelson County, at the Court House in Bardstown on the 8th day of October, 1832, this last will and testament of Samuel Pottenger, deceased, was exhibited in court and proved by the oaths of Henry Miles, John O'Bryan and William S. Price, subscribing witnesses thereto, and ordered to be recorded; and on the motion of Lucinda Pottenger, one of the exec'rs therein named, she having taken the oath required by law and executed bond with Moses Thomas and John Jameson her securities in the penalty of $10,000.00, it is ordered that a certificate of probate of said will be granted her in due form.

(Signed) Nathaniel Wickliffe, Clerk Nelson County Court.

Hon. Lafe S. Pence, Lebanon, Ky., wrote an article entitled "Pottenger's Creek" which appeared in several issues of The Lebanon (Ky.) Enterprise, beginning January 2, 1920. Judge Pence has done a great deal of original research work on Kentucky history and has contributed materially to the history of the Families of Lincoln (the President's family), Hanks and Head relating to the period when these families lived in Nelson Co., Ky. Rev. Jesse Head officiated at the marriage ceremony of the President's parents. In this connection see the credit given to Judge Pence in the Foreword to Dr. William E. Barton's "The Lineage of Lincoln." (Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

Judge Pence is a descendant of the Bealls and Willetts of Prince Georges Co., Md., and the Virginia (later Kentucky) pioneer Bealls and Willetts were in partnership with Captain Samuel Pottenger in Virginia (Kentucky) land transactions. Pertinent extracts from Judge Pence's article follow:

"The lives of many early Washington county citizens, before the county was formed from Nelson in 1792, were made safe from attacks of the Indians, then numerous in the unbroken forest, by reason of the privations, labors and sacrifices endured by Captain Samuel Pottenger. Had it not been for this pioneer, many a settler would have banished hope and ambition in endeavoring to establish a cabin home within the wilds of Kentucky county. This series of articles is a tribute to the noble achievements of Captain Pottenger." * * *

"Captain Samuel Pottenger was born at "Parrott's Manor" in Prince Georges Co., Md., in 1754; served in the Continental Line of the Revolutionary War and later in Harrod's command of the "Pioneer Soldiers of Kentucky" (then Virginia.) He first married Jane Gilkey, in what is now Nelson county (then Jefferson), in 1782; and for his second wife he married a widow, Jennie (Caldwell) Logan, in Washington county, in 1799, a niece of Gen. Benjamin Logan, founder of St. Asaph's Fort in Lincoln county. He had three sons and three daughters, and the descendants of this eminent man are scattered over many states. He died January 20, 1831, and lies buried in Cox's Creek church cemetery in Nelson Co., Ky.

"In the spring of 1776 Captain Samuel Pottenger came to that part of Kentucky now embraced in Nelson county, then Kentucky county, Virginia. At that early date there was but one station, or fort, in Nelson county, where the new bound settlers making into the wilds of an unbroken forest might find refuge, and that was at Cox's Station, in upper Nelson county. It was at this latter station that Captain Pottenger first lodged, after having landed in company with a party of settlers at the mouth of the Kentucky river.

"Very soon Colonel Isaac Cox, who founded this station bearing his name, realized that with such rapid increase in settlers as found their way to this one distributing center, necessary shelter and food could not be furnished to supply the needs of all. Samuel Pottenger was quick to perceive the situation at Cox's station, and he turned his attention to found another station for the usefulness of the settlers. The exact words of a witness, found in a deposition (case of Meshack Carter vs. Samuel Oldham, Court of Quarter Sessions) are as follows: "Isaac Cox having told them (settlers) there was not land enough on Cox's Creek for the needs of all," Pottenger at once determined to start for the Rolling Fork of Salt River in company with a friend from his boyhood, James Harrod (after whom Harrodsburg was named) for the purpose of settling upon a fine body of land near that stream, and with a fixed hope of founding in that section of the Rolling Fork a distributing center such as Colonel Cox had permanently founded in upper Nelson county. The impressive words of Captain Samuel Pottenger (taken from a deposition in the same case) are as follows: "I came to this county in 1776, and in 1779 (James) Harrod and myself in going from Cox's station over to the Rolling Fork, came to a creek, and Harrod then gave this creek the name of Pottenger's Creek." * * *

"When Captain Samuel Pottenger returned from the Revolutionary war he found that George May, the eminent surveyor, had been sent from the Virginia capital to Cox's station (then in Jefferson county) with full powers and instructions to open a land entering office at that place. In this move a stroke of fortune fell upon Pottenger in disguise. * * * * * Captain Pottenger was enabled to give satisfactory proof that the original land commissioners had granted him a certificate entitling him to legally hold his entire boundary of land. He also produced proof before said office that he had been prevented in having his original certificate "registered" after the same had been originally "surveyed," on account of his being in the "Continental service." * * * * * Thus was terminated (in favor of Pottenger) one of the earliest land contests in the then District of Kentucky. * * * * *

"The first court order mentioning the name of Captain Pottenger is as follows: "June 3, 1763. Ordered that the clerk be directed to certify the validity of Captain Samuel Pottenger's pay roll for the campaign of 1762." * * * * *

"In 1781, Captain Samuel Pottenger and Andrew Beall, also from Prince Georges County, Maryland, had a partnership wherein Beall was to furnish the price per acre for 12,500 acres of land along Green River, and Pottenger was to locate, survey and patent said lands and received 3,800 acres as his portion. Said contract was faithfully carried out as between themselves. It appears, however, that Captain Samuel Willett, brought suit against Pottenger making the charge, among other things, that Captain Pottenger had not paid him for assisting said Pottenger in surveying, laying out the lands, etc. It was proved, however, that Pottenger had conveyed to Willett "1,100 acres in full payment." * * * * *

"However, the fact will be remembered that Captain Pottenger obtained in 1761 a large tract of land on Green River as the result of a partnership with Andrew Beall of Maryland. * * * * * In 1799 Captain Pottenger "bargained from Nathan Beall, on the waters of Salt Lick Run and the Rolling Fork of Salt River," a large tract of land. * * * * * In the spring of 1786 Captain Samuel Pottenger erected upon his preemption tract, which was east from his settlement tract, a commodious brick residence. Like all pioneers of that day he built near a big spring. * * * * * Still one fact pertaining thereto is remarkable in America--that is that the sixth generation from the builder now lives in it, and that the title to the land has never changed from the same family since the original patent was granted unto Captain Samuel Pottenger by Governor Patrick Henry of Virginia. * * * * *

"Although the Kentucky historian neglected to mention his noble works in aiding the early settlements of our state, yet, in the words of that Presidential hero, who was brought up within sight of "Pottenger's Settlement," and was a school child on Knob Creek, the name of Captain Samuel Pottenger "shall not perish from the earth." James Allen Pottenger was named after James Allen, a prominent lawyer of the Bardstown bar, who took a leading part in the famous "Old Court - New Court" controversy in Kentucky and who on this issue became a member of the Kentucky legislature in 1825, succeeding the renowned jurist The Hon. Ben. Chapeze, likewise long one of the most distinguished lawyers at Bardstown.

