

Speed Family Collection, ca.1915-ca.1955

(007PC28)

.001-.4929 / 75 boxes / 8.39 cubic feet

In the summer of 2007 Dr. John Speed donated an extensive collection of family papers and photographs to The Filson Historical Society. The collection contains ten cubic feet of documents and over eight cubic feet of photographs and negatives. The photograph collection is mainly comprised of prints and negatives produced by naturalist and journalist James Speed (1867 - 1945), photographs and negatives documenting the World War I military service of John Speed (1893 - 1968), and photographs documenting John's son James' (1930 - 2006) military service in the Korean War. The collection also contains images relating to John Speed's college years at Perdue University, travel photographs from Europe, Mexico and the United States, post cards and domestic scenes. A variety of processes and materials are represented in the Speed Photograph Collection, including hand-colored glass plate negatives, 4x5" and 2 1/4" square black and white film, and 35mm roll film.

Only a selection of photographs has been scanned, for reference. For a complete list of the collection, please see below. (Note: many negatives are in poor condition and scans cannot be made from them)
