Scope and Content Note

Collection consists of over 700 envelope covers with illustrations and poetry concerning pro-Union, anti-secessionist topics. Emphasis on patriotic themes of preserving the Union and punishing Confederate officials and generals who are depicted as objects of ridicule. Union officials and generals are held in high esteem and portrayed as heroes. The covers were printed in 1861 and many of them portend an early end to the rebellion. Additional items include an 1865 draft notice, two Confederate bonds and several newspaper illustrations concerning Lincoln's assassination and funeral, apprehension of the conspirators and the 1889 Johnstown flood.