Passing Of 18th Amendment, New Growth Of Distilling, Recalls Heyday Of Industry In Nelson Years Ago

This continues The STANDARD's series of reprints from the 1896 New Year's supplement of the Nelson County Record, being sketches of former Nelson county distilleries as prepared by Sam Carpenter Elliott.

S. P. LANCASTER DISTILLERY

Among the most noted distillers and race-horse producers in Kentucky are the Lancasters. S. P. Lancaster, of whom I write, is a man of affairs and large business capacity. As a distiller, as a breeder and as a farmer he stands on a high plane. He engaged in the manufacture of bourbon whisky back in the forties. In 1850 he, in company with his brother, J. M. Lancaster, established the present distillery, and from thirty bushels' capacity it has grown until it is now over four hundred.

The distillery is situated a mile and a half from Bardstown, on the Springfield Branch of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. All the very latest improvements in machinery, etc. for the manufacture of fine whisky, may be seen here. There is splendid drainage, the distillery being situated upon the side of a hill, thereby allowing all impurities to be carried down into the creek below. Four never-failing springs supply sufficient water to run this large establishment.

USES OWN CORN

The corn, malt and rye used is select, Mr. Lancaster being a large farmer, produces a considerable portion of the corn, which is of a fine, flinty variety, used at the distillery. The warehouses are elevated, and are iron-clad. They are heated by steam, well ventilated, and have a capacity of over fifteen thousand barrels. Mr. Lancaster makes no private brands; his only brand is the celebrated "S. P. Lancaster" which is well known throughout the country.

Withrow's run is a beautiful stream, and there is much picturesque scenery from its fountain head to its mouth. Nazareth Academy is only a short distance from this celebrated distillery. Just above the distillery is where the Springfield branch of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad crosses over a large trestle.

The general management of this large plant is mostly superintended by Mr. Lancaster himself. He is a wonderfully energetic man, and possessing as he does, so much knowledge of the requirements of a distiller in this sense, finds it exceedingly beneficial to the interests of his purchasers to give his personal attention to the manufacture of his product.

A LEADING CITIZEN

Mr. Lancaster has been for years identified as one of the most successful and intelligent farmers in Nelson county. A man of strong and vigorous intellect, congenial, and noted for that old time Kentucky hospitality, which has made our Commonwealth so famous the world over.

Adjoining Mr. Lancaster's distillery is his well-known stock farm. Such famous horses as Linden, Marion C., Kiola, Carus and Becky B., have been bred and raised upon the farm by Mr. Lancaster. He now has some twenty fine brood mares, and one of the finest bred stallions in the country, Trafalgar. He is a beautiful sorrel, with a white star in his forehead.

Mr. Lancaster is the son of Ben and Annie Pottinger Lancaster, of Marion County, and was born there in 1830. He attended St. Mary's College one year and St. Joseph's College two years. After leaving school he engaged in farming and breeding fine race horses. He is a representative Democrat, and is unmarried.

Dear Sir:

I am trying to locate a relative, Edward Pottinger, who many years ago moved from this State, probably from Elkton in Todd County, and is said to have had a farm near Sadler's in your county.

I shall appreciate it very much if you will examine your records and let me whether you have any trace of him, and if the name is still in existence in your section I should be glad to have the names of any of his family.

I have heard that he married in your county. If so, he married about 1865-1875. If you have a record of it, kindly let me know name of lady and date of marriage.

Thank you very much in advance for anything you can tell me in connection with the above.

Since writing you a couple of days ago for information concerning Edward Pottinger, I have learned that he went to Robertson Co., Tenn., and there married Mattie Alsbrook in October, 1877. The ceremony was performed by a minister named Rev. E. C. Plaster.

If you do not find any one who remembers anything about the Pottenger family, perhaps some of the Alsbrooks are still living and would know. Would appreciate any facts you can furnish, or if you will be so kind as to give me names of persons who might know I will write them direct.

W. F. POTTINGER CALLED BY DEATH

Beloved Invalid Passes Away at 10 o'clock Saturday After Six Years of Suffering.

SICK BED HAS BEEN A GOSPEL MINISTRY

Those Who Have Visited Him Have Gone Away Better Men and Women.

Hillsboro, Texas

William F. Pottinger, died at the family residence, 926 Second street, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, aged 40 years, 8 months and 9 days. Funeral services will be held at the Central Christian church at 3 o'clock tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon, conducted by Revs. Charles M. Schoonover of Hillsboro and E. S. Bledsoe of Waxahachie. Interment will be at Ridge Park cemetery, with Dillon & Benton in charge of arrangements.

W. F. Pottinger was a native Texan and was born in Falls county Sept. 7, 1884. spent his boyhood and young manhood there and was in the dry goods business there for several years, moving to Hillsboro in 1913. After coming to Hillsboro he was for a time a stockholder in the Hillsboro Dry Goods Co., later engaging in the automobile business with his brother, Dal Pottinger. He was seriously injured when he dived against a rock while in swimming at Glen Rose on July 31st, 1919, and has been an invalid since. He was married Aug. 13, 1908 to Miss Fatie Knowles, a sister of Mrs. Krum Kirkpatrick of Hillsboro, who passed away on June 1, 1920.

He is survived by three sons, Wm. K., Claude B. and Wm. Frederick, his mother, Mrs. M. E. Pottinger, two brothers, G. Dal of Hillsboro and Storey D. of Lott and one sister, Mrs. Young Priest of Lott, Tex.

The city of Hillsboro never possessed a more beautiful Christian character than that of William E. Pottinger. Twenty-four years ago he made a profession of faith in Christ and united with the Christian church, and whether it was in business, social relation or as man to man his daily walk evidenced his close contact with his Savior and it was when affliction came and he could no longer leave home that possibly he rendered the most loving service to his Master. It was a veritable benediction to visit him. Men who went to see him with the idea of cheering or comforting him, found that it was he proved the comforter, he who left the ray of sunshine and strength to get out and fight harder life's bat-

les. Though his body was racked with pain, his face was smiling, his voice sweet and, rather than complaining, giving forth praise to God for the many blessings with which he had been surrounded. A man came away knowing that he had been in the very presence of Gods messenger, and Pottinger's bed was a pulpit which preached sermons as lasting, as impressive and as far reaching in their effects as any in the greatest churches of the land. Men left him, seeing how small their own troubles and perplexities were, and how the love of Christ made one content to bear any sufferings or afflictions. Let it be understood, too, that preaching the gospel was not the only work which Mr. Pottinger did, for he was an energetic man, and established a magazine agency, and within the past two years has through the use of the telephone built up quite a lucrative business in this way.

