Scope and Content

This collection consists primarily of estate records from Clark County, Ind., from 1812 – 1837. These records, totaling over 90 individual estates, include inventories of real and personal property of deceased persons, bills of sale of personal property and supporting financial documents such as promissory notes and receipts. In addition, there are a small number of depositions and court proceedings relating to settlement of disputed estates. Miscellaneous items include bond forms for the office of constable and common pleas court claims for Washington County, Ind., for 1865-1871.