And as Mr. Pottinger passes from the stage of action, it will not be out of place to think of the devotion of mother, brothers, brother-in-law and sisters-in-law and especially that sister-in-law, Mrs. Dal Pottinger, who when Mrs. W. F. Pottinger passed away became a mother to her children and a constant attendant at the bedside of the invalid and whose Christian character has doubtless been one of the means of the great happiness which permeated the heart of the invalid and caused him to rejoice over the goodness of God.

Hillsboro will grieve at the going of W. F. Pottinger, but they are thankful for the blessings of his influence.

A TRIBUTE TO CHRISTIANITY

Was the Services Held for W. F. Pottinger on Sunday Afternoon.

CHURCH OVERFLOWS WITH FRIENDS OF DECEASED

Many of Whom Came From Other Towns, While Floral Offerings Were Numerous.

Funeral services for W. F. Pottinger, beloved invalid, whose death Saturday ended six years of suffering as a result of an accidental injury to his spine, took the form of a tribute to the Christian religion, and was beautiful in its simplicity, and its story of the life of a man who lived close to his Savior.

Rev. Charles M. Schoonover, pastor, related the patience of the man despite his great suffering, his cheerfulness, his faith in the Savior, his thoughtfulness of others, the wide influence for good over those who came to visit him, while Rev. E. S. Bledsoe of Waxahachie, for many years also Mr. Pottinger's pastor, told why this way was so, in a beautiful sermon, based on the text, "I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me."

The Liberty Temple quartette which often visited Mr. Pottinger and sang for him gave one of his favorite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross," while Mrs. Charles M. Schoonover gave another.

Further testimony of the goodness of the man and the love which this community and other communities held for him was given in the large crowd present at the service many of whom were unable to get into the building, and containing in its numbers more people from out of town than has possibly ever attended a funeral here, together with the wealth of beautiful floral offerings.

Following the church service a brief service was held at the grave, by Rev. Schoonover, with Dillon & Benton in charge of arrangements. The following acted as pallbearers: R. L. Utley, Clyde Tomlinson, Maurice Spalding, Taylor J. Sims, R. E. Siddons and J. R. Lockerd.

In addition to members of the family mentioned in Saturday's Mirror, the following out of town people were among those present: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Ligon and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McMaster-Pottinger Wedding Solemnized in Saint Alban's Church

Daughter of Senator Is Bride of Marine Corps Officer.

St. Alban's Church was the scene of a charming military wedding of particular interest in senatorial circles yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Dorothy McMaster, daughter of Senator and Mrs. William Henry McMaster of South Dakota, became the bride of Lieut. William Knowles Pottinger, U. S. M. C., of Hillsboro, Tex., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick Pottinger and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Pottinger of Hillsboro, Tex. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles T. Warner, rector of the church.

Preceding the ceremony a program of organ selections was given. Two gold vases filled with pink roses were the only decorations in the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a princess gown of ivory satin with a lace yoke and long lace sleeves which went into cuffs over the wrists. The gown was fashioned with a long train and her tulle veil was arranged in halo effect and caught at the back and sides with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book from which the service was read. A shower of lilies of the valley fell from the prayer book.

Miss Ethel Soule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton M. Soule of Baltimore, was the maid of honor, wearing a gown of eggshell lace fashioned with a jacket and a belt of sapphire blue velvet. She wore a small velvet hat and slippers to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink and blue delphinium.

Ensign Damon Cummings of Washington was the best man, and the ushers selected were Ensign R. K. Anderson, Lieut. F. L. Wieseman, Lieut. A. R. Brunello, Lieut. H. J. Larson and Lieut. R. W. Hayward. An impressive feature of the wedding was the forming by the men of the wedding party of an arch of sabres, under which the bridal couple walked when leaving the church.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting the couple were the bride's parents and Col. and Mrs. R. B. Farquharson of Norfolk. Mrs. McMaster wore a flowered chiffon with black accessories and Mrs. Farquharson was in flowered chiffon with blue predominating. Lieut. Pottinger and his bride left later for a wedding trip, the bride wearing a black tailored suit with accessories to match. They will be at home at 1018 South Forty-eighth street, Philadelphia.

The bride is a graduate of Hobart Arms and has been attending Goucher College for two years. Lieut. Pottinger was graduated from the Naval Academy in June.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hollister of Chicago and Lieut. and Mrs. W. K. Brown and Mr. William Richardson of Philadelphia. Wash. Star, Sep. 20, 1931

ROLLIE GUTHRIE SERVICES FRIDAY

Rites at New Haven For Retired Farmer, Railroad Agent

Funeral services for Rollie Guthrie, 79, who died December 30, at his home at New Hope, were held January 1 at 2 p. m. at the C. J. Coyle funeral home at New Haven, Rev. Henry E. Walden, Louisville, Baptist Minister, officiating. Interment was in River-view Cemetery, with services at the cemetery conducted by the Masonic Lodge, W. F. Hibbs, Bardstown, serving as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Guthrie came to New Hope as L. & N. agent in 1885 and married Miss Susan Pottinger November 13, 1888. He was at one time agent at New Haven and Gethsemane. He left railroad service in 1895 and bought a farm near New Hope. He sold his farm in 1910 and moved to Oklahoma for about two years, going from there to Ohio where he was with the B. & O. Railroad at Middletown. He retired at Swanders in 1932 and moved back to Miller Springs, where he died.

Member of Gleanings Lodge

A member of Gleanings Lodge, F. & A. M., No. 895, Mr. Guthrie is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Maude Guthrie Danner, Zanesville, Ohio, and two sons, Samuel P. Guthrie, Cold Spring, Ky., and Rollie M. Guthrie, Louisville; one sister, Mrs. J. A. Carpenter, Perryville; four grandchildren, Mrs. Jean Kelly, Covington; Miss Edith Guthrie, Cold Spring; Mrs. J. E. Boone, Louisville, and Pvt. Floyd B. Guthrie, Camp atterbury, Ind.; one great grandson, Danner Boone, Louisville.

Mr. Guthrie was the son of the late Richard Hope Guthrie and Sarah Stewart Guthrie, of Perryville.

Among those from a distance attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Summers, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Larrimore, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Pottinger, Miss Rebecca Pottinger, Mrs. R. W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Greenwell, Mr. M. W. Butler Pottinger's Narrow Escape
From Death on Ohio River.

SWAM FOR HIS LIFE.

THE FOLLOWING interesting article was contributed to the Courier Journal in 1874 by the late Butler Ramey Pottinger, Esq., of Gethsemane:

On the third day of August, 1874 with a well packed valise, I left home on the 12 o'clock train for Rochester, N. Y., via Louisville, to spend a few weeks with a friend, Mr. S. A. Davis, who resides in that place. After remaining all night in Louisville, I took passage on the United States mail and passenger boat Pat. Rogers, which was destroyed by fire near Aurora, Ind., on the morning of August 5. The evening previous, after supper on our way up the river, the passengers seated themselves out upon the bow of the boat to enjoy the breeze, and seemed exceedingly sociable and lively, little expecting the sad fate that awaited them at night. I retired to my room about eleven o'clock; pulling off coat, boots and tie, examining a couple of life preservers which I hung on a peg near the door, retired to bed; being in bed about an hour, a strange man knocked at my door and observed he was ordered to sleep in there also, and occupied the upper bed. I noticed as he came in he had sandy side-whiskers. I never saw him after he left the room. In consequence of this interruption, the noise of the boat, etc., I did not get to sleep until very late at night, and the first intimation I had of the fire was this stranger leaping out of bed, and without stopping for hat, coat or boots made for the fore-castle of the boat. I was somewhat startled at his rapid movements, thinking perhaps we had landed at Cincinnati; but on looking out I could see the smoke and blaze, and hear the crackling of the burning boat.

I immediately gathered up my coat, hat and the two life-preservers and made for the deck of the boat, where I found several persons, some leaping overboard.

The heat became so great I put on my coat, fearing my shirt would take fire from sparks flying full around us. I was not then much excited. Throwing one of my life preservers down, I went to the baggage room to get my valise. I found an old negro man seated in there very composedly, who pointed up to the shelf where it was. I laid down the life preserver which I had at my feet and mounted a stool to get my valise. On looking around for it, I discovered that some one had taken it. I made my way towards the fore-castle of the boat again, and with astonishment viewed the rapid movement of the advancing blaze as it leaped high in the air, casting its brilliant light upon the rapid stream below, and which in a few moments more would be the winding sheet of that ill-fated boat and all who remained upon it. So I threw my valise far out into the stream, beyond ~~several poor souls who were grasping, struggling, clinging to each other, rolling in the water;~~ pulling my hat tight upon my head, and leaping as far out into the stream on the Kentucky side as possible, I struck the water. Instantly a very large man arose to the surface, grasped me in the collar-band of my shirt, pulling me under the water. Luckily I had left my neck-tie in my room, and his hold was easily torn loose by my shirt giving way. I pushed away from him, arose to the surface of the water somewhat strangled, and no one can imagine the excitement that seized upon me at the moment. I made for the middle of the stream. The rapid current carried me near the burning wreck. I would have dived under the water to avoid the excessive heat, but was afraid of coming in contact with another poor drowning soul. I threw water on the back of my head with one hand whilst I swam with the other, thus passing the blaze of the burning wreck. I found no difficulty in swimming down the rapid stream. Coming up with my valise floating upon the surface of the water, I seized it with one hand. Soon after my hat came floating to me, which I lost in the struggle with the drowning man.

Having faith in my ability to swim, and being stimulated by the dangerous situation in which I was placed, I now faced for the Indiana shore, but in making too great an effort to swim abruptly across the current the water would pass too much over me. I continued with my valise until it became saturated with water and had a great tendency to sink. I then abandoned it. In my passage down the stream I saw two women sitting face to face on a mattress, with sorrow and sadness pictured in their countenances. Not a word was uttered. Also I saw a small child apparently dead on something like a door. When coming near the Indiana shore I caught hold of the handle of a chicken coop by the request of the two men upon it. It sank nearly to the water's edge. After floating some distance my foot touched the sand. I then stood alone in the water. Excitement, despondency, despair, gave way to hope.

My heart leaped with joy as I neared the shore. With clothes streaming with water I climbed the slippery bank.

When properly upon its summit my first impressions were to thank the Lord for having saved my life.

The sun had just arisen, casting its morning light upon the rippling tide as it passed. Looking far down the stream I could see several persons struggling in the water for life. What a contrast! A few moments ago and I was moving up this beautiful stream on one of the finest steamers, surrounded by all the comforts and luxuries of life, and now being cast upon this strange shore, far away from friends so dear, with not even a boot or shoe to protect my feet from the rugged ground; with clothes all dripping with water and chilled with the cool morning air. I started off with chattering teeth and chilly frame, I knew not where, but up the river. Passing two sloughs which I waded through and passing a small stream on a bridge, I soon got in company with several of my fellow passengers whom I very readily recognized, and who, on entering the town of Aurora, created quite an excitement among the citizens of that place. I registered at the Indiana House and found Mr. Giergoldt, the proprietor, a very clever and accommodating gentleman. He assisted me in drying my money, watch and ticket. I never will forget the kindness of Mr. Harryman, a dentist who boards there. After getting an outfit I took the train for Rochester, spent two weeks with my friend near there in visiting the lakes, fish ponds and the trotting races at Rochester and Niagara Falls. I returned to my Kentucky home and found my valise and clothing which had been found in the water near the Indiana shore by Mr. Jimmy Dittman who was searching for his father's remains, carried to the wreck, and there handed to my brother, Thomas Pottinger, and B. H. Miller, who visited the scene of the disaster a few days afterward.

GETHSEMANE

June 6, 1911.

Mr. Thos. J. Pottinger after long years of usefulness answered the summons of the angels on May 30. He was fifty nine years of age and united with the Baptist church at the age of eighteen years and has since that time and up to the time of his death had lived an upright christian life. He was one of the best known and generally beloved men in this section of the country. He is survived by a wife who before marriage was a Miss Willett, and one brother and three sisters. Interment took place in the old Pottinger burying ground witnessed by many sorrowing friends and relatives.

Letter Written By Nelson
County Man Over a Half Century Ago.

THE following letter was written by Mr. Hardin Pottinger to one of his brothers in Nelson county sixty five years ago. Mr. Pottinger had just located in Missouri and gives an account of some of the hardships he endured in reaching his new home. The letter will no doubt prove interesting to our many readers. Mr. Pottinger's letter is as follows:

Lexington, Mo., Nov. 29, 1842.

DEAR BROTHER:
As this is the first opportunity I have met with, I take this writing to you to inform you of our good and happy journey to this pleasant little town. We arrived here several days after our departure from New Haven, which appeared to me like twenty-nine weeks, for the road is so very long, and I became so used to travelling that the place we stopped at night always appeared like the place we started from that morning, and the road before us did not get any shorter. We have passed some of the prettiest and best land that was ever beheld by any man's eye, but the timber is not half as easy come at, as about your place, timber is the only difficulty in this country, but is borne with. There is plenty of everything to live on, and plenty of good old neighbors. We buy corn at ten cents per bushel out of the crib and everything else in proportion.

Winter has set in now we have had one snow eight inches deep and it is snowing now as fast as it can. We had four or five days as we were coming some degrees colder than cold Saturday or Friday. Jim got one ear and one foot frost-bitten and I thought in my soul I should die. We are all well and doing well in Lexington. William has gone to Jackson county and we expect, if he rents a place, to remove there and spend the winter.

We all send our respects to all of our relatives and hope they are enjoying the same health that we are. I must especially send my compliments to all of my friends and relatives and very particularly to the female kind. When you go about Bardstown you must spread my compliments all over that and the county and tell Mariah Ann to write to me immediately for she may expect a letter from me when we get more settled, for this is an odd chance that I met with this opportunity of writing. Tell George that I will write to him in the spring, when I can take a better view of the country and tell John to stay where he is until spring then he may do well by coming out here.

You must write to me immediately after receiving this letter for I want to hear from you all very badly for I expect you have joined the sacred bans of matrimony with some fair belle of Kentucky. You must be sure and write immediately and with these few remarks, I remain your most affectionate brother,

HARDIN L. POTTINGER.

LEE POTTINGER IS FATALLY SHOT

Marshall Mobley, Insane, Is Seized With Craze To Fight And Slay

Lee pottinger, age 73 years, was shot and fatally wounded by Marshall Mobley in front of Shane's restaurant in Boston Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock. July 17, 1935

Mr. Pottinger had just returned from Bardstown, when Mobley approached him, saying, "You shot my dog", and opened fire striking Pottinger twice breaking his leg.

Before shooting Pottinger Mobley had struck Watkins Munford, 30, and tried to shoot Will Harned, 20.

Deputy Sheriffs Joe Claybrooke and R. W. Haviland, and Mike Fowler, Bardstown, and Newman Pottinger, sought to arrest Mobley, when he fired upon them and the officers returned the fire. A posse of twenty men were assembled and armed with shotguns went in search of Mobley, who had gone to Louisville to surrender to a Federal officer. Arriving in Louisville Mobley surrendered at the Federal Building to U. S. Marshal L. E. Cranor, who detained him for Sheriff W. D. Wootton, Bardstown. Mobley said the county officers had no power over him. He was brought to Bardstown and is now in jail awaiting trial. Mobley is believed to be insane.

Pottinger died from his wounds Wednesday at the Kentucky Baptist Hospital, Louisville. July 17, 1935

His survivors are his widow, Mrs. Stella Pottinger; five children by first marriage, Newman and Virgil, Misses Lottie, Louree and Nancy Pottinger; and six children by second marriage, Rita, Ethel, Samuel, Ann, and two small children.

Funeral services will be held at Boston in the Presbyterian Church Friday 10 A. M., conducted by Rev. Willie Newman, with burial in Boston cemetery. Ky. Standard July 19, 1935

Robert Pottinger Dies.

Robert Pottinger, 76 years old died of diabetes September 26 at 9:00 o'clock a. m. at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mollie Pottinger at Gethsemane. Funeral services were held at the New Haven M. E. Church at 10 o'clock Sunday morning with burial in the Riverview cemetery near the church. Pallbearers were Joseph Ayres, Ramie Pottinger, Curtis Pottinger, Hardin Miller, Burton Pottinger and David Boone.

Mr. Pottinger was one of the best known of the county's citizens. He was for several years a traveling correspondent for The Kentucky Standard. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Pottinger, Gethsemane, and Mrs. Betty Rosenham; two brothers, Dr. S. L. Pottinger, Louisville, and Lee Pottinger, Boston; a daughter, Mrs. W. C. Nedrow, Friendsville, Md.; an da son, Ben Hardin, Pottinger, Shively, Ky.

Former Nelson Man Is Heat Victim

Dr. Samuel Pottinger, age 68, was found dead in bed at his home in Louisville Wednesday morning. Death was pronounced due to the heat.

Dr. Pottinger was well known in Nelson County where he formerly lived. His old home is near New Haven.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Bettie Rosenham, Louisville, and several nieces and nephews in this county. Funeral services will be held from the chapel of the John Maas & Bro. funeral home in Louisville Friday morning at 10:30. Interment will take place in Riverview Cemetery, New Haven.

Ben H. Pottinger, 57, Buried at New Haven

Ben H. Pottinger, age 57, died at St. Anthony's Hospital, Louisville, at 11:45 o'clock Thursday morning. He had lived in Louisville for several years but was a native of Nelson County.

Mr. Pottinger leaves one sister, Mrs. W. C. Nedrow, of Friendsville, Md.; and several relatives in this county.

His remains were taken to the Miller & Mather funeral home in Louisville where they lay until Saturday afternoon. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the New Haven Methodist Church with interment in the Riverview Cemetery at New Haven.

Dear Sir,

I rec'd your letter dated Aug 30th 1907. Just before I moved from Owensboro, Ky.
and as I've been on the go ever since, I lost trace of the name
until yesterday, being alone
I concluded to live with my people for awhile by reading genealogy, and when I found my book "St-Marks

out dropped your letter, that had never been answered, I will now try to answer. I am

James Lewis, married Miss Sallie Halle.
Henry Lewis married Miss Linda ^{Linthicum} Claggett
Nancy Lewis married Mr Johnson.
Fielding Lewis married Miss Johnson.
Simeon Lewis, died a rich old bachelor.

Henry Lewis and wife Linda Linthicum had Sarah Eliza Lewis, who married
Maj Harrison Jewell, and Sarah, and Maj
H. Jewell, were my ^{marriage} ^{Greenup} parents. Sarah, had a sister Bethie, who married ^{Greenup} Pottinger, they moved to Mo. Now I would be glad to hear of you. Thomas Lewis, I am wanting a copy of his will, from that I can place you no doubt. I believe I know where he belongs, I think he was a son of John Lewis, who had

John
Thomas,

William and
Samuel, all in the Revolutionary war, and Thomas Lewis, is buried in the street, at Bardstown Ky. was buried on his home place
the town has been built out, and streets opened which embraced his grave. My I have is buried on his home place about four or five miles out from Bardstown.

Mr Pottinger, dear
Friend and Kinsman!

Just read your letter, and will tell you, that the brother of your Thomas, whose brother
"The General" referred to, was General
Andrew Lewis, of Revolutionary fame, and Thomas and Andrew, were sons of old Irish John Lewis, who fought through the revolutionary war, his sons were Thomas, Andrew, William and Charles, so you are in the Irish Lewis family. My Thomas is in the Welsh Lewis family, but are all related, way back in the beginning of the Lewis

This is all wrong

In speaking of your (our)
 Cousin, you call her Bettie, when I saw her last she was just old enough to stand alone but could not walk. we were all at my mother's father's home near Bardston, and Aunt Bettie called her baby Emma Linwood Pottinger and my mother has always called her Emma, so Uncle Jack must have changed her name, after Aunt Bettie died. Emma married a Cousin to my brother in law
 Mr. E. Rice of Greenville, Va.
 I did not know my g. g. mother had a sister Mary. I have a genealogy of the first Rice emigrant to
 Va. but not of all the generations since then. They were a part of arms. The family were Presbyterians, religiously.

About Miss

Martha Lewis Simpson could

you tell me the name of her father Lewis? My mother's sister Martha Ann Lewis at Bardston who married Henry Coleman of Harrodsburg Mercer Co. and she had a daughter Ella Coleman who married a Simpson. I never knew a Lewis named Martha (Lewis) Simpson. Nathaniel ^{Lewis} Rice the Presbyterian Minister must have been a brother of Ann, and Mary they were all Presbyterians. Rev.
 David Rice wrote a book and you must have seen a copy of that. I have just one paragraph from the book in my St. Marks notes on Culpeper
 Co Va. David Rice says, That Donald Rice was an Englishman by birth, of Welsh extraction. He was an early adventurer into Va.
 where he spent the first part of his life is not known. In the latter part of his life, he owned a small plantation in the lower part of what is now (1824) called Hanover Co. Va. Here he left his wife, with nine sons (we had as many)

and three daughters

(just my number of girls) and went to England, to receive a considerable estate which had been left him, but returned no more.
The sailors reported that he had died at sea. It is supposed by the family that he was assassinated.
No return was ever made of the property after which he had gone and his family were left destitute in a strange land. Now if you want to read "St. Marks Parish" by Dr. Slaughter, if you will visit, most any Episcopal minister you will be apt to find one, because I have kept a copy, generally in their library for reference.

About the Miss Jewell who dropped in to see one of your neighbors, I am not sure but expect, it was Miss Sarah Lavinia

Miss Jewell called there for we have been looking for

Dear Cousin:

I was indeed glad to receive your letter of January 14th and after comparing its contents with my record of our family I find that we are closely related, probably second cousins. You are descended from my Uncle Meriman Greenup Pottinger and I have been trying for several years to get in touch with some of his descendants. I wrote to the Clerk of the Court at Charleston, Mo., but was unable to learn anything from him. What I know of Uncle Greenup was procured mostly from my father, Thomas Jefferson Pottenger of Nelson Co., Ky., where both were born and reared at "Walnut Hill" (built in 1788) the home of their father, Samuel Pottinger, Jr., (1785-1832) and his father, Captain Samuel Pottinger (1754-1831). I, too, was born and brought up there. Such information was supplemented in more detail by Uncle Greenup's daughter Emma Pottinger who married Andrew Jefferson Martin. I knew both of them personally, and I can only figure her as the Emma Pottinger mentioned in your letter as the sister of your father Samuel Henry Pottinger.

I have been working on the Pottinger history for years and have almost complete information concerning the various members, especially from John the Immigrant of 1665 to the settlement of the Pottinger's Creek country and the different families that lived there. Grandfather Samuel Pottinger, Jr., and his wife, Lucinda Jameson, had 12 children, most of whom I remember well. After grandfather's death Uncle Greenup, one of the 12, got land from his estate just across the road from Walnut Hill, but got the "western fever" and moved to the neighborhood of Charleston, Mo., but Cousin Emma and her husband used to visit the kin back in Kentucky. They later moved to Texas where I corresponded with her. My brother finally came into ownership of Uncle Greenup's old place and lived on it for quite a while after his marriage. The old house is still standing. My brother sold the farm and located on other land given him by my father, adjoining Walnut Hill. Uncle Greenup moved to Mo. before I could remember, but Cousin Emma told me that he married (1st) on Sept. 25, 1849, Elizabeth Lewis, dau. of Henry and Linda Claggett (Linthicum) Lewis of Nelson Co., Ky., and that his second wife was Elizabeth Hayes of Charleston, Mo. The first wife was brought back and buried at Old Mill Creek Church (Baptist) near Botland, Nelson Co., Ky., where her folks lived, and I have seen her grave there. Uncle Greenup by his first wife (Betty Lewis who came of the distinguished Lewises of Va.) had:

1. Emma Linwood Pottinger, who mar. A. J. Martin, as stated above.
2. SAMUEL HENRY POTTINGER, who mar. Frances Barry. (Weren't these your parents?)
3. James Franklin Pottinger; b. Feb. 24, 1854; d. Aug. 19, 1854.

By the second marriage (to Betty Hayes of Mo.) Uncle Greenup had:

1. Mattie Belle Pottinger, who mar. a Mr. Apperson and had Beulah, Beverly and another son whose name I do not know.
2. Stonewall Jackson Pottinger. Nothing further known.
3. Raphael Semmes Pottinger, Nothing further known.
4. An infant not named.

Now this is what Cousin Emma Martin wrote me about SAMUEL HENRY POTTINGER named above: "He was born May 27, 1852; died August 16, 1887; married Mary Frances Barry. He was called Henry, and his widow was living in Charleston, Mo., in 1901. They had three children: Egbert, Jessie, Mary, WILLIAM HENRY (Is this you?), Hardy and Amy Josephine." The first three were dead at that time (1901).

Do wish you would go over the above and write me at length concerning what you know of the above relatives. I am quite anxious to get the record straight. My wife and I are here for the winter. I live in Washington, D.C. where I was for many years head of a department of legal work in the Treasury Department. Would be glad to give you more facts concerning the family, if you are interested. I am now on Chapter of our history. Very kind regards to yourself and family. Sincerely,

Mr. W. H. Pottenger
Mobile, Ala.

Dear Cousin:

Your letter of the 14th reached me today and I am indeed glad to hear from you. You are descended from my Uncle Maraman Greenup Pottenger and I have been trying for years to get in touch with some of his line. I wrote to the Clerk of the Court at Charleston, Mo., but was unable to get a reply. What I know of Uncle Greenup was procured mostly from my father and his brothers and sisters, ^{and his daughter Emma} all of whom were born and reared in Nelson Co., Ky. I, too, was born and brought up there in the old brick house, "Walnut Hill," that my great-grandfather built in 1788.

My great-grandfather, just referred to, was Captain Samuel Pottenger (use "o" in the second syllable, which was the spelling used until about 1840) who was born Apr. 1754 at "Parrott's Manor," the home of his parents Robert and Elizabeth (Willet) Pottenger in Prince Georges County, Maryland. Captain Samuel Pottenger (who emigrated to "Nelson Co., Ky." with all of his ten brothers and sisters) married in his Fort (built in 1781) a widow named Jane Gilkey. She had been married twice before - 1st to a Withrow; 2nd to a Gilkey. Her maiden name was Jane Gray.

Captain Samuel Pottenger was married the second time but you and I are descended from his marriage, ^(in 1782) to Jane Gray Withrow Gilkey, by whom he had -

1. Elizabeth Pottenger (born in the Fort in 1783); married James Phillips.
2. John Pottenger, an old bachelor
3. Samuel Pottenger Junior, who was born in 1785 and became the owner of "Walnut Hill" and died there. He married a

You will note that Maraman Greenup Pottenger married Elizabeth Withrow, one goes east to the daughter of James of 201. She was a descendant of Capt Fisher Rice of the American Revolution and so am I. You and I are related through two lines.

2 neighbor girl - a very pretty one from her picture - named Lucinda Jameson daughter of John Jameson and his wife Mollie Rice, both born in Virginia but emigrants with their parents to Kentucky. Most of the land acquired by Capt. Samuel Pottenger, 400 acres by right of settlement under the Va. law and 1000 acres by prescription, together with some 2800 acres of vacant land, was inherited and bought by the son, Samuel Pottenger, Junior. Both he and his pioneer father were successful flatboatmen on the lower rivers to New Orleans in early days and amassed much wealth in lands, negroes and grist mills, so that Samuel Pottenger, Junior, was accounted one of the richest, ~~and~~ most useful and influential men in Nelson Co., Ky.

Samuel Pottenger Jr and his wife Lucinda (Jameson) had the following children:

1. John Goodlet Pottenger (1812-1867). Married Louisa Hagan
2. Geo. Washington Pottenger (1814-1885) " Addie Talbott
3. Wm. Russell Pottenger (1815-1887) " Barbara Jameson (his cousin)
4. James Allen Pottenger (1817-1835) " Jane Weathers
5. Emeline Pottenger (1818-1901) " Carroll C. Blincoe
6. Robert Caldwell Pottenger (1820-1846) (unmarried)
7. Thos. Jefferson Pottenger (1820-1900) " Vienna Ramey
8. Mary Jane Pottenger (1822 - an infant)
9. Hardin Logan Pottenger (1824-1898) Married Rebecca Stiles
10. Maraman Greenup Pottenger (1826-1871) { Married 1st Elizabeth Lewis of Nelson Co., Ky
" 2nd Elizabeth Hayes of Mo.
(You are from him)
11. Maria Jane Pottenger (1830) Married Joseph Brown
12. Mary Ann Pottenger (1832) Married { 1st Magruder
2nd Talbott
3rd William Brown

Samuel Pottenger, Jr. (1785-1831 - son of Capt. Samuel Pottenger) who was my grandfather and the father of the foregoing 12 children, laid off and founded the town of New Haven in Nelson Co., Ky. in 1819 and most of the above-named children (including your ancestor Maraman Greenup Pottenger) were born in that place.

④ By the second marriage (to Elizabeth Hayes) he had —

1. Mattie Belle Pottinger who married a Mr. Apperson and had Baulah, Beverly and another son - name unknown to me.
2. Stonewall Jackson Pottinger. Nothing further known of him
3. Raphael Demmes Pottinger. " " " " "
4. An infant not named.

This is what Cousin Emma Martin had to say about Samuel Henry Pottinger named above: "He was born May 27, 1852; died August 16, 1887; married Mary Frances Barry. He was called Henry and his widow was living in Charleston, Mo., in 1901. They had these children: Egbert, Jessie, Mary, William Henry, Hardy and Amy Josephine. The first three were dead at that time (1901)."

I am trying to reconcile her statement with the facts in your letter wherein you state that your grandfather was "Samuel Henry Pottinger, a native of Ky., who settled in Southeast Mo., near Charleston" and that "he had one son, Samuel Henry Pottinger Jr and one daughter, Emma Pottinger." I would be glad, in order to get my record straight, if you would go over the above data and let me know whether in fact the father of Samuel Henry Pottinger bore the same name, or whether it was not Maraman Greenup Pottinger, my "Uncle Nuck." I gather from your letter you were born about 1879 or 1880 which would readily fit in as the son of the above Samuel Henry Pottinger (1852-1887) who was the son and second child of Maraman Greenup Pottinger.

I would be happy to have you tell me more concerning your line and later when I get home and have access to my papers will send you a family history blank for complete details. I am here on my wife and I, for the winter. I was born in Nelson Co., Ky., but since 1900 have been at the head of legal work in the U. S. Treasury at Washington, D. C. I can later on perhaps straighten you out on the Pottingers named in your letter from Nashville, Savannah, etc. The Savannah man was born in England and was in the publishing business there. We would have to go back to the old home in Berkshire, England, to connect with him. The date in Berkshire came from France in A. D. 1066, and the old form of the name in French was Le Potager. The spelling in early Md. and Ky. was Pottinger until about 1825-1840 when my father and uncles and aunts for some reason unknown to me changed to Pottinger. Thanks for your letter. Please write me further and I will give you whatever data I have that you might be interested in. With kind regards, Sincerely Your Cousin
Samuel F. Pottinger

③ The children all called your ancestor, Maraman Greenup Pottenger, "uncle Nuck." But we got this wrong ~~and~~ sometimes, ^{and} mis-called it "Uncle Nuck." Hereafter I will refer to him simply as Uncle Nuck, to make myself clear.

In the division of the lands of Samuel Pottenger, Jr., ~~that~~ ^{his} ~~son~~, Uncle Nuck and my father Thomas Jefferson Pottenger, got farms adjoining each other. Uncle Nuck got the Western fever and sold out and moved to Missouri. He was the only one of his father's sons who went into the Civil War. He was captured by the Yankees and taken to Camp Chase where the long confinement and poor food undermined his health. He died in Missouri in 1871 (in the County of which Charleston was then - and perhaps still is - the seat of justice) and his estate was administered upon by his son-in-law Andrew Jefferson Martin (who married his daughter Emma Linwood Pottenger). Uncle Nuck's Ky. farm was acquired by my father (Thomas Jefferson Pottenger) and later passed to my oldest brother, Butler Remey Pottenger.

Now I personally knew Andrew Jefferson Martin and his wife Emma Linwood Pottenger who, of course, was my first cousin. They used to visit at my father's place - that is old "Walnut Hill," after my father came into possession of it. For years (in fact ever since my boyhood) I have been gathering and recording data on the Pottenger family, and I queried Cousin Emma Martin in regard to her ~~father's~~ father's marriage and children and her version is that her father Maraman Greenup Pottenger married (1st) on Sept. 25, 1849, Elizabeth Lewis daughter of Henry and Linda Blaggett (Linthicum) Lewis of Nelson Co., Ky., and that his second wife was Elizabeth Hayes of Charleston, Mo.

By his first marriage (to Elizabeth Lewis) he had:

1. Emma Linwood Pottenger, married A. J. Martin (as stated above)
2. Samuel Henry Pottenger who married Mary Frances Barry
3. James Franklin Pottenger; born Feb. 24, 1854; died Aug. 19, 1884

Mr. S. F. Pottinger,
Lake Worth, Fla.

Your letter of Jan 6, came, and we were glad to hear from ^{you} since I have traveled extensively in my 60 year and have found but few Pottingers. I have no record of my crowd of Pottingers beyond my grandfather.

He was Samuel Henry Pottinger, a native of Kentucky, but in his early days - about 1825 - settled in Southeast Mo. near Charleston, Mo., where he practiced medicine and bought up a lot of good timber and delta land along the Mississippi river.

He had one son, - Samuel Henry Pottinger Jr., and one daughter, - Emma Pottinger. Samuel Henry Jr. was my father and there are now three of us, his children alive. W.H. Pottinger is yours truly, then I have a brother, Hardy B. Pottinger, and a sister, - Mrs E. C. Blomeyer of Chicago. I have no children. H.B. has two boys, - James and Hardy. Pottinger. All of our Pottinger crowd are dead except H.B. our sister and me. H.B.'s boys, of course, are alive, one in high school, the other in college.

My father died when I was very young - 1889 - and while I often heard him remark about Kentucky relatives, yet I never knew any of them.

I ~~met~~^{visited} in Asheville, N.C. I once met a William H. Pottinger, the name same as mine, a civil engineer, but we were unable to relate ourselves. His father, however, originated in Ky.

At Nashville, Tenn., in the L & N depot is a small steam engine, used during the Civil war. The Yankees captured it, but it was later retaken by the rebels.

A bronze plate attached to the side of the engine's cab names the rebels who recaptured it. Among those names is one W.H. Pottinger. I was never able to trace that fellow, tho he had my name.

At Evansville, Ind., and Savannah, Ga., I met Pottinger families, but could not trace relationship.

To sum the whole thing up as I see it, the forefathers came here from England, settled in Maryland and down the coast to Va., then as generations passed, migrated to Indiana and Ky., and finally split up in squads until they lost track of one another.

Shall be glad to hear from you again someday.

Sincerely yours
W.H. Pottinger

Mr. S. F. Pottinger,

Dear Cousin, - Truly, you are correct!

Your letter contained more information concerning the Pottinger relatives than I had ever before known.

As previously stated, I was very young at the time of my father's death, at which time we lived at Farmington, Mo. Aunt Emma Martin, your cousin, then lived in Texas where she died.

After the death of my father, who then owned a farm in St. Francis Co., near Farmington, Mo. my mother was left with a crop, stock and much to be cared for, so she naturally turned to her two brothers, Bob and James Barry who were farmers in Mississippi county near Charleston, Mo. but at Birds Point, Mo. where the Ohio and Mississippi rivers run together.

All of this explanation to show you that no further connection, association or information came into my young mind concerning Pottinger relatives, since Bob and James Barry were in reality the only fathers Hardy, Anna and I ever knew.

As time passed I connected up such names as Samuel Pottinger, Thomas

Pottinger & Co.

Your explanation is clear. I have the Samuel and Thomas, and Greenup all out of line.

Now we can get started. Greenup Pottinger was my Grandfather. Samuel Henry Pottinger was my father, and Emma Lindwood Pottinger was my Aunt. So my Grandfather was your uncle, my father your cousin, and you are my second cousin.

The information given you by Aunt Emma Martin is correct. The children of Samuel Henry Pottinger's name follows: ① Robert, died in youth.

② Jessie Pottinger, who married William Langston. Both now dead. They had two children:

Charles Langston, 15380 Snowden, Detroit, Mich, and Mary Langston, Chaswick, Pa.

③ William Henry Pottinger, (that's all) & have never had any children.

④ Hardy Barry Pottinger, Charleston, Mo. He has two fine sons:

Hardy Pottinger Jr and James Pottinger.

⑤ Mary Pottinger who died at about 7 or 8 years of age.

⑥ Anna Josephine Pottinger, who married Edward Blomeyer, address.

1242 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Ill.

^{Anna} Anna has three fine children, all college graduates. Her children are:

Edward Blomeyer,

Mary Linwood Blomeyer. (married.)

Earl Blomeyer.

(Note the Linwood to Mary's name. The Mary came from Mary Francis Barry, my mother, and the Linwood from Aunt Emma Martin.)

I do now know that my Grandfather was twice married. His second widow, my step-grandmother, then married a Mr. Fry. As a boy I knew both of them. They also had several children the names I have forgotten, but when I became a young man and before the statute of limitation had run against the heirs of Henry Pottinger's land in Mississippi Co., the land he had inherited from his father, the Fry heir would always hold up.

Yes, the Samuel Henry Pottinger, Emma Linwood Pottinger Martin, wrote you. But is correct. He married Mary Francis Barry, and Egbert, Jessil, William, Harry, ~~and~~ Mary and Anna are the sons and daughters.

I do now recall the name of Mattie Bell Pottinger, but I never knew her or any of the Apperson family.

As to our relatives further back than you have stated, I know nothing and know less until I get your second letter.

My sister, Anna Josephine, (Mrs E. C. Blomeyer, 1242 Lasee Shore Drive, Chicago, Ill.) could, and gladly would, I am sure, give you complete data as to births and deaths of our family. She and her husband often go to Washington, D.C.

My brother, Hardy B. Pottinger has lived in Charleston, Mo. all his life, and is a politician from the old stock.

I have been a wanderer most all my life. I did stop long enough in Jackson, Miss. to take the state bar examination in 1915 and became an attorney at law, and am today a member of the Mississippi bar, but because of my love for open air, and the freedom to go, I am in the tapestry business as a salesman.

I shall be glad to know more facts concerning our family.

Sincerely yours,

W. H. Pottinger,

356 State St.,

P.S. My mother died in 1928.

Rites for J. Thomas Ford, G. P. O. Official, Tomorrow

J. Thomas Ford, 46, deputy disbursing clerk with the Government Printing Office, died at Walter Reed Hospital Sunday.

A native of Louisville, Ky., Mr. Ford came here about 40 years ago. He entered the Government Printing Office in 1911 and since that time has served as assistant chief clerk, assistant superintendent of accounts and clerk in charge of Treasury accounts before becoming deputy disbursing clerk.

He interrupted his career with the G. P. O. and also his studies at Georgetown University Law School to enlist with the Army during the World War. He was chief clerk of the supply office, Ordnance Training Camp, Augusta, Ga., and after the war, chief clerk, North Atlantic District, United States Shipping Board, for about a year.

He was a member of the Washington Centennial Lodge No. 14, F. A. A. M., of Washington, and at the time of his death was secretary of the Washington Club of Printing House Craftsmen. He lived at 328 Eleventh street N.E.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. James T. Ford; a son, J. Thomas Ford, jr.; a sister, Mrs. Merle Van Metre, and a brother, Samuel S. Ford.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Fort Myer Chapel. The Rev. James H. Taylor of the Central Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Arlington National Cemetery.

It is a Fact That persons who will not take the trouble to send a record of their family are often blamed by their children or grandchildren for not having done their duty. Daniel Webster, in his speech December 22, 1845, said: "It is wise for us to recur to the history of our ancestors. Those who are regardless of their ancestors do not perform their duty to the world." Thucydides, the Athenian philosopher, who lived 400 years before Christ, expressed the sentiment in stronger terms, viz: "Both justice and decency require that we should bestow on our forefathers an honorable remembrance." Books are more enduring than stone monuments.

BROWN FAMILY

JOHNSON BROWN, born in Va. in 1762 or 1763. Family removed to Kentucky--Taylorsville and Bloomfield.

Dear Mr. Robey:

I shall appreciate it if you will refer to your marriage records and give me the correct date of the marriage of Edw. N. Talbot to Mary A. Magruder. The note transcribed by me when in your office some months ago gives the date as January 25, 1827. It is possible that I made an error in copying the entry. This lady, Mrs. Magruder, was an aunt of mine and I find from the date of her birth as given in the family Bible that the year 1827 probably is incorrect. Will you be so kind as to verify the date from the bond executed and let me know.

With kind regards, I am,

Very truly yours,

S. F. Pottinger
